RYAN MASTER AT BALTIMORE, BRYAN CLAIMS

Nothing Will Be Done There Without Tammany's O. K.

CLARK MEN RECREANT

LIBERALS FOR COMMONER

BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.
[Copyright: 1912: By Virgil V. McNitt.]

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—When the subcommittee acted on the temporary chairmanship, we were all anxious to know how the full committee would stand on the question, and when the full committee presented Mr. Parker we awaited the action of the convention.

Our curiosity is now satisfied.

We know what kind of a convention we have and henceforth we can watch its developments with the assurance that nothing will be done that has not the O. K. of Tammany's boss, and that he will not give his approval to anything until it has been submitted to Thomas Fortune Ryan for his consent.

Unless these delegates hear from home and are frightened out of the plans which they have in mind the platform will be disappointing and its nominee will be a reactionary or a conservative who is satisfactory to the reactionaries.

No Mistake About Vote.

There could be no mistake about the vote this afternoon. While the majority for Mr. Parker was not as large as the polls brought in to me in the forenoon indicated it would be, it was large enough for all practical purposes—the vote for Mr. Parker was 579 to 510 for me.

It is safe to say that I did not have the vote of a single reactionary, and, unless I have some better evidence than has been expressed, I shall not believe that I lost the vote of a single progressive.

Of course there were progressives whose votes were cast for Mr. Parker under the unit rule, and these should not be classed with the reactionaries, but I do not know of any ground upon which a progressive could have voted against me, unless it were a personal ground, and it would be an unfair reflection upon the patriotism of any man to say that he would allow hostility to an individual to influence his vote on a question where a principle was involved.

Interests of Candidates.

Possibly account should be taken of another influence, viz.: the interest or the supposed interest of candidates. Mr. Underwood asked the Alabama delegation to vote for Parker. I do not know whether similar requests were sent to Mississippi, Georgia and Florida or not, but Mississippi and Georgia voted solidly for Parker, and he also received all but one of Florida's vote.

Mr. Harmon's Ohio vote was cast solidly for Parker, presumably in his interest, if not at his request. Twelve of the fourteen votes of Connecticut went to Parker, and it is fair to assume that this was agreeable to Gov. Baldwin. North Dakota's ten votes were cast for me, with the approval of Gov. Burke, who announced in advance his opposition to Parker.

Got All Wilson Delegates.

Gov. Wilson came out strong against Parker and so far as I know I received all the votes of the Wilson delegates. There may have been exceptions, but if so they have not been brought to my attention.

The Clark vote was divided. A number of the western states instructed for Clark cast their votes for me. Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Kansas, half of Colorado, and half of Iowa were some of the Clark delegations that voted against Parker. In the Oklahoma delegation the Wilson half voted for me and the Clark half for Parker. Missouri gave the largest share of her votes to Parker.

It was understood that Mr. Clark himself was not taking sides, but his managers worked manfully for Parker. Mr. Bell of California, one of the leaders in the Clark campaign, took the floor in favor of Mr. Parker. Senator Stone and ex-Senator Du Bois were among the most enthusiastic of the Parker supporters.

Kentucky, a Clark state, went so far as to instruct its committeemen to vote for Parker as against James, who was first put forward

BOLTS COLONEL; MAY LOSE EYE.

North Carolina Delegate Injured in Quarrel Over Vote in Chicago Convention.

Raleigh, N. C., June 25.—[Special.]—Charles D. Wildes, Roosevelt delegate, who cast a Taft vote in the Chicago convention, today received serious injury for his action when ex-Sheriff Hampton Jones, unseated delegate in the late convention, struck him with a glass of water and closed an eye. Jones charged Wildes with bad faith. Wildes applied the lie and Jones asked him to retract. Failing to receive an apology, Jones threw the glass of water. It is hoped to save the sight of Wildes' eye.

HENNING TRAPPED ON WITNESS STAND

STATES ATTORNEY EYES IT

John C. Henning took the witness stand yesterday in his suit to recover $25,000 from Clarence S. Funk in repayment for the affections of his wife he claims to have lost two years ago. The suit was filed shortly after the general manager of the International Harvester company contributed to the history of the Lorimer case the $100,000 slush fund story which lead to the expulsion of Edward Hines from the Union League club.

Mr. Henning's testimony consumed five minutes' time under the direct examination of Daniel Donahoe, the lawyer in charge of his case. Then he was turned over to Attorney Frank H. Scott for cross examination. When the hour for adjournment came Attorney Scott had not finished, but he left a limp, white, distracted figure in the witness chair where before had been a cold, debonair, confident complainant.

Forces Witness to Admissions.

Attorney Scott first asked Henning if he had lived with the wife, whose affections he lost, since October, 1911, and Henning said he had not. Then he forced the witness to admit he had lived with his wife after Oct. 5 at Mobile, Ala.

Then Mr. Scott asked Henning if he knew where his wife went after leaving Mobile, Ala., on Oct. 10. The witness said he was positive he did not know. He said he was positive he did not know where she is now. The lawyer asked Henning if he knew "Billie Harris," now stopping at the Grand Atlantic hotel in Atlantic City.

Henning gulped and twirled his fingers and blurted out an emphatic assurance that he did not know.

Then before a tittering jury and a sickly looking witness Attorney Scott drew forth a letter in masculine handwriting and read a letter to "Billie Harris" signed "Mickey." Turning suddenly, he shot a question at the witness. And Henning found himself automatically admitting he was the author of the letter, that the "Billie Harris" was his wife—in fact, that he had lied when he said he did not know the whereabouts of the woman whose love he says he lost.

Surprise for Henning.

From then on Mr. Scott's path was comparatively easy. He asked Henning if he knew Margaret Oviatt. There was an unpleasant expression of surprise on Mr. Henning's face when he admitted he did. The lawyer asked him if Miss Oviatt was traveling with his wife. Henning admitted she was—and suddenly it seemed to dawn on him that perhaps his wife's traveling companion was a detective in the employ of Scott.

It was not hard to get Henning to admit in the face of his previous contradictions that he had been living with his wife in Chicago recently under the name A. E. Mills. And a partial admission that they had lived together at the Alexandria hotel. In fact, the witness became so convinced that his questioners knew the real truth about him that he caught himself asking them to refer to their notes and refresh his memory.

At the close of the case Attorney Scott asked Judge Slusser to require a bond for the appearance of Henning in court today. The judge declined to demand a bond, but intimated that if Henning was not present his case would be thrown out.

Funk Hears Himself Described.

Mr. Funk was sitting in the courtroom all afternoon, not communicating with his lawyers. He listened eagerly to everything that was said. All the while the lawyers and detectives employed by the defense were making anxious inquiries regarding his whereabouts, and the witnesses were giving elaborately ridiculous descriptions of his appearance.

It was said that Mr. Funk would take the stand, perhaps today, and not only swear he never knew Mrs. Henning, but that he never had been at the Congress hotel with any woman, and had not placed a foot inside the Grand Pacific hotel for more than five years. These are the two places indicated

HENEY AND BRYAN IN SECRET CONFAB

Roosevelt Fighter and Charles R. Crane of Chicago Confer with the Nebraskan.

ALL PARTIES KEEP MUM.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—Francis J. Heney of California, one of Col. Theodore Roosevelt's fighting lieutenants in the Republican national convention, and Charles R. Crane of Chicago, who helped to finance the Roosevelt campaign for the Republican nomination, were in consultation tonight with William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska for three-quarters of an hour.

Heney and Crane reached Mr. Bryan's apartments by a private elevator, and were gone again before their visit became generally known.

No one could be found who would discuss the incident tonight.

Outlook Men Show Interest.

In connection with the visit it was learned that two representatives of the Outlook, one of them Carl Howland, who has been close to Col. Roosevelt since his return from Africa two years ago, were in town. Both put up at one of the headquarters hotels. They were anxious regarding the possibility of a progressive-conservative fight in the convention.

In the hope of conciliating Bryan and his progressives, whom the Democratic steam roller flattened out today, the reactionary leaders in control of the national convention agreed to give the Nebraskan an opportunity to mold the platform of the party.

Following his defeat this afternoon Mr. Bryan denounced the men who triumphed over him in the strongest kind of language. His indignation startled the coservative element, and on every side was heard the fear that Bryan might lead a revolt from the Democratic party and join the proposed new progressive party. The object is to keep him in the ranks, if possible.

Hold Out Job to Bryan.

This was the situation that became known following the appointment of the resolutions committee. Bryan is the Nebraska member of the committee, and he will be its chairman if he will accept the place.

In his speech as temporary chairman Alton B. Parker took noticeable pains to conciliate Bryan. He paid him a high compliment, as the leader of the Democracy in three campaigns and asserted Mr. Bryan could serve the party now by taking the chairmanship of the resolutions committee and shaping the declaration of principles.

The resolutions committee met immediately following the adjournment of the convention, but Bryan was not present. The committee therefore adjourned to meet tomorrow.

Mr. Bryan declined to indicate whether he would accept the proffered olive branch and take the chairmanship of the committee.

LILLIAN RUSSELL A RESCUER.

Lifts Cut of Ditch a Young Woman Who Had Been Spilled from an Auto.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 25.—[Special.]—Alexander P. Moore of Pittsburgh, who had to leave there immediately after his marriage to Lillian Russell to serve as a delegate for Roosevelt in Chicago, came here today, but had just taken a train for the Smoky city when Lillian distinguished herself.

Mrs. Moore was driving her touring car across the meadow boulevard with her daughter, Dorothy Russell, as a passenger. Ahead was a young man and a girl in a smaller auto. Something went wrong with the engine of his car. The machine skidded through a fence and down into the ditch, tossing the two occupants into water about a foot deep.

Lillian stopped her car and, reckless of finery, ran down into the water and helped the woman out of her predicament. With her big car Lillian towed the man's machine up to the boulevard. No one was hurt.

TAFT CANNOT WIN ELECTORAL VOTE

House of Representatives May Have Decision on Who Shall Be Next President.

POLL SHOWS A TIE VOTE

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—Politicians in Washington and Baltimore who are conversant with the election laws of the various states and the law governing the selection and duties of presidential electors today said that, regardless of the action of the Democratic convention, Mr. Taft cannot get a majority of the electoral vote. A poll of the house, said to have been concluded yesterday by Taft men, shows there would be a tie vote.

The situation is one which has driven the advisors of the president to the law books and court decisions, with the result that they are said to have admitted that, if Theodore Roosevelt is a third party candidate, the election of the next president will be thrown into the house of representatives.

According to men who have studied the situation the president cannot get the thirty-eight electoral vote of Pennsylvania, and there is extreme doubt if he can get the electoral votes from five other Republican states, which, altogether, will lose him 100 votes in the electoral college. These states are Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, New Jersey, and Wisconsin.

Tells Keystone State Case.

"The names of the presidential candidates are not printed on the ballots in Pennsylvania," one member of congress who has canvassed the whole matter said today. "The Republican electors who have been chosen in Pennsylvania have been instructed for Theodore Roosevelt, and they will vote for him.

"It is the intention of the Roosevelt men in that state to name the same men for election on their party ticket. That means that both the third party electors and the Republican electors will be against Mr. Taft. Many of Mr. Taft's friends admit he cannot be elected without Pennsylvania."

In Kansas, where the Roosevelt sentiment is strong, Mr. Taft may not get his name on the ballot in many counties. In that state it is within the discretion of the county clerk to place the presidential nominee's name on the ticket or leave it off. The ten electors from the Sunflower state are likely to be all Roosevelt men. There is a question whether or not, under the state law, there still is time to get third party candidates on the national ticket by petition.

Nebraskans Named for Colonel.

In Nebraska, which has eight in the electoral college, the Republican elector nominees already have been named for Roosevelt. The Taft forces may get their candidate's electors on the ticket by petition, but those of authority say the new list of Taft electors would have to be placed in the independent ticket column, for the Roosevelt electors' nominee will occupy the Republican column.

In North Dakota the five elector nominees occupy the same position. New Jersey Republicans also have nominated electors, all of whom are pledged to Roosevelt. They are considered as too securely bound to the colonel for the Taft forces to care to leave them on the ballot in the Republican column.

Wisconsin Law Hurts Taft.

The thirteen Wisconsin electors are going to be doubly hard for Mr. Taft to get because of a new law that provides for a separate ballot for the presidential tickets, say the men from that state.

Looking toward the possibility of Mr. Taft's nomination, the Republican leaders of Wisconsin had a law placed on the statute books that provides that the names of presidential nominees and presidential electors shall not be placed on the same ticket with the nominees for congress and state officers.

"The presidential elector for the first time in the history of the country has become the most commanding figure in it," said one man, summing up a discussion of the president's chances of election. "I think that it might

BOSS RULE OVER CONVENTION

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—As a result of the flattening out today of William Jennings Bryan by the steam roller of the Democratic national convention it looks tonight as if the Democratic ticket in the coming campaign would be:

For President—CHAMP CLARK of Missouri.

For Vice President—JOHN A. DIX of New York.

There may be a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip, but if there is it will not be the fault of the political and financial bosses who dominate the convention, and who feel bound to back the candidacy of the speaker of the house of representatives.

The latter performed today his part of the bargain made with them. He delivered almost two-thirds of the delegates instructed for or pledged to him to Alton B. Parker, the candidate of Murphy, Taggart, and Sullivan, of Ryan and Belmont, and of Wall street.

"PEACE" OFFER TO BRYAN.

Having established their absolute control of the convention, the Murphy outfit engaged tonight in a determined effort to secure harmony. Mr. Parker was selected to make the first formal public offering of the olive branch.

In an inoffensive speech, the one feature of the convention's evening session, he paid slight attention to policies, but dwelt strongly on the need of the Democrats getting together to face the common enemy.

Having been denounced by Mr. Bryan as the tool of Wall street, Mr. Parker devoted himself to paying compliments to the Nebraskan. He asserted the temporary chairmanship was of no importance compared with the chairmanship of the resolutions committee, which he and his friends hope to induce Mr. Bryan to accept.

OFFER PERMANENT CHAIRMAN.

Mr. Parker was not the only advocate of peace on the part of the representatives of the Murphy combine. Besides suggesting to Bryan that he could be the chairman of the resolutions committee, the Nebraskan was given to understand that one of his own friends could be elected as permanent chairman of the convention.

The reactionaries were willing to give up Theodore Bell of California, who was their original choice, and accept Senator Kern of Indiana, Senator James of Kentucky, Gov. Burke of North Dakota, or Senator Culberson of Texas.

All four of these men are strong progressives and are for Wilson at heart, although Kern is supporting Gov. Marshall of Indiana and Senator James is assumed to be for Mr. Clark.

NEW ACTION ON CONTESTS.

The Murphy combination is offering still other harmony proposals. The credentials committee refused tonight to indorse the action of the national committee in the settlement of the contests, and rather than have a fight they adjourned until tomorrow, when the evidence in the Illinois cases will be presented in open hearings and a fair decision will be demanded.

It is being said, moreover, that Mr. Clark is a real progressive and is not allied with the "interests." The Bryan men are being told that the Nebraskan is no longer a figure in the presidential race and that Mr. Wilson also has disappeared as a factor.

The Murphy forces say there are three candidates who remain in the field—Clark, Underwood, and Harmon. The two last named are unacceptable to Mr. Bryan and he is being urged to agree to the selection of Mr. Clark.

Whether or not the Murphy overtures will be acceptable will be determined within the next twenty-four hours, with the chances strongly against anything of the kind.

When Mr. Clark authorized the delegates instructed for him to vote for Parker he knew he was joining in a repudiation of Mr.

Bryan by the representatives of the party.

He knew he was aiding in the elimination of Wilson also.

He knew he was perpetuating the control of the party machinery by the same kind of men who, through the theft of delegates in Chicago, retained control of the machinery of the Republican party.

He knew, moreover, that he was endangering his chances of obtaining the support of Bryan during the election campaign.

JOINS FORCES OF REACTION.

It will not take a man of Mr. Clark's political sagacity long to realize that, by his action today, he became identified with the reactionary faction of the Democratic party and has placed under grave suspicion even his middle-of-the-road progressiveness.

That suspicion has sunk deeply into the minds of many progressive delegates instructed to vote for Mr. Clark and is causing some of them to consider seriously the advisability of violating their instructions.

These men know tonight what they suspected last night—that Mr. Clark, in order to bring about his nomination, has entered into a deal with the representatives of special privilege and special interests in Baltimore. Their knowledge was gained by the roll call whereby Parker was made temporary chairman, and, above all, by the appointment of Senator Stone of Missouri, manager of the Clark candidacy, as the head of the committee to escort Parker to the platform to take the gavel.

UNITE IN FIGHTING CLARK.

In view of their conviction, the progressive fight tonight is being concentrated upon Clark, and the effort will be to prevent him from getting the two-third vote necessary to nominate.

The Clark managers and the political and financial bosses are thoroughly familiar with the tactics of the opposition. Besides urging peace, they are trying to defeat them by appeals to the cupidity and ambitions of other candidates and their followers.

They are talking of putting Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey and Judson Harmon of Ohio in the cabinet in case of Clark's election. They are flattering Underwood with the certainty he will the speaker of the house of representatives should Democratic control of the lower branch of congress continue.

RELY ON OTHERS' AID.

So far as the strength of Harmon and Underwood is concerned, it is expected that ultimately it will reinforce Clark. But the Wilson men, and these include the followers of Bryan, are sore and hostile and they will not have peace.

The delegates, particularly from the middle and far west, including those from states instructed for Clark, say they will not dare to return home if they vote for his nomination with the incubus of the deal between him and the agents of Wall street.

But these men are asking, "what can we do?" They have their backs to the wall fighting with comparatively little spirit as a result of the defeat of that hitherto successful leader, Mr. Bryan.

Their one hope is that the two-thirds rule will not be revoked in favor of the majority rule by this convention, and that Mr. Clark cannot get the requisite 728 votes.

ASSERT CLARK WILL LOSE.

Following the adjournment of the convention today Mr. Bryan, Senator Kern, Senator Lea of Tennessee, and others carefully analyzed the vote by which Bryan was defeated for temporary chairman.

They agreed that even if Mr. Clark were to poll his entire strength on the day of the nomination, he could not, on the vote today, secure the prize. For example, Indiana cast 31 votes for Parker and 8 for Bryan, with one not voting, and Maine 11 votes for Parker and 11 for Bryan. Indiana is instructed for Gov. Marshall and Maine, though uninstructed, is pledged to Wilson.

But the view taken by Bryan and his friends is not that of the men they are opposing. One astute politician observed that only once in the history of the Democratic party has the man receiving the majority vote on the first ballot failed to obtain the two-thirds vote on a subsequent ballot. The political and financial bosses figure that the vote today assures them control of the nomination.

CLAIMS OF CLARK GAINS.

The table the Clark supporters have prepared indicates their expectation that they will lose forty-two delegates who supported Parker and who will vote for Wilson, and that Clark will pick up 191½ delegates from the following delegates who supported Bryan:

Alabama	13½	Michigan	6
Arizona	4	Missouri	14
California	8	Montana	7
Colorado	6	New Mexico	8
Connecticut	2	Nebraska	12
Florida	1	Nevada	6
Idaho	8	Oklahoma	10
Iowa	13	Washington	14
Kansas	20	Wyoming	6
Kentucky	8½	Alaska	2
Maryland	12½

EXPECT HALF VOTE MARGIN.

According to these figures, a net gain of 149½ votes over the vote today is expected when the roll is called in connection with the nomination. Mr. Parker received 579 votes. Adding these to the Clark strength, set forth above and which did not support his candidacy, and deducting the Wilson votes, forty-two of which he will lose, the speaker will have 728½ votes, one-half vote more than the requisite two-thirds.

It is fine figuring, but the men doing it are accustomed to calculating to a nicety on every question that arises. They realize that the vote is too close to be comfortable, and they are making herculean efforts to bring Wilson delegates into line, but, above all, Hawaii, the Philippines, and Porto Rico, the eighteen votes of which are uninstructed. On the roll call for temporary chairman today they commanded ten of these votes, and they plan to get the rest of them if possible.

They believe also they can obtain a greater number of the votes of Pennsylvania and Massachusetts for Mr. Clark than were cast today for Parker.

AIDS THIRD PARTY MOVEMENT.

Politicians in Baltimore are satisfied that the results of the convention will give impetus to the movement for the creation of a progressive party. They see in control here precisely the same character of men who were in control of the Republican national convention at Chicago. Murphy, Taggart, and Sullivan are to the Democratic party what Crane, Penrose, and Barnes are to the Republican party.

If the Democratic candidate should be soiled by the backing of the interests, as the Republican candidate is soiled, it is admitted that the candidate of the new party, whether Col. Roosevelt or some one else, will have a splendid chance of winning in November.

TWO CONVENTIONS SHOW ANALOGIES

Ratio of Progressives to Reactionaries Almost the Same in Both Bodies.

ROLL CALLS MUCH ALIKE.

Bryan's Fight in Baltimore Similar to That of Roosevelt in Chicago.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—The vote of 579 to 510, by which the reactionary forces in the Democratic convention today defeated William Jennings Bryan's stand for progressivism, is startlingly parallel to the roll calls of last week in the Republican convention, by which the cause of Roosevelt was beaten. That vote was 564 to 510.

The unit rule in the Democratic convention is responsible in several states for the weak showing of the progressive forces.

It is of interest to look into these two roll calls. The comparison is made between the vote cast at the Republican convention upon the decisive motion of Gov. Deneen to exclude the contesting delegates from voting upon their own cases and the vote cast today upon the temporary chairmanship of the Democratic convention.

There was no material change in the lineup of the twenty-seven states, fifteen of which finished with the reactionary column in both conventions, and twelve of which were notably progressive in the two conventions.

Fifteen Reactionary States.

The fifteen reactionary states—indicated by both the Republican and Democratic roll calls—are Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, New York, Rhode Island, Virginia and Vermont.

The twelve progressive states in the Republican convention, and progressive likewise in Baltimore on the Bryan-Parker proposition—and nearly every one a direct primary state—are Idaho, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Ten states which classified themselves with the reactionaries at Chicago for one reason or another, reversed their position so far as the Democratic convention is concerned, and voted for Bryan as against Parker, having voted with the steam roller in Chicago last week. They are Arizona, Delaware, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, South Carolina, Texas, Washington and Wyoming.

Notable in the List.

Notable in this list are the Texas and Washington delegations, both of which were seated in the Chicago convention under the steam roller methods of the national committee and subsequently by the direction of the self-constructed credentials committee of the reactionaries, aided by the gavel of Senator Root.

Material change is recorded in three states, comparing today's vote with the Chicago vote on the Deneen motion. Colorado, 12 to 0 for the reactionary program and under the direction of "Big Steve" Stevenson and Senator Guggenheim, voted 12 for the steam roller. Today the Colorado delegation split, 6 and 6. The Tennessee delegation at Chicago was voted 23 to 1 for the old guard program. Senator Luke Lea, leading the progressives, forced a vote of 17 to 7, with the 17 still lined up with the reactionaries. Utah, handled by Senator Reed Smoot at Chicago, voted 7 to 1 for the Penrose-Crane-Barnes-Taft program. Today Utah delegation divided evenly, 4 to 4.

California Gives Parker Aid.

The changes of the greater significance had to do with states which were indicated as progressive on most of the Chicago roll calls, but which went to Parker today in opposition to Bryan.

California—belligerent and bellicose last week under Gov. Johnson's leadership—stood 2 to 24 at Chicago, the two being the two Taft delegates from San Francisco, classed by Col. Roosevelt as "stolen property." Today the announced vote was 18 to 7, due largely to the personal influence of Theodore E. Bell, who made a speech for Parker. Bell is a former national head of the Order of Eagles.

Illinois—instructed for Roosevelt—voted 51 for the Deneen motion and 7 against in Chicago. Today the real vote was 5 for Bryan and 53 against, but under the unit rule Roger C. Sullivan cast the entire 58 votes for Parker.

Maine, swept by Roosevelt, was solid for the progressive plans at Chicago. Today the state split 11 to 1 in favor of the old guard proposition.

Maryland Swings Back.

Maryland, carried in a statewide primary for Roosevelt, cut its vote at Chicago, 7 for the progressive plans and 9 against. Today the Maryland vote was 14 votes reactionary and 1 vote progressive, with 1 vote split. Missouri, with a presidential candidate who did not know what to do in the crisis, according to gossip, was progressive at Chicago under Gov. Hadley's leadership, by a vote of 16 for the Penrose-Crane plans to 20 for the Roosevelt idea. With Speaker Clark in a fix, the vote today was 22 standpat and 14 progressive.

North Carolina, clearly progressive at Chicago by a vote of 22 to 2, switched today and the vote was 15 to 9 the other way.

Ohio, also with a presidential candidate, showed a reversal of form. Upon the strength of the Roosevelt victory in the direct primaries in President Taft's state, there were 34 progressive delegates and 14 reactionaries in the Chicago convention. The Harmon delegates today split up 29 to 19, the 29 voting for Parker.

Split in West Virginia.

West Virginia, militant and battling for the Roosevelt progressive platform at Chicago, was 16 to 0 on every progressive proposition there. Today, backing up the vote of its national committeeman, John T. McGraw, one of the old guard, the state was divided 9½ for Parker and 6½ for Bryan.

As to the territories and the District of Columbia, the vote in the two conventions is identical substantially, the difference being that each of the outlying possessions (except Hawaii) in the Republican convention had but two votes, while the Democrats allow them six each. The District of Columbia contesting delegation, seated by the national committee last night, voted with the reactionary program today. The District's Taft delegation, contesting at Chicago, was seated by the national committee and voted according to orders all through the piece.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF GATHERING.

CARTER H. HARRISON mayor of Chicago, declared that if the Baltimore convention nominated a progressive candidate and placed before the people a progressive platform a great Democratic victory would sweep the country next November.

MR. BRYAN left the hotel at 10 p. m. with his family to attend a reception given by Mayor Preston to visiting delegates.

Mr. Dooley

By Finley Peter Dunne

"What's the news at the convintion more?" asked Mr. Hennessy.

"'Twas just as I told ye," said Mr. Dooley. "The profissyonals won. Th' hard wurrukin' boys who ar-re in pollyticks to protict their little homes an' their jooiry put it over th' la-ads who ar-re in pollyticks because 'tis a healthy out-iv-dure exercise an' good f'r th' lungs. Iv coorse, there ar-re ringers among th' progressives, fellows that ought to be profissyonals and on the black-list in th' amachoor pollyticians' union. But afther lookin' thim all over I've made up me mind that most iv thim were sint into pollyticks be th' doctor.

"Th' dock is called in to attind a young fellow who maybe has a hackin' cough an' is writin' pothry.

"'Ye're in a bad way, me boy,' he says, 'onless ye take some healthy exercises,' he says.

"'What ought I to do?' says the patient.

"'Go into pollyticks,' says the dock.

"So he jines th' progressive party, an' in a few years he's as sthrong an' well as anny body. His chist measurement increases to thirty-two, he has a healthy tan, an' he is niver in danger iv th' close confinement of office.

"He injies ivry minyit iv th' spoort. It's a fine, exhilaratin' pastime f'r him. Sometimes he gets to be good enough to jine th' profissyonal ranks, but not often.

"On th' other hand, th' profissyonal doesn't look on it as a spoort at all, but as hard wurruk. He has to be good at it or he cudden't stay. He bangs away fr'm morn to eve, or, to speak more correctly, fr'm eve to morn, an' whin th' two kinds comes to a clinch niver bet but wan way. I always favor th' fellows who're in pollyticks f'r a cause, but I always put me money on thim that ar're in it f'r a reason. An' ye may be sartain that th' fellow that has a reason will find a cause.

"What time did th' con'vintion meet? Th' convintion was called to ordher four years ago an' adjourned last night at a quarther to 12 o'clock in Charles Murphy's bedroom. Th' platform, th' candydate, an' other minor details will be settled tomorrah or th' nex' day, whin th' public will see a fine uphill fight put up be th' amachoors.

"They always make a betther showin' in th' Dimmycrat convintion because they're young fellows fr'm th' south an' west, an' they have betther profissyonal coochers thin th' Republicans. But 'twill be th' same thing it's always been since I was a boy an' first poked me head into a convintion hall.

"What happened today? Th' convintion was called to ordher be th' chairman iv th' naytional comity an' th' polls, who had to put out iv th' hall a barytone soloist fr'm th' Matsachoosetts initiative an' rifrundum glee club. Divine blissing was thin asked on th' body an' encouraged be long an' vilent cheering. Dimmycratic convintions always seem to take great plasure in these prayers. Ye niver wud think be th' way they act that it is on'y four short years since they held wan.

"Afther th' prayer, but havin' no connection with it, th' Hon'rable Alton B. Parker was placed in nommynation for timpry chairman. Th' name iv th' sage iv Esopus was greeted with great enthusyasm. Aven Charles Murphy was carri'd away be th' excitement an' wint so far in his deliryum as to lean over an' whisper to Roger Sullivan: 'Are ye sure iv all ye'er people?'

"While panjymonyum was regin' a tall, broad shouldered man, whose head had been wore bald be bumpin' it again th' citydele iv wealth, was seen climbin' on th' platform. I'll let ye guess who it was, an' indeed it was he.

"Our hero is somewhat aged, it is thrue, since first we met, but he is still a fine figure iv a man, lookin', so th' pa-apers says, like a Roman sinitor, wavin' his pa'm leaf fan an' beseechin' th' dillygates to stop cheerin' whin they ar-re ready to. Whin he had fin'lly ca'med thim, afther givin' thim a reproochful look f'r their poor stayin' powers, he launched, says this pa-aper, a philipic agin th' enthrenched power iv privilege. I don't know what a phillipic is, but Hogan says it's a kind iv a speech an' that th' first man who made wan was giv a dhrink be his rile masther to stop his talkin'.

"Whin Willum Jennings hurled his speech I looked to see me frind Thomas F. Ryan come for'ard with a pan iv refrishmint in his hand f'r th' orator. But he didn't. He was settin' on half a chair in th' Virginya dillygation, an' him with money enough to buy all th' furniture in th' Old Diminyon an' not mind it. 'Tis strange how parsymonious people can become. He had on'y half th' chair, but I suppose that's all he wanted. If he'd wanted th' rest th' other half iv a dillygate wud be standin' in th' aisle.

"What did Willum Jennings say? r-read it in th' pa-pers. What pa-apers? I don't care. To-marrah's pa-apers. Yisterdah's pa-apers. Last year's pa-apers. Th' pa-apers iv eighteen ninety-six. In all thim vallyable publications ye-ll find this noble effort. I will always love it. I always have loved it. I can't hear it often enough, although I may.

"At th' end iv this outburst iv rale iloquence, he inthrajooced as his candydate th' Hon'rable John Kern, iv Indyanny. Sinitor Kern thrust th' honor away fr'm him. Much as he appreycyated th' honor th' lorls iv a timpry chairmanship always give him a sick headache. He wud not, aven f'r so gr-reat an' honor, incur th' inmity iv ayether pa-arty in this mominchous sthruggle. At laste both iv thim was his frinds. He appealed to Alton B. Parker in th' inthrests iv peace, iv harmony, iv justice, iv pathritism to retire. Alton B. Parker turned to Char-les Murphy an' thin manfully facin' th' speaker, refused.

"Th' orator, or betther still th' sinitor, thin got down to business an' appealed to Charles Murphy. 'I didn't catch th' names,' says Char-les to Roger Sullivan. 'Is he mentionin' some compromise candydates?'

"'No,' says Roger. 'Thim ar're a group iv Indyanny sintimints. Look at these figures. Am I right? I make it five sevinty-eight.'

"'It's five sivinty-nine,' says Char-les. 'Wan iv our dillygates fr'm Connecticut has gone out f'r a dhrink,' he says.

"So fallin' in his appeal th' sinitor nommynated Willum Jennings Bryan, who accipted be foorce iv habit. Befure he cud withdraw, th' vote was on. Will ye believe it, Hinnissy? It come out just as Char-les says: 'How d'ye suppose he guessed it?'

"An' so in his sthruggle against Preedytory Wealth Willum Jennings Bryan got another bump. Preedytory Wealth is a gr-reat champeen. It rowled Tiddy Rosenfelt last week in this town in sivin hours an' today it put Willum Jennings down in less thin four hours, if ye take time out f'r th' prayer. I don't say, mind ye, he's down fin'lly. But I've got to give th' first fall to ol' Preedytory.

"We'll see what happens tomorrah. I r-rhead that it's rumored Willum Jennings is goin' to issue a jint challenge f'r himself an' Tiddy Rosenfelt ag'in Preedytory Wealth. If they'd both get on his back they might down him."

"Willum Jennings Bryan is all right," said Mr. Hennessy. "What d'ye suppose thim millyonaires ar-re doin' in Baytimore?"

"Oh," said Mr. Dooley, "lookin' afther their investments."

BRYAN DECLARES TAMMANY RULES

Some Clark Men Not Progressive.

As Mr. Clark expressed his willingness to allow each of his supporters to follow his own judgment in this contest, it is evident that there are quite a number of men instructed for Clark who have no sympathy with progressive ideas—men who if they are ever released from the support of Mr. Clark may be expected to take up with a reactionary. This is an element that must be taken into account in making calculations upon the ticket that is to be nominated.

The lineup today is therefore important. It is also important in that it enables the folks at home to know what their representatives are doing at Baltimore.

A word as to the fight over temporary chairman. I several weeks ago advised the committee to insure harmony by selecting a chairman acceptable to Clark and Wilson, they together having more than half of the convention, if not two-thirds.

Foresaw No Difficulty.

As both have been running as progressives and the chief effort on the part of the friends of each being to prove him a better progressive than the other, I thought there would be no difficulty in securing an agreement in regard to a chairman, and this agreement would have insured the chairman's acceptance without a contest.

The committee, however, brought out Parker and pitted him against Congressman Henry, the choice of Mr. Wilson, and Congressman James, the choice of Mr. Clark. When the matter went before the full committee the Wilson men, on Gov. Wilson's advice, threw their strength to Janes, but James could not hold all of the Clark men. I tried to persuade Mr. James to allow the use of his name in the convention contest against Parker, but as Mr. Clark's managers were supporting Mr. Parker, even to the extent of having Kentucky's national committeeman vote for Parker—the Kentucky delegation was also largely for Parker—Mr. James did not feel at liberty to enter the contest. I then asked Senator O'Gorman to allow the use of his name, but he felt it his duty to decline.

I then presented the matter to Senator Kern, who was loath to undertake the contest, owing to conditions in his state. However, he agreed last evening to take the matter under consideration. I did not see him any more until after the chairmanship fight was over, but I heard late last night that he had devised a scheme in the interest of harmony which I was glad to approve.

Kern Brings Dramatic Moment.

I think the reader, when he has fully digested this scheme, will admit that it is about as good an illustration as has been seen in many a day of the manner in which tact and patriotism can be combined. After I had put Senator Kern in nomination against Parker, he took the platform and made a most forcible and eloquent plea for harmony.

He called attention to the great issues involved and to the importance of presenting a united front. He then presented a list of names, including Senators O'Gorman, Culberson, Shively and Lea, ex-Gov. Campbell of Ohio, ex-Gov. Folk of Missouri and Representative Clayton of Alabama.

He called upon Parker, who sat just in front of him, to join him in withdrawing in favor of any one of these men in order that the convention might open without discord.

It was a dramatic moment. Such an opportunity seldom comes to a man. If Parker had accepted it, it would have made him the hero of the convention. There was a stir in his neighborhood in a moment. The bosses flocked around him, and the convention looked on in breathless anxiety, but he did not withdraw. The opportunity passed unimproved.

Nothing Came of Offer.

Senator Kern then appealed to Mr. Murphy to induce Mr. Parker to withdrawn, but Mr. Murphy was not in a compromising mood. This was the only thing that Senator Kern did, the good faith of which could be questioned. I am afraid that he had no great expectation of melting the stony heart of the Tammany boss.

At any rate, nothing came of the generous offer made by Mr. Kern, except that it shifted to the shoulders of Mr. Parker and his supporters entire responsibility for any discord that might grow out of the contest.

Mr. Parker was escorted to the platform after his nomination had been made unanimous and began to deliver his address, but it had such a moving effect uopn the audience that the reading was suspended and the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock this evening.

Written in Wall Street Language.

Various explanations might be given of the actions of the crowd. Probably the most reasonable is that it was half past 3 and many were hungry. There is another explanation, however, that is worth expressing for consideration.

People will not remain in a large hall unless they know what is being said, and Mr. Parker's speech was written in the language of Wall street. Only 200 or 300 of the delegates could understand it, and the committee was so busy oiling the machine that it had neglected to provide an interpreter to translate the speech into the every day language of Democrats.

be said with certainty that if the big Republican state leaders who have left the party reservation remain out that there is no possibility of Mr. Taft's reelection in case of a progressive candidate being in the field.

Electors Above Any Law.

"Washington's best constitutional lawyers agree that the presidential elector is the one officer of the United States who is in no wise amenable to any law. He is superior to the courts, to congress, and to the president. He cannot be prosecuted for contempt or for corruption. He cannot be enjoined to do his duty or change his vote. He is supreme and no one can question his decision.

"Consequently the best Mr. Taft can hope—for some of the Republican electors are not going to vote for him—is that the election may be thrown into the house of representatives. Here, if the politicians' poll is correct, there is a tie vote, and it is this congress that would have to elect the next president. That would mean that the only hope for the president's reelection lies in the death of a congressman. What a national political contest there would be if a vacancy occurred and a new congressman had to be named?"

PREDICT OUSTING OF "H.-H." CLIQUE

Credentials Body Expected to Uphold the National Committee.

SULLIVAN HAS WHIP HAND

Belief Prevails That Bryan Will Keep Hands Off Illinois Delegation Fight.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—The Hearst-Harrison contest from Illinois is still pending because the credentials committee tonight met, organized, and adjourned until 9:30 tomorrow morning without action upon any of the contested cases.

Adjournment was forced, as a part of the general program of the reactionary forces in control of the convention, obtained through the election of Temporary Chairman Parker, and was coincident with the overnight recess of all of the committees.

Compromise propositions are being peddled by all of the old organization leaders on everything except the Illinois contests. Roger C. Sullivan will stand for no compromise, even at the risk of kicking over the entire batch of cake which the old guard thinks it is mixing tonight.

Sullivan Will Stand Pat.

He will insist that the credentials committee seat his delegates as the national committee did last night. His friends are in complete control of the committee and when the vote is taken it is practically sure the thirty-one Illinois seats at stake, including the eight delegates at large, the twenty district delegates from Cook county, the two from the Rainey district, and the one from the Bloomington district, will be filled by the men friendly to Mr. Sullivan.

Joseph E. Bell of Indiana was elected chairman of the credentials committee. The Georgia member moved early in the proceedings that the action of the national committee be ratified in all instances, but he received little support.

The Hearst-Harrison forces are still hopeful Mr. Bryan will champion their cause on the convention floor, but this situation has changed materially, due to his defeat for temporary chairman.

Bryan May Ignore H.-H. Clique.

The defeat of Mr. Bryan for the temporary chairmanship today and the indications tonight that the convention program has been completed in every essential detail, so far as it is possible to make a program, has put a damper upon Mr. Bryan's own inclinations in the premises, according to information, and it was held probable Mr. Bryan does not care to go up against the buzz saw now revolving rapidly until he can get to a big essential, such as the platform or a proposition equally as significant.

It is pretty well realized Mr. Sullivan has enough personal friends among the national committeemen and the delegation chiefs to seat the Sullivan delegation on the ground of personal friendship alone, regardless of any "gentleman's agreement" which may have been made, or without respect to any arrangements which may have been perfected looking toward the presidential nomination.

Sullivan Holds Whip Hand.

No efforts have been spared, as all of the voluminous record indicates, to make a perfect showing of the technical regularity of the Peoria convention, which was not attended by the alleged Hearst-Harrison contestants.

This goes a long way with the national committee organization, many members of which have been through precisely the same sort of a fight as involves Mr. Sullivan. The issue of regularity was the decisive point at St. Louis in 1904 in the [train robber] case, and was upheld at Denver in behalf of James M. Guffey in the Pennsylvania contests in 1908.

Sullivan Sure of Victory.

The expected action of the credentials committee in seating the Sullivan delegates is based on these precedents, and Mr. Sullivan and his cohorts confidently expect the convention to ratify the committee action tomorrow, regardless of anything Mr. Bryan may say or do. The chances are now against Mr. Bryan taking a hand in the Illinois affair.

Illinois was thoroughly peaceable today. There was only one roll call, that on the temporary chairmanship, and there was a poll of the delegation which was announced by Mr. Sullivan as chairman of the Illinois contingent.

BRYAN, DEFEATED, STILL DICTATOR

Blythe Says Nebraskan Holds Power to Beat Any Other Candidate.

PUTS FEAR IN ENEMIES.

Clark and Harmon Men Boast of Victory, but Quake During Fight.

BY SAMUEL G. BLYTHE.

[Copyright: 1912: By Samuel G. Blythe.]

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—So far from chastising William Jennings Bryan severely for his attempt to dictate the temporary chairmanship of the Democratic convention and his announced determination to continue along dictatorship lines while there is any dictating to do in Baltimore, the Democrats today contented themselves—and had to—with slapping him on the wrist in a polite but somewhat admonitory manner and asking him please to behave.

Inasmuch as the proceedings at Chicago had led the Democratic leaders opposed to Bryan—meaning all the old guard—to think this is the open season for shattering idols, these leaders had made up their minds to do some shattering themselves. They started out full of hope and with the shattering apparatus running on high speed with every gear thrown in. Oddly enough, Mr. Bryan refused to be shattered. Having been an idol for many years, he declined to recognize any iconoclastic rights as belonging to the leaders, and the upshot of it all was, that, while Mr. Bryan, as an idol was cracked and dinged a bit, he was not shattered, nor moved from his base.

Bryan, Beaten, Still Dictator.

What happened to him was that he proved, in a way, that unless some extraordinary circumstances arise, this convention will not nominate Bryan for president, and thus lifted a good deal of the load from the minds of many Democrats who feared such a contingency.

What also happened was that Bryan proved rather conclusively that if he sees fit to oppose any candidate aspiring to the nomination, that candidate will have a hard time getting enough votes in the convention. The anti-Bryan leaders expected to defeat Bryan, but they expected to defeat him more decisively than they did.

After the roll call was over these leaders patted themselves on the chests and said they had more votes at their command and might have beaten him harder, which was shown by their agitation and their nervousness and their fright while the roll call was in progress. They could have defeated him in a more decisive fashion, to be sure, but they didn't think to do it until the vote showed Parker was elected by about sixty majority, a curious manifestation of political stamina of mind.

Anti-Bryan Forces Hopeful.

The Clark men came out of the convention half claiming the defeat of Bryan was also a new indication that Wilson cannot be nominated by this convention. So did the Harmon men and the Underwood men and various other brands of men.

They all claimed Wilson went down with Bryan, forgetting that Bryan has gone down many times before, but somehow has always managed to come up again with a smile and a speech. Not that I intend to say Wilson can be nominated, but that it is reasonably certain Bryan is stronger than his opponents think him to be, and continues a most valuable asset for any candidate for the nomination.

So far as the nomination is concerned, it still remains an open question, and will so remain until there has been opportunity for conferences between the anti-Bryan and the Bryan leaders. There are many elements to consider, including the hope of the Wall street contingent, captained by Thomas Fortune Ryan, that an eminently safe and sane candidate can be secured, with preference for Harmon or Underwood; the Murphy-Hearst combination, and numerous other features of a situation that, while clearer, is not entirely clear. And in front and in the middle and behind every phase of the situation is Bryan, now fighting mad, and a fairly good fighter in his way.

Will Not Name Conservative.

The only safe prediction is that this convention is not in a temper to name a conservative candidate. The conservative interests have held tenaciously to the idea of a conservative candidate for a long time, but they are afraid to work to that end, for the work they must do would be surely detected, and there is a haven of refuge for rabid Democrats in the new third party movement.

The men who are trying to lead this convention are in a situation that demands not only a good knowledge of the principles and practice of politics but that requires a fair amount of conscience and patriotism and party loyalty.

All they have to do to win, it seems certain, is to name a candidate who can hold the normal Democratic vote, but to hold that vote they must name the right man, not a man wanted by a faction, or by an interest, or by their own selfish, personal considerations.

Stage Well Set for Bryan.

The stage was well set for Mr. Bryan this morning. There never has been a prettier, lighter, airier, or more comfortable convention hall than that provided by the people of Baltimore. The spectators were largely sympathetic. The acoustics were good. The dramatic was not lacking. There was plenty of enthusiasm. The scene was gorgeous and the occasion, it was claimed by almost all of the speakers, was historic. What more could a peerless leader ask?

Owing to the extreme caution of the doorkeepers that none but ticket holders should get in the hall was not filled at noon, when Chairman Mack went on the raised platform. He waited half an hour before he introduced Cardinal Gibbons, who, in his scarlet robes, had been sitting on the platform. Everybody stood while the cardinal prayed.

Meantime Mr. Bryan had been sitting on the platform, very white, very stern, and, unusual for him, palpably nervous. As soon as Chairman Mack told the delegates he had been instructed by the national committee to present the name of Alton B. Parker for temporary chairman, Mr. Bryan stepped forward, nodded to Mack, and held up both hands. They cheered him sufficiently.

Bryan Speech Two-Thirds Self.

Bryan's speech was devoted to himself in the best part, to John W. Kern in the second part, and to himself in the third part. It was not so good a speech as Bryan has made on many occasions, but it was suitable to what he had in mind to do.

Senator Kern gave a fair imputation of being utterly surprised when Bryan named him as the man best fitted to be temporary chairman. The senator's celebrated paintbrush whiskers waggled violently, and he was observed to arise and make his way to the platform, torn, as it were, by the conflicting emotions of love and duty, and keeping the corner of his eye turned towards Tom Taggart, also of Indiana, who stood near Chairman Mack.

Mr. Bryan gave Senator Kern a good recommendation, digressing, now and then, to call eloquent attention to the uplift movement now in progress in Turkey, Persia, and China. However, as there were few, almost no, Chinese, Turk, or Persian delegates in the convention the reflections passed unnoticed. Mr. Bryan made it clear he was fighting for a principle and to save the Democratic party form itself—not himself—and concluded, amid applause, with a stirring appeal to all Democrats to get in behind him and select Kern.

Kern Pleads for Harmony.

Kern was next. He was pale, but composed, when he conveyed the unnecessary information that he hails from Indiana. His beard proves that. He said this was all a surprise to him, that unaccustomed as he was to public speaking and not expecting to be called upon, he would do the best he could and the best he could do was to say he didn't know Mr. Bryan had him in mind when he began his eulogy of the perfect temporary chairman.

Having heard, for the first time, that he was the man, Senator Kern said he dearly loved Mr. Parker, and in order to secure harmony, he would withdraw and begged Mr. Parker to do the same.

Mr. Parker, who sat on the aisle in the first row of the New York delegation, smiled sweetly and said nothing, nor did he withdraw. Thereupon Mr. Kern strayed away and said some kind words of himself in case the convention might need a good adaptable candidate for president, and quit.

Forces of Clark Straddle.

Various speakers followed, including Theodore Bell of California, who was the Bell that tolled the temporary chairman keynote at Denver four years ago, with full permission and sanction of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bell is the Clark leader in California, and when he announced both he and California were for Parker it was thought to give an indication of the feelings of the Clark supporters.

However, this thought did not hold good during the roll call, for under the able but nonpartisan leadership of Senator Stone of Missouri the Clark forces managed to maintain a masterly position in the middle of the road on the question at issue; they straddled, to be exact.

The spectators were noisy and demonstrative, but the delegates seemed to have themselves well in hand. It was only further proof of the ancient truth that, while it is easy to stampede galleries at a national convention, it is difficult to stampede delegates. The opportunity to get up on a platform and talk to fourteen thousand or so people impressed itself on various spellbinders and they got up on the platform, entirely in the interest of the freedom of speech, by the way, and talked not to, but at, the fourteen thousand.

The fourteen thousand devised ways of its own to keep from hearing what was going on.

Massmeeting, Not Convention.

Of course, all this time there was no convention. The orators were speaking to a massmeeting, as no organization had been perfected. Still, it was a large audience, and the freedom of speech must be preserved at all hazards in a Democratic convention. Noting the fact that the men who decorated the hall had grabbed off George Washington as the original Democrat, the Democracy of that eminent citizen and of Thomas Jefferson was loudly extolled and applied to the case in hand. All of the orators took warning at Mr. Bryan's slip.

Mr. Bryan, pausing after an exceedingly complimentary reference to Senator Kern, asked:

"What better man can be named?" and was promptly answered by about ten thousand persons, who told him loudly and persistently that Parker was a better man, to Mr. Bryan's evident annoyance.

Presently Mr. Bryan confided that he had tried to get Ollie James and Senator O'Gorman to stand for him in the fight before he lighted on Senator Kern, and that both James and O'Gorman had politely but firmly refused. Wherefore, inasmuch as Senator Kern seemed insensible to the high honor which Mr. Bryan sought to confer on him, it became the bounden duty of the subscriber, William Jennings Bryan, to take over the job himself, and he declared himself the leader in the crisis, willing to lead until the crisis had cried, and not committing himself as to his actions after that.

Roll Call Scares Anti-Bryanites.

The anti-Bryan leaders grinned at this. They had Mr. Bryan where they wanted him and they were anxious to begin the roll call in order that he might be shown his proper place, which, in their estimation, was an inconspicuous rear seat. The roll call started off with Parker in the lead. Presently Mr. Bryan began to come along, and he came along to such an extent that the anti-Bryan leaders, who had thought to do some lusty shattering of the idol, wondered if the thing would not work with the reverse English.

They pulled through and Parker was declared the choice of the convention for temporary chairman, while Mr. Bryan remained on the platform wearing a stern and rockbound expression and exuded a few laments as to the sad and ultimate fate of his pet Democracy.

They made Parker's selection unanimous, and the New Yorker came forward to speak. Not many persons evinced a strong desire to hear him keynote the situation, and nearly everybody started to leave the hall. Thinking it useless to keynote to fourteen thousand people who were crowding toward the door and wondering how they would get home in the rain without spoiling their clothes, a recess was taken until 8 o'clock, when Parker keynoted to the entire satisfaction of all concerned, it was said.

Plan Deals for Delegates.

The night was one of seeking for ways and means. It is apparent that, with the two-thirds rule, there must be a good deal of elimination before a candidate can be selected. Numerous discordant elements must be brought into harmonious relations. The ticket must be balanced skillfully enough to hold the entire Democratic vote.

Big factors, which, although not Democratic, are powerful in Democratic politics, must be consulted. The leaders have a hard job before them. Bryan is there, not eliminated—not one-quarter eliminated. He is powerful and determined. So are his opponents.

Defeat can as easily come out of this convention as victory. The Republican party has no monopoly on internal dissension. The Democratic is as radical in its radical wing and as conservative in its conservative wing as the Republican party. Harmony is a fine theme, but it is a difficult attainment. At this writing Clark and Wilson are the leading candidates for the nomination. Neither has enough votes. Back of them are numerous dark horses. It is any man's convention as yet.

Representative McKinley Denies Roosevelt Statement That He Was Offered Nomination.

Washington, D. C., June 25.—Many of the Taft leaders, who helped secure President Taft's nomination at Chicago, came to the White House today to extend their congratulations.

Representative McKinley, director of the Taft bureau, dictated a denial of the statement by Col. Roosevelt that he could have won the nomination from President Taft on certain conditions which he refused.

"To any one knowing the situation, the statement of Col. Roosevelt that he could have had the nomination on Saturday certainly is amusing," was Mr. McKinley's statement.

CHICAGO DELEGATE ACCUSES TWO MEN OF SWINDLING HIM.

Causes Arrest of New Yorkers on Charges of Operating a Fake Wire Tapping Game.

New York, Jupne 25.—R. J. Buckley of Chicago, a delegate to the Democratic national convention, caused the arrest here today of two men, one of whom he charged with attempting to swindle him in a fake wire tapping game. The prisoners, John and Henry M. Wilson, were held in $2,000 bail each by a magistrate for action on Thursday for charges of grand larceny.

Buckley said John Wilson induced him to lay a $12,000 wager on a racehorse last Saturday and told him after the race that he and two companions had won $105,000.

The cashier, Buckley said, refused to give him his share of the $105.00, but made an appointment to meet him and Wilson at an uptown hotel today and talk the matter over. He told the police of the appointment today and they arrested the two Wilsons. The cashier did not put in an appearance.

[Former Ald. James Buckley, a delegate to the Democratic convention, was defeated for reelection at the last aldermanic election. There is no R. J. Buckley, a delegate from Chicago to Baltimore.]

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FAVORS COOK COUNTY DEMOCRACY.

Robert E. Burke's Marching Club Admitted to Baltimore Convention on Showing of Blue and Gold Badges.

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—The early determination of the Sullivan men from Illinois to prevent the distribution of convention tickets to members of Robert E. Burke's Cook County Democracy, because of the Hearst-Harrison men in the body, was changed yesterday.

The members of the famous marching club, by special action of the national committee, were given the special privilege of entrance without credentials other than the mammoth badge of blue and gold which decorated every breast of the organization.

The Democracy band was in evidence throughout the day and at noon gave an extended concert at the Caswell hotel, where Mayor Harrison has his headquarters. The members of the club, however, did not risk their new silk hats and "Prince Alberts" in the big Clark parade of the morning because of a drizzling rain.

NOTES OF THE CONVENTION.

FORTY real "houn' dawgs" from Albemarle county, Virginia, are to be in the parade which the Clark supporters are planning. Other curiosities will be "Borax Bill" with his famous team of snow white mules; the tallest, shortest, and fattest delegates from Oklahoma, and a group of aged members of the Jackson Democratic club, the oldest democratic organization in existence.

ONE thousand advocates of woman suffrage are expected to participate in a parade which suffragists are planning to hold tomorrow night to impress the delegates. Floats representing the states of Washington, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, and Colorado, where women vote, will be in line.

PLANKS in the platform, designed to win over the negroes to the Democratic party, is sought by the National Colored Democratic league.

'SAME OLD ROLLER,' SAYS ROOSEVELT

NEW PARTY THE GAINER.

Believes Disaffected Democrats Will Join Progressive Move in August.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 25.—Col. Roosevelt tonight was greatly pleased by the news from Baltimore. He showed how closely he was keeping in touch with the situation by reciting the vote by which William J. Bryan had been defeated a short time before in his contest with Alton B. Parker over the temporary chairmanship.

"Doesn't that remind you of what happened in Chicago?" he asked. "They are making the same fight at Baltimore. That is good. One thing is plain, that Mr. Murphy will never make peace with Bryan."

Col. Roosevelt said that apparently the issue among the Democrats was fundamentally the same as that in the Republican convention.

Believes New Party Will Profit.

Should serious differences develop, it is his belief the new party will profit thereby in the way of receiving support from disaffected Democrats.

With this in mind, Col. Roosevelt and his associates will take no definite steps until the Democratic convention has come to an end.

He said the first meeting of the temporary committee on organization announced yesterday by Gov. Hiram Johnson of California would not meet until the Democrats have named their ticket. The meeting probably will be held in New York the latter part of next week. Its chief work will be to fix the date for the national convention and issue the call.

Each State to Have Voice.

"There is one thing which I would like to make clear," said Col. Roosevelt. "It is that the temporary committee which was announced yesterday is in no sense a national committee in the ordinary acceptance of the term. It was selected simply for the purpose of taking the first step and calling the convention."

Each state, he said, would select its own national committeeman, and there was no guarantee that any man on the list would be the representative of his state after the convention.

The only action which will be taken pending the news from Baltimore, Col. Roosevelt said, would be the organization of party machinery in the various states.

'People You Can't Repress.

"Timothy L. Woodruff and William Halpin of New York called on me today," he continued. "You can't repress people like that."

He said Mr. Woodruff and Mr. Halpin were already at work with the formation of the New York organization.

Col. Roosevelt said the founders of the new party hoped to take over a good measure of strength from the Democratic party.

It was understood that as soon as he returned today the colonel got into communication with several Democrats, who he thought might wish to join the movement.

Never Felt More Fit.

"I understand some of the newspapers," the colonel remarked, "said I returned from Chicago greatly aged, with lines of care on my face. By George, isn't that funny?" He threw back his head and laughed.

"You see how I look," he continued. "I never felt more fit in my life. And those of you who were out in Chicago know that if there was a man who was not concerned or nervous it was I.

"I told them out there that if they didn't purge the convention of fraudulent delegates I would take the step I did. There never was any doubt in my mind what I would do."

DENVER OR PHILADELPHIA?

Philadelphia, Pa., June 25.—[Special.]—The convention of Col. Roosevelt's third party will be held in Philadelphia or Denver, according to Ziba T. Moore, one of William Flinn's lieutenants. The choice will be made immediately after the adjournment of the Democratic national convention.

CLARK MEN TO JUGGLE JOBS

Plan to Cut Big Pie in Effort to Keep Democrats Intact.

WILSON OUT IN THE COLD.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—Harmony all along the line is the slogan of the Clark people, who now assert their candidate will be nominated on the second ballot—if not the first.

A great political pie is being cut and it is planned to apportion the pieces to all the conflicting factions in the party except the Wilson wing. The latter, according to the Clark boomers, will get its share, if it will take it, in the event of Clark's election in November.

The greatest effort has been made to win the followers of Judson Harmon, as it was conceded the Underwood people would listen to "Clark reason" from the start. According to present gossip, the Harmon folks have been satisfied by the promise of Clark support for Theodore Bell of California for the permanent chairmanship.

Bell Switches to Parker.

Bell, an ardent Bryan man, was temporary chairman of the Denver convention in 1908. He led the fight for Clark in California, which resulted in the speaker's carrying that state in the presidential primaries this year. Arriving in Baltimore it was thought he would be found in the Bryan camp at all times.

However, in the Parker-Bryan battle, he was with the forces of the New Yorker. Bell was formerly head of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. That order has been back of Gov. Harmon's candidacy from its inception, its present head being an ardent and enthusiastic Harmon man.

Martin J. Wade of Iowa was slated for the permanent chairmanship until the Harmon folks demanded it for Bell, because of his stand for Parker as against Bryan, and because of his fraternal affiliations.

As Wade and Bell are both for Clark, Wade is said to have decided to withdraw in favor of Bell when he found that the latter's selection would aid the speaker.

Good Berth for Wade.

Mr. Wade is not left out in the cold altogether, if the Clark harmony deal eventuates. In the event of the speaker's nomination he is to be named chairman of the national committee, at Clark's request.

The Underwood people are to be given what every one knew they would get. If the deal goes through, the Clark supporters in the house of representatives will vote for Underwood for speaker on the reorganization of the house next congress, if the Democrats succeed in carrying it.

Hearst has urged Clark to the exclusion of all other candidates. It is said he has now agreed to share the patronage of New York with Murphy. He will succeed in getting some of the plums in Illinois and California.

BRYAN CRUSHED; PARKER IN CHAIR

"PARTY SUICIDE"—KERN.

Convention Seats Parker, 579 to 510; Disorder Halts His Speech.

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—A tragedy of politics unparalleled in American history and one that left few hearts untouched by its pathos, was the immolation of William Jennings Bryan in the first session of the Democratic national convention this afternoon.

Alton B. Parker was elected temporary chairman over Mr. Bryan by a vote of 579 to 510. Senator John W. Kern, Mr. Bryan's candidate for the chairmanship, declined to run and named the Nebraskan, after having suggested a compromise to Parker, who declined it.

In his plea for Mr. Bryan Senator Kern warned the delegates against defeating the Nebraskan.

"You may put him to the wheel, you may lynch him here, but you will give pain to 6,000,000 hearts," solemnly declared the senator. "But you will not commit homicide—you will commit suicide."

Familiar Black Alpaca Coat.

When Bryan took his stand on the platform in his familiar black alpaca coat and raised his palm leaf fan with a characteristic commanding gesture, the 14,000 men and women who packed the convention hall beheld the man who has dominated the Democratic party for sixteen years, and who, even in successive defeats, has left the impress of his personality on the history of his country.

They beheld the man who, three times having failed to win the presidency when victory was hopeless, reaching out his hand to seize command again.

They beheld this man struck down and swept aside by the steam roller of the Democratic majority, which, still confident of triumph over the disorganized Republican party, is turning from its of half a generation to choose a standard bearer.

Three times this afternoon B... rose and addressed the convention with the magnetic appeal that rarely has failed to move great masses of men. Three times he indicted the "predatory interests" which he believes control the Democratic national convention, which he asserted have dictated the selection of Alton B. Parker for temporary chairman of the convention, and which, he warned his hearers, are seeking to gain control. He even shouted:

"You cannot frighten the Democratic party with your Ryans or buy it with your Belmonts."

Bryan Goes the Limit.

Mr. Bryan made the issue clear. He went the limit. And after he had spoken a Texan put the proposition boldly when he said, talking from the platform just before the vote on temporary chairman:

"It is Bryan against Wall street, and I am for Bryan."

And when the convention voted later, it was not for Bryan.

It did what Charles F. Murphy of Tammany and Thomas F. Ryan of Wall street came here to do. It put Bryan down and out, at least so far as this proceeding is concerned.

The maneuvers by which Bryan and his fellow progressives sought to stay the remorseless oncoming of the steam roller were dramatic. Bryan urged for temporary chairman his running mate of 1908, Senator John W. Kern of Indiana.

Mr. Kern, in a speech of extraordinarily fervent appeal, pleaded for a compromise in the interest of harmony and challenged Parker to meet him in a double withdrawal from the contest and an agreement on any one of half a dozen Democratic leaders he named—O'Gorman, Shively, Luke Lea, Senator Culberson, Joseph W. Folk, or ex-Gov. Campbell.

But Parker sat mute in his seat in the New York delegation, somewhat flushed but unmoved.

And when he saw his plea was unavailing Kern withdrew in favor of Mr. Bryan for temporary chairman.

Roller's Work Remorseless.

Then through the convention, which had developed unexampled turbulence, the steam roller started the work of crushing Bryan. Its work was done remorselessly.

It was the first time Bryan had faced in person a Democratic convention since he went down to defeat fighting the Illinois "train robbers" in the famous contest before the St. Louis convention in 1904.

The manner in which Bryan came before the convention today couldn't have been more effective. It took an hour to bring the big assemblage to order and during that time Bryan was in the thoughts of almost every delegate and spectator. He could not be discerned sitting with the Nebraska delegation and his entrance was eagerly awaited.

Then, without any heralding, the familiar figure of the Nebraskan suddenly materialized on the platform high above the great mass of humanity that packed the hall.

Same Bryan as of Yore.

There was a set expression of determination on his features—determination to face an opposition he knew would overwhelm him—and his head was tilted back a bit defiantly.

Save for a thinning of the luxuriant locks of yore and a deepening of the lines of his features, it was the same Bryan—the Bryan of the conventions of 1896, 1900, and 1908, in which he triumphed, and of the convention of 1904 in which his voice went as it did today.

The magical appearance of the man of whom everybody in the hall was thinking brought on a tremendous demonstration of enthusiasm from the progressive delegates on the floor and the thousands of men and women in the galleries.

For several minutes the hall was given over to a din such as has greeted the Nebraskan in the hour of victory. Masses of delegates, chiefly from the western states, stood on chairs or benches, cheering and waving banners, hats, and fans, while the galleries, a-flutter with handkerchiefs, joined in the acclaim.

People with Nebraskan.

It was soon apparent that had the decision of the issue been left to the 14,000 people present Bryan would have won. His appeal to the audience lacked none of the dramatic force of other years and as he rounded period after period the hall was swept with storms of cheering.

He solemnly declared his willingness to risk humiliation for his cause, he dramatically applied to himself the motto on the wall: "He never sold the truth to serve the hour," and then he portrayed the progressiveness of his candidate for the temporary chairmanship, John W. Kern.

"This is the man," said Bryan, "who is now leading the fight in the United States senate to purge that body of Senator Lorimer."

A tremendous demonstration greeted this reference to the Lorimer scandal.

"What better man could we have?" demanded Bryan.

Parker Men Constantly Interrupt.

The convention was steadily growing more turbulent. Bryan attacked Parker as a reactionary and warned against putting the Democratic party under the control of the "predatory wealth" that ruled at Chicago last week. He launched into a description of the growth of progressivism throughout the world, culminating with the establishment of a republic in China.

But every sentence he uttered was greeted with cries of "Parker! Parker! Give us Parker!"

"We have been traveling in the wilderness, but now we come in sight of the promised land," exclaimed the three time defeated candidate with fervor, the significance of which was understood by the Bryan enthusiasts and the anti-Bryan men alike.

Then he concluded and disappeared from the platform as magically as he came, while the progressives, led by the Nebraska, Texas, and Pennsylvania delegations, gave vent to a tumultuous approval.

Now came a dramatic succession of developments when Senator Kern took the platform, told of his friendship for both Bryan and Parker, but of his greater love for his party, in which he wished harmony restored.

Suggests a Compromise Candidate.

"If my friend will join me now in selecting a man satisfactory to us both," he began amidst a sudden hush of expectancy and looking straight at Parker, who sat on the center aisle with the New York delegation. He named the numerous leaders he proposed as a compromise, pausing at each name and finally waiting for a reply from the New Yorker. While Kern waited an excited throng of delegates gathered around Parker, who, however, kept his seat, looking immovably straight at the speaker on the platform.

"Come on, Parker." "Get out of the way, Parker," were the mingled cries that were pierced by the shriek of a tin whistle ironically signifying the crowd's greeting of the steam roller.

At last Kern, unanswered by his opponent, resumed with a plea against writing Bryan's political death warrant, saying that in doing so the party would be committing suicide.

After the storm of applause Kern again appealed to Parker for a compromise, but in vain, and then proclaiming his unfitness to lead the fight, he withdrew in favor of Bryan.

Crowd Taunts Fitzgerald.

The utmost disorder prevailed during the speech of Bell of California in favor of Parker, and Representative Fitzgerald of New York, who followed with the same purpose, was distinctly not a success.

"Hurrah for Joe Cannon," was the shout that went up from the Bryan delegates when Fitzgerald appeared. He was recognized at once as the Democrat who, with twenty-two others, saved the Cannon rule in the last congress.

"Are you the conspicuous New Yorker who voted for Cannon?" shouted a Wilson delegate from Texas. The sally was heard by everyone present and pandemonium ensued. Fitzgerald angrily pointed out the offending delegate, Chairman Mack belabored his table with his gavel, while the secretary and sergeant at arms manfully worked their gavels and vainly wigwagged for order. Having uttered only two sentences for Parker in five minutes, Fitzgerald beat a retreat.

Confusion Heaped on Confusion.

At last Bryan appeared again, and the palm leaf fan succeeded in evoking quiet. He delivered another appeal, in which he said that as a last resort he would be the candidate for the temporary chairmanship. More disorder ensued. Bryan appeared again on a point of order, after which the convention became more turbulent than ever. Finally came the roll call, and the steam roller did the rest.

Mr. Parker, declared the convention's choice for temporary chairman, was escorted to the platform, and started to speak. His voice is not strong and his first sentence was scarcely heard above the din.

He had a lovely set of phrases about the Chicago convention—about the cries of "liar," "thief," "stolen delegates," etc., but he did not finish his first three sentences.

It was apparent he had expected to find harmonious applause, but he found instead an indifference that hardly was matched in the proceedings of last week, and a disturbance that outdid anything that happened in the Coliseum. He sat down. The crowds began pouring out of the hall—delegates as well as spectators—and finally a megaphone motion to adjourn the convention until 8 p. m. was carried and the session was over. The finish was not complimentary to the sage of Esopus.

DETAILED STORY OF DAY.

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—William Jennings Bryan lost his fight for progressive control of the Democratic national convention today when he was defeated for temporary chairman of the convention by Alton B. Parker.

Mr. Bryan first nominated Senator Kern to oppose Parker. The latter declined the honor and named Mr. Bryan to make the fight. The Nebraskan made an eloquent plea "for the cause he had represented for sixteen years," but it was unavailing.

Bryan Makes Fiery Speech.

The report of the national committee, presenting the name of Alton B. Parker of New York for temporary chairman, precipitated the struggle between the progressive forces marshalled by Col. Bryan and those of the conservative element. Col. Bryan made a fiery speech, first urging Senator Kern and later yielding to appeals that he would become a candidate against Parker for the chairmanship.

A wealth of decorations in white and gold and the national colors greeted the early arrivals on the scene. The big hall, ordinarily a huge steel beamed, brick walled armory, was transformed by thousands of yards of bunting. The ugly steel girders under the roof were hidden by a false ceiling of light netting. From the alleries hung the banners of the various states and the territories and insular possessions.

Crowd Slow in Arriving.

The crowd came slowly and when the band began to play at 11 o'clock the galleries and the guest sections surrounding the delegates on the floor held but a scattered few.

The delegates were slow in making their appearance. A pouring rain and a scarcity of vehicles made progress a serious problem.

The committee on arrangements had given the most prominent places on the floor to the states having avowed presidential candidates. To the right of the main aisle and directly in front of the stage was Missouri—home state of Speaker Champ Clark. To the left was New Jersey, with Woodrow Wilson as a favorite son.

Back of Missouri came Ohio, with Gov. Harmon in the field. Back of New Jersey was Alabama, home of Representative Oscar W. Underwood. Indiana did not fare so well, but the members of that delegation did not regard this as in any way diminishing the chances of Gov. Marshall.

Connecticut was close to Ohio, the delegation enthusiastic in its support of Gov. Baldwin. North Dakota, nominating Gov. Burke of that state, was no more favorably located than Indiana, both being in fourth or fifth positions from the front.

Senator Has Hard Time Entering.

The slow arrival was due in part to the close scrutiny of tickets and credentials by the doorkeepers, a long line of delegates and others being held up outside the building. Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi had a great deal of difficulty getting in.

The first cheer of the convention went to Gov. Wilson. As the delegates seats began to fill up a standard bearer marched up the center aisle, carrying a big white silk banner bearing a gold lone star and the inscription:

"Grand Old Texas. Forty Votes for Woodrow Wilson, the People's Choice."

As the banner appeared a cheer swept the scattered crowds in the galleries. The delegates did little cheering.

Cardinal Gibbons, who was to make the opening prayer, entered the hall at 11:45, accompanied by Chairman Robert Crain of the arrangements committee and preceded by a squad of policemen. The cardinal in his red robes made a picturesque figure among the soberly clad delegates who wore rainy day clothes. He was cheered as he made his way to the stage.

At this time the hall was filling rapidly. There was a spreading murmur of excitement as word came that Mr. Bryan had started from his hotel for the convention. A short time later Connecticut entered the hall with a big blue banner inscribed:

"Our Choice for President, Simeon J. Baldwin."

No applause greeted the Baldwin banner. The Connecticut delegation endeavored to start a Baldwin demonstration, but without success.

Then the band played "Dixie" and a great cheer swept the hall. "The Star Spangled Banner" brought the gathering to its feet.

Bryan Slips In Quietly.

Mr. Bryan surprised the convention by slipping in without anybody seeing him. He had left his hotel by the servants' elevator, avoiding the crowd awaiting him there, and made his way quietly to the hall. He entered by the stage door and bobbed up in the rear of the stage by a back stairway.

The crowd of delegates on the floor below could not see him. Mr. Bryan shook hands cordially with Cardinal Gibbons.

"I am very glad indeed to meet you," he said, "and am sorry not to have known you before."

The Nebraskan then slipped back into a seat well secluded from the gaze of the crowd.

The delegates at this time were in great confusion finding their seats and apparently were not concerning themselves with Mr. Bryan or anybody else.

At 12:06 Mr. Mack arrived and climbed the stairs leading to the platform.

A few delegates who went to speak to Mr. Bryan found him somewhat nervous and irritable. He confirmed his intention of nominating Senator Kern as a candidate for temporary chairman in opposition to Parker.

Mack Takes His Place.

At 12:10 Cardinal Gibbons took his place at the front of the platform and Mr. Mack took his place at the chairman's desk. Charles R. Crisp, parliamentarian of the house of representatives, took a seat near Mr. Mack. He was to act as parliamentary adviser to the chairman.

Representative Robert L. Henry of Texas, chairman of the house committee on rules, climbed the stairs to the stage and conversed for a moment with Bryan. Henry, who led the Bryan supporters in the house, was expected to lend his influence to the Nebraskan in the convention.

Up to that time Charles F. Murphy, Alton B. Parker, Senator O'Gorman, and several of the other conservative leaders were still absent.

There was one sharp contrast between the convention arrangements here and those at Chicago. At the Republican convention the hall fairly swarmed with policemen. In the hall here today to find a "cop" was like searching for a needle in a haystack.

Convention Called to Order.

Chairman Mack dropped his gavel at 12:16 with the announcement:

"The convention will be in order. The sergeant at arms will clear the aisles."

A moment after Chairman Mack began pounding for order, Parker, accompanied by Morgan J. O'Brien of New York, appeared, making his way up the wrong aisle in search of the New York delegation.

A cry of "Parker! Parker!" came from the galleries, but the former candidate was not generally recognized.

Delegates, late in getting by the doorkeepers, caused much confusion on the floor and delayed the beginning of proceedings.

Mr. Bryan received word that Indiana, Senator Kern's home state, had decided by a big majority to support Parker, and thus uphold the national committee. This news was taken by many delegates to mean defeat to the Nebraskan in his first great fight of the convention. Mr. Bryan appeared not to be disturbed.

Delegates Can't Get In.

As the sergeants at arms endeavored in vain to subdue the confusion, an excited, disheveled individual forced his way to the front of the hall and yelled:

"Tell Chairman Mack there are 150 delegates in line outside the door who can't get in."

Again the convention was delayed to allow the delegates time to get into the hall.

Delegate Platt of New Jersey forced his way through the crowd carrying a big bunch of bananas. He distributed the fruit among the Jersey delegates.

"Just exercising a little foresight," he commented, "we don't intend to starve if this session is prolonged."

At 12:20 another effort was made to secure order. There was a semblance of quiet and Chairman Mack directed the reading of the call for the convention. It was read by Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall, New York.

The aisles were still pretty well choked up, but the delegates were good natured about it and endeavored to help straighten out the tangle.

Invocation by Gibbons.

Following the call Chairman Mack introduced Cardinal Gibbons for the invocation. The great audience rose and stood during the prayer and the great convention hall was silent.

Cardinal Gibbons spoke as follows:

"We pray thee, O God of might, wisdom, and justice, through whom authority is rightly administered, laws are enacted, and judgment decreed, assist with thy Holy Spirit of counsel and fortitude the president of these United States, that his administration may be conducted in righteousness and be eminently useful to thy people over whom he presides by encouraging due respect for virtue and religion, by a faithful execution of the laws of justice and mercy, and by restraining vice and immorality.

"Let the light of thy divine wisdom direct the deliberations of this convention and shine forth in all its proceedings and enactments, so that they may tend to the preservation of peace and good will and the promotion of concord and harmony.

Liberty Without License.

"May authority be exercised without despotism and liberty prevail without license. May this convention demonstrate once more to the American people and to the world at large that the citizens of the United States have solved the problem of self-government by exercising and tolerating the broadest and most untrammeled freedom of discussion in their political assemblies without dethroning reason and without invading the sacred and inviolable domain of law and of public order.

"May the delegates assembled to select a candidate for chief magistrate be ever mindful that they are the sons of the same Heavenly Father, that they are the brothers of the same national family, that they are fellow citizens of the same glorious republic, that they are joint heirs of the same heritage of freedom; and may it be their highest ambition to transmit this precious inheritance unimpaired to their children and their children's children. May the consciousness of this community of interests or of destiny banish from their hearts all bitterness, hatred, and ill will, and inspire them with sentiments of genuine charity, benevolence, and mutual respect and forbearance.

"We recommend likewise to thy unbounded mercy all our brethren and fellow citizens throughout the United States, that they may be blessed in the knowledge and sanctified in the observance of thy most holy law; that they may be preserved in union and in that peace which the world cannot give, and after enjoying the blessings of life they may be admitted to those which are eternal."

Demonstration for Cardinal.

The attention of the delegates was such that the cardinal's voice easily carried to the farthest corner of the hall. There was a demonstration as the cardinal concluded. There was scattering applause at first and then a great wave of handclapping and cheering broke over the audience.

As the demonstration subsided Senator Kern, Bryan's candidate for temporary chairman, entered the hall. In a moment one of the galleries behind the platform started a cheer for Bryan.

"Bryan! Bryan!" they shouted, and disorder broke loose again. Mack pounded his gavel in vain for several minutes, but finally secured enough quiet to proceed.

Chairman Mack directed the announcement of the temporary organization. Assistant Secretary Smith began to read:

"Temporary chairman—Alton B. Parker of New York."

He was interrupted by a cheer. The band joined in with "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," the music drowning out the demonstration.

The secretary then proceeded with the announcement of the other officers. As the list was concluded Mr. Bryan stepped forward. The crowd caught sight of him for the first time and there was a storm of cheering.

Bryan Asks Quiet; Cheers Keep Up.

Mr. Bryan shook his head, held up his hand, and made other attempts to quell the outburst. This failing, the band began to play. Mr. Bryan sat down, fanning himself nervously with a big palm leaf.

The band stopped and Mr. Bryan pleaded for quiet. The cheering continued, however, for two minutes, the galleries being the last to subside.

"Gentlemen of the convention: I rise to place in nomination for temporary chairman of this convention the name of the Hon. John W. Kern of Indiana."

A cheer greeted the announcement. Mr. Bryan again appealed for quiet.

"And in thus dissenting from the judgment of our national committee," he continued, "I recognize that the burden of proof is on me to overthrow the assumption of the committee that it is representing in this instance the wishes of the party and the country.

"If that is not proof that I have the confidence of the Democrats of this nation, I shall not attempt to produce proof."

A cheer interrupted.

"I call your attention to the fact that our rules provide that the committee's recommendation is not final. The fact that the convention has the right to accept or reject that recommendation is a higher consideration than that of the wisdom of the committee.

Tells of His Credentials.

"If any of you ask for my credentials, if you inquire why I, a mere delegate from one of the smaller states, should present a name and ask you to accept it, I beg to tell you that in three campaigns I have been the champion of the Democratic party's principles and have received the votes of 6,000,000 Democrats.

"I remind you that confidence reposed in a human being carries with it certain responsibilities."

Mr. Bryan said he would not deserve this confidence if he were not willing to meet defeat and humiliation in its defense.

"I recognize that a man cannot carry on a political warfare in defense of the people for twenty years without making enemies, and I recognize that those enemies have been active every moment, and are active now.

"The fact that I have lived is proof that I have not deserted the people. If I had forgotten them they would not have remembered me.

Quotes Andrew Jackson.

"I take for my text this morning the text the committee has been kind enough to put on the walls for me."

He then quoted the big banner on the wall, which under a picture of Andrew Jackson, read:

"He never sold the Truth to serve the Hour."

"That is the language of the hero of Monticello. I would not be worthy of the support I have received if I were willing to 'Sell the truth for the hour' at that time."

The delegates smiled at the reference to "Monticello," for the quotation was not from Jefferson, but from Jackson.

"Let me free myself from any criticism that any one may have made or may attempt to make hereafter.

"Is there any other delegate in this convention of over 1,000 who tried earlier than I to secure harmony in this convention?

Growth of His Policies.

"At the end of sixteen years of battle," continued Mr. Bryan, "I find the things I have fought for triumphant, not only in my own party, but in the Republican party as well."

This sally was met with applause.

Mr. Bryan said he clearly was entitled to the privilege of speaking and rejoicing with his party. He said he had been more anxious for harmony than for the opportunity to address the convention.

"In the discussion before the subcommittee the friends of Mr. Clark and Mr. Wilson were unable to agree on a candidate."

But Bryan said that later the two factions agreed to support James. This, he said, was his plan, to have the two presidential candidates controlling nearly two-thirds of the delegates agree on a man for temporary chairman.

"But this the national committee refused to do," he shouted, and he was given a cheer.

"I submit to you that the plan that I presented and favored was a plan for securing harmony; the plan the committee favored was not designed to secure harmony.

Epoch Making Convention.

"This is no ordinary occasion; this is an epoch making convention. It has been a fight, requiring courage and sacrifice. I know men in humble walks of life risking their positions with big railroad corporations to assist us in this fight for progressive principles.

"I have known men engaged in business and carrying loans at banks who have been threatened with bankruptcy; yet they have defied the bosses and walked up beside the masses to oppose the forces of predatory wealth.

"I have seen lawyers take their future in their hands, to oppose the vile influences of the time.

"I have seen this struggle go on. I have seen men who never made a speech before go out and spend weeks of their time in public speaking in behalf of the cause. Now the song of victory should be sung by one who has borne the burden of the fight."

Another cheer interrupted.

Pays Tribute to Kern.

"John W. Kern has been faithful every day of that sixteen years. It has cost him time, money and the wear of body and mind. He has been free with all he had. Four years ago it was John W. Kern who stood by me and helped me take the Democratic stronghold. He helped me uphold the policy of publicity of campaign contributions which has now swept the country.

"It was John W. Kern who stood with me on that Denver platform, which demanded the election of senators by direct vote of the people. Now he is in the senate, where he can show the American people how big an American senator should be.

"He helped in the fight for that amendment authorizing an income tax and he has lived to see the president who was opposed to it take that plank out of our platform and make two houses of congress and thirty-four states pass it.

"And now he is leading a fight in the United States senate to purge that body of Lorimer. What better man could we have to open a convention?"

Parker Men Interrupt.

"Parker! Parker!" interrupted a number of delegates, and the call swept the armory.

"I repeat, what better man could we find——"

"Parker! Parker!" broke out the delegates.

Mr. Bryan stopped for a moment.

"What better man could we find to represent the militant spirit of Democracy?"

Chairman Mack pounded loudly for order and got it.

"When I now contrast," continued Bryan, when quiet was secured, "the candidate presented by the committee I can do it without impeaching his character or his good intent. But not every man of good character and good intent is worthy to sound the keynote of a progressive convention.

"There are 7,000,000 Republicans in this country, or were at the last election, and I have never doubted most of them were men of high character and good intent, but we would not invite any of them to be temporary chairman of our convention."

Says Wall Street Threw Party Down.

"My friends," continued Mr. Bryan, "if this candidate selected by the committee were an unknown man we would judge him by the forces that are back of him, and not by you gentlemen who may try to convince yourselves that you owe it to the committee to sustain its action even though you believe it a mistake.

"That, my friends, is not the question. We know who the candidate is as well as the men behind him. We know that he is the man chosen eight years ago when the Democratic party, beaten in two campaigns, decided that it was worth while to try and win a campaign under the leadership of those who had defeated us in the campaign before. (Applause).

"The country has not forgotten that that convention was influenced to its act by the promise of large campaign funds from Wall street and they have not forgotten the fact that after the corporation management had alienated the rank and file of the party, Wall street threw the party down and elected the other man. [Great applause.]

Backed by Same Influence.

"They have not forgotten that when the vote was counted we had a million and a quarter less votes than we had in the two campaigns before and a million and a quarter less than we did the campaign four years afterward. They have not forgotten that it

Parker's "Keynote" Speech Contains Bitter Attack on Republican Rule.

MR. CHAIRMAN, and gentlemen of the convention: Last week in Chicago there met a great party, the purpose of which was to save the party from destruction; here in this city the Democratic party meets for the purpose of helping the country. In that convention, inside of it and outside of it, there was heard the words of 'liar,' 'thief,' 'robber,' 'corruptionist,' 'briber,' but no such words will be uttered in this Democratic convention.

"We have had a little difference here today, a question of men, but, my fellow citizens, there was nothing said on that occasion by any of the principal debaters that was at all severe or intended to be unkind.

"If for a moment I thought that the chief speaker was a little bit harsh, I remembered, on the other hand, those three magnificent struggles that he had made for the Democratic party in this country. I realize that this meant much to him, and that if he was mistaken with reference to my position, as I believe he was, that it was my duty to forgive it and to stand with him in this convention.

Tells Need of Bryan.

"My fellow Democrats, there is one place in this convention that he is wanted, one place where he is capable of rendering great service, service unsurpassed by any one, and that is the chairman of the resolutions committee, and I hope and believe that every member of the resolutions committee will honor himself by casting his vote for that great leader for chairman of that committee.

"My fellow citizens, there are no reactionaries; whatever they may have been once, there are none now. The Democrats are progressive. Now it may possibly be true that here in this great convention, with all these able men coming from every section of the country, I say it may be true that all of you will not be able to agree at once that a single highway constitutes the only road to progress; but you will all agree upon this one proposition, that the voice of the majority of this convention, speaking through its committee on resolutions, and by the adoption of the committee's report by the convention, shall speak the will of every Democrat in this land.

Republican Brawl "Shameful."

"We meet while the hills yet echo to the cries of liar, thief, and traitor, and furious wails of fraud, bribery, treachery, and corruption; and our ears are weary with the din of the articulate shrieking and passionate vilification of the most shameful brawl of our political history.

"Our candidates, however, are men of such lofty mien that we meet immune from the distemper which seized the Chicago convention, and privileged to discharge a solemn public duty calmly, deliberately, seriously.

"The cause of government by the people the world over has been materially checked by the disgraceful brawl which terminated in the bedlam of Chicago. Every good citizen has been put to shame by the brutality and the abuse which characterized this wrangle between a president and an ex-president.

"The assault upon the unwritten prohibition against a third term made in the wild scramble for the Republican nomination warns us of the vital necessity of incorporating in our constitution a safeguard against repeated terms. The danger seemed to have passed with the establishment of a precedent by Washington, Jefferson, and their successors.

Sees Change in Position.

"The man who split his party at Chicago once recognized the third term tradition and acknowledged its application to his situation. On the eve of his triumph in 1904 he said: 'The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination.' Wrong in this year of grace, he was right in that.

"Would the man who threw his hat in the ring and sought to slug his opponent over the ropes in his fight for a third term rest satisfied with its achievement? Clearly his lust of power would have brooked no such limitation. A third term would but have whetted his desire for more, and as the terms slipped away each renewal would discover greater injury to our constitution, to the form of government established under it, and to every legal curb on his imperious will.

"This is the man who menaced us with an increase of federal power by usurpation of state rights, and without authority of constitutional amendment; the man who took the isthmus of Panama 'and let congress debate about it afterwards'; the man who, having enough money to send the fleet on its famous cruise to the Pacific, sent it without sanction of congress, leaving it to appropriate the money for the return when congress deemed that necessary. This is the man who advocated federal incorporation for the increase of power at Washington and the lightening of legal burdens on the corporations; the man who authorized the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the steel trust; the man who has sought to batter down our statutory and constitutional safeguards.

Tariff Raises Living Cost.

"In this great country, which boasts of a wealth of $130,000,000,000, as against $80,000,000,000 for Great Britain and Ireland, $65,000,000,000 for France and $60,000,000,000 for Germany, all are conscious that too large a part of our wealth has been secured by a small percentage of our population and that the cost of living rises faster than the average income.

"The principal cause of all this is to be found in the tariff statutes, and in the combinations restraining trade and competition, created for the purpose of wringing from the public every dollar which the tariff statutes make possible.

"The average of duties under the tariff of 1789 was 8½ per cent. Now the average is 50 per cent. In 1842 the average was 32 per cent. In 1846 it was reduced to 25 per cent, which worked so well that a reduction to an average of 20 per cent followed in 1857.

"Probably it would never have been again increased but for the war. Protected interests benefited by two increases during the war, the first to an average of 37½ per cent, the second to 47 per cent. That high average, then excused only by the exigencies of the war, is exceeded now, as the average is nearly 50 per cent.

Republican Pledge Not Kept.

"An awakening of the people led the Republican national convention of 1908 to promise a revision. In vain did the people demand of congress the fulfillment of the Republican pledge, for the masters of that party—the protected interests—insisted upon the pound of flesh nominated in the bond. And it was yielded. Congress passed and the president signed the Payne-Aldrich bill.

"One outcome of this breach of faith was a Democratic house, which has acted so wisely and courageously as to arouse the enthusiasm of the people and inspire the Democratic party with justifiable hope of early opportunity to render a public service sorely needed.

"Under Democratic leadership special bills have been passed having for their purpose a revision of the tariff downward, ultimately to a revenue basis. These bills are known as 'free list, wool, cotton, metals, chemicals, sugar and excise.' The president's use of the veto power has postponed, however, the hour when the people shall enter into the enjoyment of the relief proposed.

Regrets Defeat of Reciprocity.

"The temporary failure, owing to the action of the electorate of Canada, of the effort to effectuate reciprocity with that country, is regrettable. In all probability, however, the sober second thought of the people of Canada will induce reconsideration of the action of last year.

"For the ills that flow from that tariff increase from an average of 20 per cent to 50, the Republican party is responsible. For the continuance of that rate against the efforts of a Democratic congress, a Republican president is to blame. It is evident, therefore, that relief can come only through the election of a Democratic president and congress.

"During all these years of enforced levies upon the many for the benefit of the few it has been demonstrated that the tariff is, as accurately described by a trust magnate, 'the fruitful mother of trusts.'

Says Opponents Aided Trusts.

"Mr. Taft said in a speech in 1908 that during the preceding ten years nine-tenths of the combinations to restrain trade had come into existence. During nearly all that time the Republican party was in control of every northern, eastern, and western state, as well as of the federal government. Little was done by the party in power to retard the weedy growth and that little feebly. The prevention of combinations would have protected all the people and harmed none. The process of destruction punishes the innocent investors as well as the guilty organizers."

"The reason for the inactivity of the Republican officials is plain. The tariff beneficiaries were contributors to campaign funds of the party, which in turn protected the special privileges enjoyed by the donors.

"The same party which shut out foreign competition was found willing to permit the formation of combinations which effectually banished home competition. The common law on the subject and the Sherman act were treated by Republican officials as repealed by implication. Need it be said that the protected interests, for these larger privileges, made large contributions?

Calls Roosevelt Trust Aid.

"We are indebted to the president for the evidence that his predecessor restrained his attorney general from bringing suit against the Harvester combination. For the steel corporation he went further, for he wrote his attorney general in advance of its absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company that he had decided 'to interpose no objection.'

"He apparently stood ready to perform similar kindly offices for all corporations, for he advocated the passage of a statute permitting voluntary submission of all engaged in interstate commerce to federal authority with the advantage to them of immunity from prosecution because of contracts made if stamped in advance with executive approval as reasonable.

"The effect of these and similar acts induced the result which Senator La Follette referred to in a recent speech in these words:

"'When Roosevelt became president the total amount of the stock and bond issues of all combinations and trusts, including the railways then in combination, was only $3,784,000,000. When he turned the country over to Taft, whom he selected as his successor, the total capitalization of the trusts and combinations amounted to the enormous sum of $31,672,000,000, more than 70 per cent of which was water.'

Tells Power of Interests.

"Not until the special session of congress in 1909, however, did the people appreciate that the protected interests held the Republican congress with such an iron grip that congress would repudiate the pledge of its party to revise the tariff.

"It is true, however, that many have not discovered that the real power that chained the party to the interests was money contributed to help on campaigns, and that, worse still, a large part of the money obtained was wrung from the trusts through organized importunity.

"On occasion even a president has been known to solicit the financial assistance of a great railroad leader. Several letters failing to produce the sheep for the shearing, another was addressed to 'My Dear Mr. Harriman,' saying:

"'Now, my dear sir, you and I are practical men, and you are on the ground and know the conditions better than I do. If you think there is any danger of your visit to me causing trouble, or if you think there is nothing special I need to be informed about, or no matter on which I could give aid, why, of course, give up the visit for the time being, and then, a few weeks hence, before I write my message I shall get you to come down to discuss certain government matters not connected with the campaign."

Says Harriman Took Hint.

"Mr. Harriman read between the lines of that letter, hurried to Washington, hurried back, and promptly raised the quarter of a million demanded, with $10,000 over for good measure.

"Like the hypocrites of old, who loved to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, who prated of their virtues and gave thanks that they were not as other men, so have these corrupt leaders covered their vile misdeeds with hypocritical professions of righteousness.

"It is not the wild, cruel methods of revolution and violence that are needed to correct the abuses incident to our government. Neither material nor moral progress lies that way. If we are to preserve the heritage bequeathed us, we shall need all the powers that the school, the church, the court, the deliberative assembly, and the quiet thought of our people can bring to bear.

Cites Faults of Republicans.

"For their crimes against American citizenship the present leaders of the Republican party should be destroyed.

"For making and keeping the bargain to take care of the tariff protected interests, in consideration of campaign funds, they should be destroyed.

"For encouraging the creation of combination to restrain trade and refusing to enforce the law they should be destroyed.

"For the lavish waste of the public funds, for the fraudulent disposition of the people's domain, and for their contribution toward the division of the people into classes they should be destroyed.

"For the efforts to seize for the executive department of the federal government powers rightfully belonging to the states they should be destroyed.

"All destruction will be theirs this very year if we but do our duty."

favored was not designed to secure harmony.

Epoch Making Convention.

"This is no ordinary occasion; this is an epoch making convention. It has been a hard fight, requiring courage and sacrifice. I know men in humble walks of life risking their positions with big railroad corporations to assist us in this fight for progressive principles.

"I have known men engaged in business and carrying loans at banks who have been threatened with bankruptcy; yet they have defied the bosses and walked up beside the masses to oppose the forces of predatory wealth.

"I have seen lawyers take their future in their hands, to oppose the vile influences of the time.

"I have seen this struggle go on. I've seen men who never made a speech before go out and spend weeks of their time in public speaking in behalf of the cause. Now the song of victory should be sung by one who has borne the burden of the fight."

Another cheer interrupted.

Pays Tribute to Kern.

"John W. Kern has been faithful every day of that sixteen years. It has cost him time, money and the wear of body and mind. He has been free with all he had. Four years ago it was John W. Kern who stood by me and helped me take the last stronghold. He helped me uphold the policy of publicity of campaign contributions, which has now swept the country.

"It was John W. Kern who stood with me on that Denver platform, which demanded the election of senators by direct vote of the people. Now he is in the senate, where he can show the American people how big an American senator should be.

"He helped in the fight for that amendment authorizing an income tax and he has lived to see the president who was opposed to it take that plank out of our platform and make two houses of congress and thirty-four states pass it.

"And now he is leading a fight in the United States senate to purge that body of primer. What better man could we have to open a convention?"

Parker Men Interrupt.

"Parker! Parker!" interrupted a number of delegates, and the call swept the armory.

"I repeat, what better man could we find—"

"Parker! Parker!" broke out the delegates.

Mr. Bryan stopped for a moment.

"What better man could we find to represent the militant spirit of Democracy?" Chairman Mack pounded loudly for order and got it.

"When I now contrast," continued Bryan, when quiet was secured, "the candidate presented by the committee I can do it without impeaching his character or his good sense. But not every man of good character and good intent is worthy to sound the keynote of a progressive convention.

"There are 7,000,000 Republicans in this country, or were at the last election, and I have never doubted most of them were men of high character and good intent, but I would not invite any of them to be temporary chairman of our convention."

Says Wall Street Threw Party Down.

"My friends," continued Mr. Bryan, "if the candidate selected by the committee is an unknown man we would judge him by the forces that are back of him, and not let you gentlemen who may try to convince yourselves that you owe it to the committee to sustain its action even though you believe it a mistake.

"That, my friends, is not the question. We know who the candidate is as well as the men behind him. We know that as the man chosen eight years ago when the Democratic party, beaten in two campaigns, decided that it was worth while to try and win a campaign under the leadership of those who had defeated us in the campaign before. (Applause).

"The country has not forgotten that that convention was influenced to its act by the promise of large campaign funds from Wall street and they have not forgotten the fact that after the corporation management had alienated the rank and file of the party, Wall street threw the party down and elected a Republican.

"They have not forgotten that when the vote was counted we had 1,250,000 less votes than in the second campaign before, and 1,250,000 less than in the next campaign.

"They have not forgotten that it is the same man, backed by the same influences who is to be forced on a progressive party, to open a progressive campaign."

While Mr. Bryan was speaking Thomas F. Ryan was sitting on the convention floor.

"You ask me why I know that speech would not be satisfactory when I have not read it," said Mr. Bryan. "I tell you it is the man, not the words, that make the speech."

Here a roar of groans and cheers again interrupted.

"We have been passing through a great educational age, and the Democratic movement has been sweeping all before it around the world," Mr. Bryan added.

Democratic Spirit Growing.

Here he referred to recent events in Russia, Persia, Turkey, and China as proving the advance of the democratic spirit throughout the world.

"And," he said, "while the outside world has been marching double quick toward greater freedom, our beloved nation has been keeping step and popular government has grown apace.

"The man whom I present has been the leader of the progressive cause in his state and once joint leader in the nation. I challenge you to show where anywhere in his history the man presented by the committee has gone out to aid the party before a convention.

"Now, this is the situation: The Democratic party has been the leader—"

Mr. Bryan was interrupted again with cries of "Parker." Chairman Mack pounded for order.

"The Democratic party," Mr. Bryan continued, "has led this fight until it has stimulated the Republican hosts to go and do likewise and at last appear willing to trust the people with control of their own government.

"I repeat, we have been traveling in the wilderness. We now come in sight of the promised land. During all the many hours of darkness progressive Democracy has been the people's pillar of fire by night. I pray you, delegates, now that dawn of day has come, do not rob the people of the right to have our party as their pillar of cloud by day."

This brought the Bryan sympathizers to their feet and Mr. Bryan let it stand as his concluding words.

Speech by Senator Kern.

Senator Kern followed Mr. Bryan to the front of the platform. It was said he would decline the nomination and urge Mr. Bryan in his place.

"I must state my reason for not desiring to enter the contest for temporary chairman of this convention," began Senator Kern. "I believe that in my forty years of service to the party I have gained the right to a hearing before this convention. I hail from the state of Indiana, which will soon place before this convention the name of Gov. Thomas R. Marshall as a candidate for president.

"I desire to take no part in this convention that would militate against his interests. I have been for many years a friend of Mr. Parker. Many years ago we met in a hotel in Europe and became warm personal friends. From that time on I have enjoyed his friendship and he has had mine.

"Eight years ago I enlisted under his banner for the nomination, influenced largely on account of my friendship. I believe Mr. Parker is as earnestly desirous of Democratic success this year as I am."

Makes Plea for Harmony.

All Democrats, he said, desired harmony that victory might be attained.

"I appeal for that kind of harmony," he continued, "that will bring victory.

Mr. Kern appealed to Mr. Parker to join him in urging some man like Senator James A. O'Gorman as the compromise candidate. He declared the discord would cease if Mr. Parker and his associates would agree on any one of the following, in addition to Senator O'Gorman: Senator Culberson of Texas, Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee, Representative Clayton of Alabama, Former Gov. James E. Campbell of Ohio, and Former Gov. Folk of Missouri.

Senator Kern made his challenge to the New York delegation direct.

It was a remarkable scene and took the convention entirely by surprise. Mr. Parker was seen in animated conversation with his colleagues. He said to anxious inquirers that Representative Fitzgerald of New York soon would speak for him.

In the meantime the convention was in wild disorder. Senator Kern still held the floor as Chairman Mack pounded for order.

Gives Warning to Delegates.

Senator Kern took the delegates to task for deriding Mr. Bryan. He said he could be killed, but it would not be homicide.

"It would be suicide," he added. "It would bring shame and sorrow to 6,000,000 people in this land."

"I have made my appeal," said Mr. Kern. "What is my response? If there is no response let the responsibility rest where it should. If this is to be a contest between the people and the powers I am not fit to be its leader. If my proposition is to be ignored there is only one man fit to lead the hosts of progress. That man has been at the forefront for sixteen years—William Jennings Bryan.

"If you must have fight, then the leader must be worthy of the cause; that leader must be Mr. Bryan."

Senator Kern sat down amid cheers and jeering, and Mr. Bryan again arose.

Mr. Bryan said he tried to get the convention to agree on a progressive. He said he urged Senator Elect James to be the leader in the fight, but he could not consent. He went next to Senator O'Gorman, and then at last he appealed to Senator Kern.

"I stand ready to support any progressive who will lead," he added, "but if no other progressive appears I shall accept the leadership, and let you express through me your advocacy or opposition to the principles we have fought for sixteen years."

Speech by Theodore Bell.

Theodore Bell of California took the platform as Bryan returned to his seat.

"I stand in Baltimore for the same kind of Democracy for which I stood in Denver four years ago," declared Bell. "I should not have presided over that convention if my Democracy had not received the approval of the distinguished gentleman from Nebraska."

In the present fight, he said, it was with keen regret that he could not support either Mr. Bryan or Mr. Kern, but would cast his vote in favor of Alton B. Parker.

This called out a demonstration from the anti-Bryan forces. It was of short duration, however, and Mr. Bell continued. He said he did not believe there was any sinister influences at work behind Parker. Many loyal friends of Mr. Bryan would vote for Parker.

"Their votes will be cast," he said, "in the belief that Mr. Parker's Democracy in the past—"

Shouts of "Bryan! Bryan!" interrupted the speaker. They came largely from the galleries. Sergeant-at-Arms Martin appealed for order, threatening to clear the galleries. For a long time his efforts were vain.

Disorder Delays Speech.

Quiet was restored at last, and Mr. Bell asserted that Mr. Parker's Democracy had withstood the severest tests to which any man's Democracy could be subjected and had received the approval of Mr. Bryan in 1904.

Again the disorder broke out in the galleries and was quelled with difficulty. When Mr. Bell attempted to proceed the cries of "Bryan!" broke out afresh. He could hardly utter two words without an interruption, but stuck to his task.

Mr. Bell said there was no question but the convention would adopt a progressive platform as expressive of its sincere beliefs. He continued:

"When Parker has presided over this convention—"

A shout of "No, no," interrupted, and again the cries of "Bryan! Bryan!" led a series of cheers. A Pennsylvania delegate demanded that order be enforced in the galleries.

Bell again suspended, and for several minutes Chairman Mack pounded with his gavel. Finally quiet was restored to allow Bell to deliver a brief conclusion.

"I am convinced," he said, "that the American people in the fall will ratify the election of Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman of this convention."

Drown Out Fitzgerald Speech.

While Bell was concluding Representative Fitzgerald, spokesman for the New York delegation, made his way to the platform. He was recognized by the chair as Mr. Bell sat down.

"He's a Cannon man from New York," shouted a delegate at Fitzgerald.

It was a long time before Mr. Fitzgerald could proceed. As he addressed the convention the disorder spread to all parts of the hall, except the delegate section. A chorus from the rear of the hall drowned out Fitzgerald's intended eulogy of Parker, with renewed cries of:

"Oh, you Cannon! Cannon Democrat!"

Chairman Mack threatened to clear the galleries unless the speakers were accorded attention, but the noise continued.

"This convention will adjourn at once, unless we have order," announced Sergeant at Arms Martin, but even that threat failed to quiet the tumult.

Mr. Fitzgerald said Mr. Parker did not seek the distinction of presiding over the convention and therefore would not withdraw.

"New York," he concluded, "will loyally abide by the decision of the convention."

With this statement Mr. Fitzgerald returned to the floor.

Bryan Demands Full Hearing.

A squad of policemen was brought in and the aisles were cleared. The galleries seemed beyond all control. While the demonstration was on Chairman Mack announced that the roll would be called.

"We protest against that," shouted a Bryan supporter. "We'll have no gang rule here, as they had at Chicago."

Mack was preparing to enforce his order when Bryan burst through the crowd behind the stage. With sweat streaming from his face and set jaws, he leaped to the front of the stage. For a few minutes the hall was swept by even wilder disorder.

"I rise to a point of order," said Mr. Bryan when he could make himself heard. "Our conventions are governed by rules. The chairman announced that the roll would be called while persons were standing and seeking recognition. As no limitation has been placed on the debate the chairman has no right under the rules to close it."

Senator Lea moved that debate be limited to fifteen minutes on a side. Chairman Mack declared the motion carried.

Cone Johnson of Texas rose to make a speech for Bryan.

"All I know," he said, "is that the fight is on; that Bryan is on one side and Wall street on the other."

An outburst of cheering greeted this statement, and Johnson concluded with the words:

"God bless you all for your decorum."

There were no more speakers, and the roll was then called.

Unanimous Despite Shouts of "No!"

The balloting then began, but before an official announcement of the result could be made, Senator Lea, representing the Bryan interests, moved that inasmuch as Mr. Parker had received 579 votes to 510 for Bryan, the nomination be made unanimous.

There were some shouts of no, but Chairman Mack declared the motion had been carried.

Senator Stone of Missouri, Senator Lea, and Judge Hudspeth of New Jersey were named to escort Parker to the chair.

A round of cheers greeted the newly elected chairman as he climbed the steps to the platform. National Chairman Mack confined himself to the mere introduction:

"Judge Parker, temporary chairman."

Gradually the hall was quieted and Parker began his keynote speech.

Mr. Parker started to read his speech, but was interrupted at the beginning by the greatest confusion. Thousands of persons in the gallery, content with having witnessed the big fight, started to leave the hall. Many of the delegates began to move about on the floor.

The confusion was such that Representative Fitzgerald put a motion to recess until 8 p. m., basing it on the ground that the delegates "were tired out." The motion was carried.

Confusion at Night Session.

Only a scattering attendance appeared in the galleries at 8 o'clock, the hour set for convening the convention.

The delegates began to crowd in about 8:20 and in a few minutes the aisles were in confusion. The sergeants at arms tried in vain to get the delegates seated. Many of them waited to visit and converse and they thought the aisles the proper place to do it. Finally four policemen were placed in each aisle to keep the crowd moving.

At 8:25 Chairman Mack dropped his gavel and the night session was on. The Rev. W. M. Dame of Baltimore then delivered the prayer. In conclusion the Rev. Mr. Dame led the assembly in the Lord's prayer.

"The congregation will join in the Lord's prayer," he said, and the "congregation" really did. A murmur that grew louder and more confident as the familiar words went on swept the big hall, and the whispered "amen" was full throated and loud.

Parker Resumes Speech.

Mr. Mack introduced again Mr. Parker, and the temporary chairman resumed the speech which this afternoon was interrupted.

In opening Mr. Parker commented on the Republican convention at Chicago, where, he said, the words "liar," "corruptionists," "traitor," "thief," were freely used.

"We will have nothing like that in this convention," he said. "We had a little difference here this afternoon, but there was nothing said by any one in that difference that was intended to be severe. If I thought that the chief speaker today was a little bit harsh, I remembered the three great struggles he made for the Democratic party in this country."

A burst of applause and a shout of "Bryan, Bryan," interrupted the speaker.

"I realize that this meant much to him," continued Mr. Parker, "and if he was mistaken in regard to my position, I believe it is your duty and mine to forgive it, and to stand with him.

Suggests Bryan on Resolutions.

"There is one place where he is wanted, where he is capable of rendering great service. That is the chairmanship of the resolutions committee. I hope and believe that every member of that committee will honor himself by casting his vote for Mr. Bryan for chairman."

Parker concluded at 9:13 and was given a round of applause. Before the applause had died away the routine proceedings were gotten under way.

A resolution introduced by Joseph E. Bell of Indiana provided that the rules of the last Democratic convention should govern this year's convention.

The resolution went through under the gavel.

After a short argument, it was decided to have the committees meet immediately after adjournment tonight.

An attempt to adjourn the convention until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon failed, and at 9:34 an adjournment was had until noon tomorrow.

The delegates hurried away from the convention hall. William J. Bryan did not appear at the night session.

the same man backed by the same influence that is to be forced on this convention to open a progressive campaign with a paralyzing speech that will dishearten every man. [Applause.]

"You ask me how I know that that speech would not be satisfactory without reading it. Let me tell you, the speech is not so many words, it is the man and not the words to make a speech.

"My friends, we have had time that enabled us— Mr. Bryan was interrupted by yells from the audience.] We have been passing through a great educational age and the Democratic movement has been sweeping all obstacles before it around the world.

World Spread of Progress.

"In Russia, emancipated serfs have secured the right to a voice in their government. In Persia a people have secured a constitution. In Turkey the man who was in danger every hour of being cast into prison without an indictment or beheaded without a charge against him, now has some influence in the making of the laws.

"And China, the sleeping giant of the orient, has risen from a slumber of 2,000 years and today is a republic waiting for recognition. [Yells.]

"And while the outside world has been marching at double quick in the direction of more complete freedom, our nation has kept step, and on no other part of God's footstool has popular government grown more rapidly than now.

"In every state the fight has been waged. The man whom I present has been the leader of the progressive cause in his state and once joint leader in the nation. I challenge you to find in sixteen years where the candidate presented by the committee has, before an election, gone out and rendered effective service in behalf of any man who was fighting the people's cause against plutocracy."

Cheers and cries of O!" mingled throughout the hall.

Some Members Oppose Party.

"We have a great many Democrats who vote the ticket, but are not in sympathy with the purposes of the party."

Mr. Bryan said he spoke for Parker in 1904, but was not in sympathy with the candidate or the men who stood behind his nomination. Again there came an interruption and cries of "Parker!"

"And I assume that no friend of Mr. Parker will contend that he was satisfied in 1908 with all the candidates or all the plans and purposes of our platform. This is no time for a campaign of pleasant words and sweet phrases."

"We are writing history today," continued Mr. Bryan, "and this convention is to announce to the country whether this convention is to take up the challenge thrown down at Chicago by a convention controlled by predatory wealth, or answer it by ourselves, submitting to predatory wealth, and give the country no party."

Applause again interrupted him.

"We need not deceive ourselves that that which is done in a national convention is done in secrecy. And the delegates of this convention must not presume upon the ignorance of the people who didn't come because they hadn't influence enough to be elected delegates or money enough to pay their expenses.

Warns of Interests' Power.

"These people well know that the influences that dominated the Chicago convention and made it a farce are here and more brazenly at work than they were at Chicago.

"I appeal to you, let the beginning of this convention be such that Democrats can raise up their heads amongst their fellows and say: 'The Democratic party is unafraid. You cannot frighten it with your Ryans nor buy it with your Belmonts.'"

Here a roar of cheers broke from the delegates and galleries. Hats were swung in the air and the cheers swept toward the stage. But the demonstration was short and Bryan continued.

"My friends," he said, "if the candidate of the committee were an unknown man, we would judge him by the forces that are back of him. We know who the candidate is. We know he is the man chosen eight years ago when the party, beaten for eight years, thought it might be well to try to win with those who had defeated us in the two previous campaigns."

Recalls Experience of 1908.

"The country," Bryan continued, "has not forgotten that that convention was influenced in its action by promises of large campaign funds from Wall street, and they have not forgotten the fact that after a corporation managememnt of the campaign had alienated the rank and file of the party Wall street threw the party down and elected a Republican.

"They have not forgotten that when the vote was counted we had 1,250,000 less votes than in the second campaign before, and 1,250,000 less than in the next campaign.

"They have not forgotten that it is the same man, backed by the same influences who is to be forced on a progressive party, to open a progressive campaign."

While Mr. Bryan was speaking Thomas F. Ryan was sitting on the convention floor.

"You ask me why I know that speech would not be satisfactory when I have not read it," said Mr. Bryan. "I tell you it is the man, not the words, that make the speech."

Here a roar of groans and cheers again interrupted.

"We have been passing through a great educational age, and the Democratic movement has been sweeping all before it around the world," Mr. Bryan added.

Mr. Bryan was interrupted again with cries

The County Chairman

Sees an Old Favorite with an Old Specialty, but a New Finish.

By George Ade.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25, 1912, 5 P. M.

Vance Jimmison,
Antioch, Indiana.

My dear Vance:

A LITTLE while ago I crawled through the crowd and escaped into the rain because I didn't have the heart to sit there and see my old friend get it where it was evident that he was going to get it.

This evening he is our spearless leader. They took his jabber away from him today. Of course they haven't done any rough mutilating, and some of those who smote him explained, as they delivered each punch, that they were striking more in sorrow than in anger. Nevertheless and notwithstanding, the foxy stage managers who are trying to direct this entertainment think they have served an effective notice on him that he is not to be the ringmaster. He is merely among those present.

That is how it looks to a man in the gallery. But they will have to come around and see him before they get the needed two-thirds.

When I sat there today and watched William Jennings make that stubborn and losing fight for the selection of a really and truly progressive to play the first solo on the program, I couldn't help but notice that the old boy has changed some since he pulled that skyrocket sensation of 1896. Of course, sixteen years will change anybody except Uncle Joe Cannon.

Col. Bryan hasn't got the ginger that he had years ago. He weighs more and looks more mature and filled out and kind of ripened into a sedate middle age. Today he had no carefully prepared speech and he had no such audience or subject as he had back in 1896, when he faced the temporary maniacs who were in full sympathy with him.

He made a cracking good speech and once or twice he struck concert pitch and let out a bugle blast that promised a grand rally and a successful charge under the same old gallant leadership. But after it was all over it was evident even to the most lunk headed spectator who sat on the high shelf and interrupted the speakers, that he hadn't effected even a semblance of a stampede.

The whole show today was so much like Chicago that we had to rub our eyes and pinch ourselves to make sure that we were not having a nightmare and reviewing the horrible family squabbles of last week. Once more a fight started at the very drop of the hat because the former leader of the party objected to a certain haughty New Yorker acting as master of ceremonies. Once more a scrappy minority raised the cry, "Give us a real progressive or give us death."

Once more a pitiless majority, carefully rehearsed by certain wise lads sitting back of the scenes, went through their part of the exercises without batting an eye.

Of course, the fact that William J. was turned down today does not mean that the convention is going to be anything but "progressive." This convention is getting ready to issue some large circus posters to the effect that the Democratic party is giving the only genuine, three ringed, progressive circus now on the road, and to beware of shabby imitations.

Do you know, Vance, I had a dream last night. I dreamt that this convention went ahead and named a kind of compromise ticket, without consulting Messrs. Bryan and Wilson. I dreamt further that the platform looked progressive and sounded progressive, but it wasn't sufficiently fireproof and copper riveted to suit the good old bunch that knows we are about to be enslaved by Wall street.

I dreamt that about six of the recognized Democratic leaders in the convention this week went home bitterly disappointed and refusing to follow the compromise leader put over them. My dream shifted to Oyster Bay, and I saw them sitting on the veranda talking to the colonel. Again the scene changed, and I found them present at the convention in Chicago early in August. If this doesn't go through, I am ready to take refuge in the fact that it was only a dream.

The day dawned showery and overcast. I arose early and helped the Oklahoma alternate escape from the depression of the cot into which he had settled during the night. As we are just on the border line between hot biscuit and cold bread, we enjoyed some fresh breakfast rolls, prepared by the widow lady, and braced ourselves for an arduous day by taking the second cup of coffee.

We are living in the shadow of the old Washington monument, which is very high, and massive, and white, and has big, stately trees around. We came out upon a pleasant prospect this morning, for the sun had just broken through the clouds, the leaves were glistening wet, and the straight avenue leading down toward the towering gray mass of the Belvidere hotel was all washed and clean and cool for our triumphal march toward the arena where William J. was about to be offered up as a blood sacrifice to the wild animals of the stock exchange.

The more we see of this town the better we like it as a cheerful and picturesque background for a big spectacle of this kind. This morning all the brick sidewalks were moderately swarming with what seemed to be a happy picnic crowd.

As we strolled along under the festoons of bunting we had to acknowledge ourselves pleased with many of the changes from Chicago. Ivy was creeping over the front of nearly every house, and flowers were spilling out of all the windows. We are out here in the tidy part of an old and settled down community, surrounded by suggestions of good behavior and nice eastern civilization, and I really believe our environment has a repressing effect on the wild and woolly boys from the west, except when they get into the convention hall.

In Chicago the colored brother had a front seat in the convention and settled all of the questions that came up last week. Down here in Baltimore, the colored brother is busy with a stiff brush, cleaning the marble stairway in front of each house. All the marble entrances looked perfectly clean when we arrived yesterday, but they were being rubbed up again this morning.

On my way to the Belvidere, to get the morning war bulletins from the national committee, we ran into a brass band followed by a crowd of Democrats from Pennsylvania. I stood aside and watched these heroes go by, each man wearing on his hat one of those "Win With Wilson" labels. I saluted them respectfully. A Pennsylvania Democrat has all the moral grandeur of a Louisiana Republican, plus the credit accruing to one who does not expect to hold office.

We found the usual hurly-burly of elbowing and jostling visitors all in and around the Belvidere. About the most fruitless occupation in the world is trying to get any definite inspiration or reliable facts out of one of these hotel jams, so we passed up the Belvidere and kept on toward the convention hall.

We trailed with a brass band that was leading a second bunch of Pennsylvania martyrs one of whom had the nerve to carry a banner reading "Give us Wilson and we will give you Pennsylvania." Now, when Pennsylvania goes Democratic, I expect the Methodist conference to apply for membership in the Liquor league, and yet, if Pennsylvania has to do Democratic some time or other, this might be the year.

The sidewalks were filled with people, all bearing toward the convention hall, with our band acting as guide. We marched along through humble streets between infirm rows of three story houses, a few darkies effectively grouped at every window. After a while we passed at the right a great open patch of rolling park and then we turned to the left and climbed about an eighth of a mile to the armory. The street ahead seemed absolutely barricaded with people, but we squirmed through to the deadline, holding up our tickets until the policeman could reach out and lay his hands on it.

We had to form in a long, struggling line and slowly work our way toward the entrance. We were ordered by policemen who were a good deal more excited than we were. At last I found myself wedged in a narrow doorway, still holding my ticket above my head and hoping to die if I didn't have a right to go inside.

The pulleys and haulers employed at every doorway passed me along until I came to a wooden stairway. I climbed up through the gloom and came out into the gallery of the convention hall, which was so stupendous in all directions and so variegated with gay colors and so lively with moving crowds of people that I am sure I felt properly enthused and thrilled.

The whole floor space below was one spread of bright yellow chairs packed in close rows and already spotted with bunches of delegates. The light colored chairs and the pine table of the press section, together with the gilded railing and the pale silk hangings all around the upper walls, gave one the decided impression that the Democratic convention was a blonde. Even the big girders supporting the roof and the spaces in between were covered with some kind of gauzy cloth of a cheerful shade. There must have been a million yards of material in that canopy.

When we got together last week in Chicago we had nothing to talk about except the colonel, and today the crowd waiting for the show to begin simply buzzed about Bryan and nothing else. He was not with the Nebraska crowd. The expectant galleries believed that he was out in an anteroom practicing the smile, polishing up the bald head, and waiting for his entrance music. When the stage was all set and the aisle cleared and the music playing he would make what is known in the circus business as the grand entry.

As a matter of fact, this week's colonel had slipped in quietly and seated himself behind the high inclosed pulpit in which were gathered Mr. Mack and some of the others supposed to be in charge. I got a good look at William J. His trade mark smile had gone. He looked frowning and worried, just a little tired, but very determined. I think he knew what was coming, but he acted like a man ready to go through.

The whole audience arose during the prayer by the cardinal. A rather weak sunshine filtered down over the massed hordes of delegates. As we looked down on them the suggestion was of a great city square entirely cobblestoned with human heads.

I must say that our old friend from Nebraska got a rip-roaring welcome when he stepped out so that the crowd could see him. The preliminaries, which probably includes the formal nomination of Mr. Parker, were lost to us in the gallery because there was a good deal of incidental chatter and moving about. In fact, the assemblage today was not at all frightened by the sounding of a gavel. It was just as disorderly and obstreperous and sassy as the mob at Chicago last week. Neither party will go into this campaign with any record for decorum.

As I said before, Mr. Bryan made a big speech, but I guess it wasn't big enough, or his case wasn't strong enough, to effect the stampede of a lot of fellows who were sitting back, with their fingers crossed, repeating over and over again to themselves the formula of the newest religious sect:

"I am not going to be stampeded. No one will stampede me unless I think I am going to be stampeded, and I refuse to think anything of the kind."

The best single shot made by the colonel, and the one that brought all the faithful up on their toes, was when he said that now, with the hour of victory at hand, the song of triumph should be sung by some one whose heart had ever been in the work.

I could hardly believe my ears when the impatient antis, all probably working by day for Wall street, actually tried to howl down W. J. and drive him off the platform.

John Kern made a good impression and pulled a good piece of theatrical business when he begged Parker to come to the rostrum and agree on a compromise temporary chairman, who would be at least somewhat of a progressive. It was a bright thing for John to do, but the more I think of it, the more I am convinced that Parker acted wisely in sitting back and standing pat. He had been named by the committee and he was fairly sure of getting a majority of the vote. If he had walked up to the platform and calmly selected from that list, which Mr. Kern had in his hand, the name of a man supposed to be more worthy than himself, he would have been classed as a quitter by friend and foe alike. The only time to quit in politics is when you have to.

After Bryan and Kern had spoken few of the delegates and no part of the visitors felt hungry for more oratory. Mr. Bell of California started out by making a good little speech. He has a voice like an E flat cornet, and although I never met him, I judge that he thinks very well of himself as a public speaker. He was full of geography and anatomy, and moving from perley domain to proud commonwealth and then back again, with incidental allusions to hearts that beat true and lips that trickle wisdom. The supreme part of every convention is the man who keeps on talking after he gets through.

Fitzgerald of New York never had a chance. They simply bellowed him off the stage, and for minutes afterward the whole interior of the hall satisfied my private conception of a street scene during the French revolution.

Finally there was a lull in the storm and it was occupied by Johnson of Texas. He was like a voice from the glorious past. He had saved up all of the good old rhetorical bromides of the palmy stump speaking days, and he hurled them at us with all the horse power at his command.

The roll call was fighting its way through the noise when I escaped at 3 o'clock and walked back here through the rain. An Oklahoma man has just come in to report that Bryan was licked. Things look a little damp and discouraged at this writing, but I fully count on much excitement later in the week. I cannot by looking in any direction see a candidate who is anywhere near the necessary two-thirds.

Yours moist,

Jim Hackler,
County Chairman.

EACH CANDIDATE GAINS STRENGTH

Come Out of the Chairmanship Fight with More Votes, Assert Three Leaders.

CLARK MEN CONFIDENT.

Wilson Managers See Early Victory, While Underwood Followers Show Optimism.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Baltimore, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—The headquarters of every presidential candidate was the scene of conferences of leaders tonight. Every candidate came through the temporary chairmanship fight with greater strength than when he entered, according to the expressions heard at the various hotels.

The Clark managers held a long conference shortly after the afternoon adjournment and for several hours canvassed the situation and figured out the results of the stand their candidate had taken in the scrap.

Among the men who met with the Missourian's campaign managers was William R. Hearst, the publisher. Mr. Hearst and others present said later that Clark was certain of the nomination.

Clark Sure, Says James.

"The result of the chairmanship balloting proves that Clark will be nominated on the first ballot," Ollie James said.

Several New Yorkers were among the men in conference at Clark headquarters and the speaker's press bureau later gave out a statement from Congressman Burton Harrison of New York, in which the congressman was quoted as saying that it "looks like Clark."

In another statement Grant Hugh Brown, another New Yorker and Republican, but here with the Tammany delegation, said it would be "no mistake to nominate Clark."

At the Wilson headquarters there was no talking for publication on the part of the leaders, but they asserted the stand taken by Mr. Wilson had won him new delegates.

See Bolt to Wilson.

"Mr. Wilson and his supporters do not regret the position he took in the speakership contest," one leader said. "He is a progressive and his place in this fight proved it to the progressive Democrats of this convention.

"Many delegates who had expressed a preference for a certain candidate tore off their badges and will get into the Wilson ranks at the first opportunity. The strength of Wilson on the second ballot is going to be a revelation."

Congressman Underwood's adherents said the deadlock in the convention had come as they had predicted, and that this meant the nomination of their candidate.

Underwood Managers Confident.

"We have had numerous voluntary pledges from delegates who are instructed for other candidates that they will vote for Mr. Underwood early in the fight," Thomas W. Owen of the Underwood campaign committee said.

The Indiana delegation, which progressives say is likely to be thrown to some reactionary candidate, last night insisted they were for their candidate to the end. They paraded through the various hotels headed by a band.

Gaynor Claims New Strength.

State Senator Cantor of New York, chairman of the Democratic association of New York, for Gaynor, said tonight:

"The prospects for the ultimate nomination of Mayor Gaynor are becoming brighter. His candidacy received considerable impetus today by reason of members of various delegations declaring their intention, in the event of the inability of these delegations to nominate their candidates, to vote for him as their second choice."

"THOU SHALT NOT STEAL."

"I am in this fight for certain principles, and the first and most important of these goes back to Sinai, and is embodied in the commandment, 'Thou shalt not steal.' Thou shalt not steal a nomination. Thou shalt neither steal in politics nor in business. Thou shalt not steal from the people the birthright of the people to rule themselves."—Theodore Roosevelt.

THE SAME GAME—ANOTHER NAME.

"If the plain, every day citizen, who earns his bread in the sweat of his brow, could understand the influences that operate at a convention like this; if he could see the misrepresentatives of the people slipping around to the rooms of those who manipulate the schemes through which the public is plundered; if he could number the whispered conversations that take place in dark corners; if he could hear the specious arguments made in behalf of regularity; if he could be made aware of the tremendous pressure that is brought to bear on the weak, and of the deceptions practiced upon the unsuspecting, he would realize how important it is that men should be selected as delegates whose hearts are right, whose sympathies are with the people, and who have the moral courage to stand for the silent masses."—William Jennings Bryan, writing from Baltimore.

For Chicago, substitute Baltimore.

For Lowden, substitute Sullivan.

For Root, substitute Parker; for Bradley, Woodson; for Penrose, Guffey; for New, Taggart, etc., etc.

Call it Democratic instead of Republican; a changed name, but the same game.

Take knockout drops from the same bottle. On one side it is labeled "Republican," on the other "Democratic." It's the same bottle, and the Thomas F. Ryans shake it well before pouring out a spoonful.

If special privilege can win the fights within the parties it has nothing to lose when they pretend to fight each other.

Mr. Bryan wishes the every day citizen could see these facts. The every day citizen is coming to see them with greater clearness every day.

With progressive Republicans fighting every inch of the way against fraud, Root was elected temporary chairman of the convention in Chicago.

After Parker what?

Immediately after his election came an outbreak which forced the convention to adjourn. In Chicago the progressives held the machine back from its work four days. Then they had Taft forced over them.

It's the same game. In Chicago they called it Republican. In Baltimore they call it Democratic.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

The city and people of Chicago, as well as all immediately concerned in the negotiations, are to be congratulated upon the promised adjustment of the south shore settlement.

While THE TRIBUNE has believed that the importance of the great improvement at stake and the danger of losing it or of postponing indefinitely its great benefits overshadowed the objections raised by citizens and aldermen, the new concessions or better terms made in the final settlement are most acceptable.

All's well that ends well, and it seems now that this episode is to end with honors all round and a great improvement made certain.

When the magnificent boulevard from Grant to Jackson park is completed, with its yacht filled lagoon, its bathing beaches, and miles of park and shore, Chicago will have one of the most beautiful frontages in the world. Electrification is certain to come within a few years, and the fresh green of the park and sparkling, purified air from the lake will make the shore a resort of thousands. Michigan avenue already is one of the finest boulevards in the country, and with the establishment of the south shore plan, the Twelfth street boulevard, and the north side link, Chicago can claim with justice a place among the great city show places of the world.

AFTER HALF A CENTURY.

Perhaps the most interesting degree conferred, or to be conferred, in the United States during the commencements of 1912 is one which was given at Amherst college.

It was not a high degree. It was only that of bachelor of arts, and its recipient is not a man of national note.

But when Gen. Edward C. Robbins of St. Louis was made bachelor of arts at Amherst a gap of fifty years was closed, and another proof given that in our reunited republic "bygones are bygones."

When Gen. Robbins left the New England college which now is honoring him he went to join the army of secession, in which he thereafter served with distinction. He did his best to dissever the union, he opposed the cause most sacred to his alma mater, but she takes him back today.

In giving him his degree the college ruled that as men who left to go into the army of the north had been given their degrees he should not be discriminated against because he felt the call of duty from the other side.

The wound is healed indeed. It is well that an historic American college in the heart of New England should recognize it in this way.

THE DOOR PLATE HAS GONE—THAT'S ALL.

The committee of notification has been appointed. Let it inform William Howard Taft that states which will not give him a single electoral vote and colonial possessions of the United States which have no vote have "put him over." States that have given nothing to the Republican party have given its name to him.

William Howard Taft—the choice of Alabama and Georgia, of South Carolina and Florida, and of Tennessee, of Louisiana and Mississippi, of Virginia and Arkansas, of Porto Rico and the Philippines, of Hawaii and Alaska—the choice of states which never cast an electoral vote for a Republican president, the choice of territories and colonies which are not allowed to vote.

Let the southern states, which have delivered the Republican party to its enemies, lift up their gates and rejoice.

The Republican party in the south will be picking cotton next year. The Republican party in the south is leaving the pleasant fields of federal employment and is going back to manual labor, which will be a gain to the south. The Republican party in the south will have more callouses on its hands next year than it has been honored with for many years. Let this be its reward—the reward of its shrewdness and its honesty, the reward of its responsiveness to the will of the real Republican party.

Let this be its reward. It surely will find it.

The victory is a famous one. Why do the Republicans of Illinois and Pennsylvania, of Kansas and California, of Wisconsin and Maine, of the northwest, of the west, of the Mississippi valley and the east, of every state whose electoral votes elect Republican presidents, sit so silently, with clenched fists and dry, tight lips? Why don't they cheer? Surely it is a famous victory. Examine it. Observe it—a famous victory, surely.

Delegates stolen from states which had declared for Roosevelt, delegates from states which never cast a vote for a Republican president, delegates from territories and colonies which cannot vote—they made it a victory. They took the name "Republican" and gave it to a man Republicans had repudiated.

Give him the label. He can get nothing else.

It was beyond the power of the misrepresentative convention to give him anything else. Give him the name and let him go. Door plates can be stolen, but the house cannot be moved.

McKinley and Penrose, Barnes and Guggenheim, Rosewater and Mulvane, Crane and Smoot, etc., etc., have run off with the door plate, but they have not even a key to the house.

In the house genuine Republicanism still abides. It possesses the house, and the house is in better order than it has been for many years.

The door plate is gone—that is all.

FAIR WARNING.

Every four years excited Jeffersonians endeavor to pull the fire out from under our distinguished gas and biscuit manufacturer, Mr. Roger C. Sullivan. As an enemy of the people, "Rogdz" has more trouble than Aaron Burr or even Col. Guffey of Pennsylvania.

If it would do any good to implore friend "Rogdz," we would entreat him to give over being an enemy of the people and endeavor to lead the plain, simple, innocent, happy life of a biscuit manufacturer. There really is very little in the enemy business except money.

The patriotic are certain to get "Rogdz" if he continues to remain in the camp of the Babylonians and eat baked meats and drink spiced wines with Tom Taggart, Urey Woodson, Charles Murphy, and the other children of darkness.

He will go his way, no doubt, as an enemy of the people in spite of anything that can be said, but they'll have his head on a pike some of these days.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S enemies are so grim and bitter that they are determined to deprive him of the title "the ONLY living ex-president of the United States."

It's a grim and bitter hand.

LATE and authentic news from Washington dispels every possible doubt that Mr. Taft will accept the nomination. He thinks, or thinks he thinks, that it comes from the Republican party.

"THE framework of the party," cheerfully announces that stalwart Republican organ, the New York Sun, "has been saved from dissolution." Doesn't the Sun mean the "frameup" of the party?

THERE is some anxiety, however, to know whether the colonel intends to restore the G. O. P. or to start a G. N. P.

REPLYING to our correspondent who wishes to know why we refer to Senator Crane as Senator Grus, the reason is that Grus is a shorter and uglier word and means the same thing.

A QUIET tip has been passed around that you are to keep your eye on Carter H. Harrison. You can't do that without seeing the hyphen that connects him with the other H.

SOMEBODY with a vivid conception of the unfitness of things calls the Hon. James Schoolcraft Sherman Mr. Taft's "running" mate.

WORD comes from downstate that the country roads of Illinois never have been as bad in all their history as they are now. Having been familiar with Illinois roads since the year—well, never mind—we have some hesitation in accepting the statement as strictly true.

USERS OF OPIUM.

FARMERS' Bulletin No. 393, department of agriculture, is on the subject of habit forming. I do not know why this was issued as a Farmers' bulletin, except that there is no place in our scheme of government for People's bulletins. Farmers have no more drug habits than the general run of people. On the other hand, it has been said there are more drug habitués among physicians than any other class.

This bulletin says it is estimated that there are more than 1,000,000 drug addicts in the United States. Another statement is "The amount of opium imported into the United States so far during the present decade indicates that the amount per capita is about the same as for the preceding ten years."

Crothers says that two-thirds of the morphine used is consumed by addicts.

There are three reasons for this article. The first one is that the morphine disease is no trifling matter.

The morphine habit is always acquired under an alias. A man seeks to escape a pain and justifies himself in taking morphine by saying a dose, or a few doses, will do him less harm than the pain. His mistake is in not seeing that he is really deciding between the pain and the habit.

A man seeks to get a needed night's sleep with morphine. He weighs one night against one dose. He should be able to see the end of the string and know that he is weighing a habit against a temporary discomfort. A man is temporarily in the straits and feels that he has not the grit to carry himself over. He takes a dose of morphine, forgetting he is only "laying the question" on the table, and that, when he takes it up tomorrow, the morphine will have left him with even less grit; the difficulty to be met has grown as it lay unmet.

The second reason for writing this article is to call attention to the score or more of paths that seem innocent enough, but that lead to ruindom. Cough medicines, sleep medicines, refilled prescriptions, opium cures, which contain opium, morphine or codein, medicine for pain, etc. The man who begins with these does not fight out the question. Will I be an opium fiend? while he is strong, but after his will is weakened and his grit is lessened.

A large part of the opium addicts are neurasthenics by inheritance. A large part are neurasthenics from lack of training in self-control. Another part become mentally disturbed by the drug. Certain types of criminality are frequently found in drug fiends.

The third reason for writing this article is to set forth the justice of taking morphine into consideration in judging the motives of addicts, and to suggest that opium fiends cannot be cured or helped by punishment. They must be patiently and persistently helped and then retrained. Cure is not effected when morphine is no longer used. They are not cured until they have gotten a grip on themselves and a new hold on affairs.

LARGE PORES IN THE FACE.

Anxious writes: "I have large pores in my face. What would you recommend to get rid of them. 2. I had the ringworm last summer. Do you think that it has anything to do with it?"

REPLY.

1. Nothing. You cannot get rid of them.
2. No.

TYPHOID VACCINATION.

Traveling Man writes: "(1) Is it true that a person in good health, never suffering from indigestion or constipation, need have no fear of typhoid germs? (2) And need take no special precautions, such as vaccination? (3) Is vaccination for typhoid dangerous? (4) Does it mean going to bed for several days? (5) Is it a perfect preventive? (6) I am in the finest of health, but afraid, perhaps unnecessarily, of typhoid."

REPLY.

1. No.
2. No. A person in good health is just as liable to typhoid infection as any other man. What is known as good health bears no relation to catching disease. A man who is "run down" is in no more danger of catching consumption or typhoid fever than is the best athlete or the strongest, healthiest man in the land. This will jar many opinions, I know, but it is so just the same.
3. No.
4. In a few cases, yes. In most cases, no. The general instruction is "light work for twenty-four hours after each dose."
5. No.
6. If your fear leads you to take the necessary precautions, it does you good. If it goes beyond that, it does you harm.

At the recent meeting of the American Medical association, there was a valuable discussion of typhoid vaccination. In that discussion Maj. Russell said among the 80,000 soldiers vaccinated against typhoid in 1911, twelve had typhoid and one died. In 1910, there were six cases and no deaths. The normal typhoid rate among these soldiers would have resulted in 250 cases as compared with twelve. The number of cases of typhoid in the United States army in recent years is as follows: 1908, 239; 1909, 282; 1910 [vaccination begun], 198; 1911 [vaccination extensive], 68; 1912, first four months [vaccination almost universal], 5.

RINGING IN THE HEAD.

Sufferer writes: "Can anything be done to alleviate 'head noises' or a 'ringing in the head' that afflicts persons who are suffering with a disease that 'specialists' call catarrh? Is catarrh incurable?"

REPLY.

Some of the conditions called "catarrh" are curable; others not. Some cases of "ringing in the head" are curable; others not. "Ringing in the head" is a symptom that may be associated with any one of several conditions.

BEWARE OF FAT REDUCERS.

Mrs. G. McH. writes: "Have you ever heard of the following drugs, and if you consider them dangerous to take as a fat reducer? Aromatic elixir, 5 ounces; glycol arbolene, 1 ounce. Mix and shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal."

REPLY.

This is an illustration of the new way of advertising a proprietary medicine. It is called the hidden "ad." No person is justified in taking any fat reducer. To decrease the amount eaten reduces fat. Medicines do not.

The Friend of the People.

FRUITVALE LOTS AND TAXES.

Chicago, June 24.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Last fall at the land and irrigation exposition in the Coliseum I received an application for a free lot in Fruitvale, Mich. I filled it out and sent it in with $3, which was required for recording and abstract. After many delays and excuses I have finally received my deed.

With the deed is a bill for 60 cents taxes on the lot, but no abstract or plat of the land. The tax bill is payable to the Fruitvale Improvement club at room 504 Heart building. This is the same address as the Fruitvale Development company, which distributed the lots. The bill states that the Fruitvale Improvement club is an organization of Fruitvale lot owners. I know a number of the lot owners, but I do not know one that ever heard of the "club" until it sent him the bill for taxes.

What I want to know is whether this "club" has the right to collect taxes and whether the receipts it gives are any good? It was stated at the time of the land show when the lots were given away that taxes had been paid and they were clear of all incumbrances. The receipt states that these are "delinquent taxes."

As the land show was held under the auspices of THE TRIBUNE and the lots were given away by the management of the show, it seems to me you should clear up this matter.

A LOT PURCHASER.

REPLY.

In the first place, the land show was not held under the auspices of "The Tribune" last year. The land show was founded and run by "The Tribune" in 1909, but in 1910 and 1911 it was managed by the United States Land and Irrigation Exposition company, in which "The Tribune" did not own one share of stock or have a representative. The men who did hold the stock in that company are Harrison M. Parker, William M. Gibbons, and Harry R. Gibbons. The Fruitvale Development company was controlled by the same interests.

During the last few months "The Tribune" regained possession of the land show and will conduct this great exposition next November through the United States Land Show, a corporation in which H. M. Parker, W. M. Gibbons, and H. R. Gibbons have no interest of any kind.

When "The Tribune" regained possession of the land show it required its former owners to put up a bond of $90,000 to insure the delivery of the Fruitvale deeds, an obligation which has been fulfilled. The tax problem was not foreseen, and it is one which Fruitvale lot owners must handle for themselves. "The Tribune" has written to E. D. Magoon, county treasurer of Muskegon county, for information concerning the taxation of the Fruitvale lots. His answer follows:

"Replying to your favor of recent date. There are no taxes on the plat of Fruitvale and its additions in Muskegon county. Taxes are due and payable each year, first to the township treasurer from Dec. 1 to March 1, after which date they are returned and payable at the county treasurer's office.

"This property was assessed as acreage land for the taxes of 1911. The tax per acre averaged about 10 cents, or about two-thirds of a cent per lot. I do not know how it will be assessed this year, but probably will be as acreage land. In fact, I doubt if it will ever be assessed otherwise.

"The township treasurer, county treasurer, and auditor general are the only persons who can issue a legal tax receipt."

RENEWAL OF NOTES.

Chicago, June 21.—[To the Friend of the People.]—For the last nine years I have been lending a cousin money, for which I have received judgment notes. These notes are getting old. Will it be legal to renew them by writing the date on back and having them signed? Will they then be good for ten years from date? The cousin has property. Should she mention these notes in her will?

A. BLAKE.

These notes are good for ten years after they become due. You can collect them from the debtor's estate whether or not they are mentioned in the will. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CANNOT BE GARNISHED.

Chicago, June 21.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A few months ago a stock company was formed in Iowa to start a cooperative grocery store. My wife was induced to subscribe for $20 worth of stock, giving a written agreement to that effect. The business a short time later broke up, with indebtedness of about $2,500. A lawyer threatens suit if the $20 is not paid. This note of my wife's is not signed by myself. Could my wages be garnished?

READER.

Your wages cannot be garnished for this indebtedness. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SHOULD SUE FOR THE MONEY.

Blissfield, Mich., June 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Some time ago I sent to a firm for an electric lighting outfit, one of the kind that lights from its magneto. They sent me such an inferior outfit that I immediately returned it. Now they refuse to return my money. What can be done in such a case? Would a fraud order be issued against them, or could I sue them for a return of the money? The amount is not large, but I do not fancy letting them get away with it. What would you advise?

A READER.

You should sue them for the return of the money. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SET ASIDE IN CHANCERY SUIT.

Chicago, June 18.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man, advanced in years, gives his property to his wife by a warranty deed; consideration, $1. He is afterward permitted no share in the income and is neglected and abused. As the implied consideration was good care in his old age and a share in the income, may this deed be annulled at will by the donor, or what redress is best? L. A. W.

This deed cannot be annulled at will by the donor. However, the deed could be set aside by a proceeding in a court of chancery. It would be well to consult a reputable attorney with the purpose of accomplishing this result.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PARCELS POST AND EXPRESS.

Chicago, June 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I refer to THE TRIBUNE editorial, "Some Telling Testimony," referring to the parcels post. I wish to know, in case of loss of any parcel, stolen or destroyed by fire, will the government promptly pay all losses, not any red tape, waiting six months or more for any settlement? A few months ago I sent by mail a package of merchandise to my granddaughter at Convent Station, N. J., correctly addressed, weighed, and stamped, at the main postoffice, adding also the name of the sender. That package never arrived at its destination, though I made proper inquiries at the postoffice. The value of the package was about $6. Since then I sent my granddaughter, same destination, by the United States Express company, same address, a parcel, writing value $5, and prepaying charges of 45 cents, the package containing a French doll. On arriving it was badly broken and of no value. I made a proper claim to the United States Express company, inclosing my receipt and proper evidence of the damage from the receiver. In less than about two months I received a notice from the company to call, and without any questioning was paid the $5. How would it be with the parcels post?

C. A. LICHTENHEIN.

It is impossible to state what provisions a parcels post act would contain in regard to packages lost and destroyed.

You should report the lost package to the postoffice department and by pressing the matter you may be able to trace this package.

The New Home.

[From the Philadelphia North American.]

It was a test that wrung great souls when the men from Massachusetts and the Green mountains and the men from Virginia and the Carolinas journeyed here to Philadelphia in 1776 to renounce an old and cherished allegiance and institute revolt. Those men came in determined but grave and regretful mood. Loyalty was part of their being. England to them was "home," even though they never had trod any but this new land. They had carved principalities out of the wilderness of natural and human savagery. And conquering under England's flag, they or their forbears had given to their states and counties and towns the names they still have, of English places and English rulers.

There was long held love, as well as deep loyalty, for all that had been in what they then renounced. But in answer to the high command of the spirit of freedom in a land foreordained for freedom they did not hesitate. The old ways would not serve to settle the conflict that had arisen between the rights of men and the tyranny of privilege. Compromise was no longer compatible with honor and patriotism. Therefore, those men spoke and did as true Americans will ever speak and do when, in a new age, new conditions give rise to a new manifestation of that endless conflict between humanity and privileged greed. Facing loss and danger, they suffered obloquy and slander and, stigmatized as traitors and self-seekers, they fought and won the revolution.

Generations later, men had come to hold almost the same love and loyalty to one or the other of the two great political parties. In the beginning, a man was a Whig or a Democrat because his party truly represented his ideals and beliefs of government and patriotism.

But the old conflict arose in new form. And as it became irrepressible, Whig and Democrat grew to be mere meaningless words. Conscience and freedom called again, and "Conscience Whigs" and "Free Soil Democrats" marked the reluctant departures from the old parties. But the time came once more when there could no longer be compromise with honor and patriotism, and the Republican party came into being.

Actuated by those same motives, we believe that the men who, on Saturday at Chicago, created the preliminary organization of the Progressive party were filled with the same stern sadness. Their loyalty to Republicanism is to the core and unimpaired. But that very loyalty and their higher duty to their country and to humanity have made it impossible to sanction longer the control of a party that has become but a deceptive name by reason of the perversion and the degradation of its principles.

Many of these men know that their course may cost them the attainment of high political ambitions. They know that their motives and conduct will be widely and bitterly misrepresented. They know that it will entail such partings as those which came to brothers half a century ago. They know the truth of Theodore Roosevelt's earnest warning: "I have nothing to offer any man; any man who supports me will do so without hope of gain and at the risk of personal loss and discomfort."

But the high command of old was upon them. And they make answer, as did the Americans of old.

It is the culmination of the great protest from the representatives of the Republican voters in the great Republican states of the nation, and of the fight they have made against combined forces of political corruption and debauching special privilege.

It is their direct answer to the theft of the Republican convention from the people of the country, accomplished by placing fraudulent delegates—the creatures of the bosses—in the seats of delegates honestly elected by the people themselves.

It is the absolutely necessary recognition of the need for a party formed in the interest of the public, to fight such political crimes as have been openly committed by the political corruptionists, and to fight the ever increasing domination of special privilege in politics, in commerce, and industry.

This is no bolt. It is no mere act of passion or factional revenge. It is more than even a distinctly political movement. It is the beginning of a national effort to effect a great moral purpose, and its strength will grow as men understand that their rights have been stolen, and it is for their reëstablishment that the fight is made.

It is above partisanship, above sectionalism. When, in 1856, the call for the convention of a new party was made, it was addressed to "all the people of the United States," who believed that human rights are superior to conflicting claims of privileged property, "without regard to past political differences or divisions."

And now this call goes forth to every American who believes in these fundamental principles: "That the people have the right to rule themselves, and can do so better than any outsiders can rule them; and, second, that it is their duty so to rule in a spirit of justice toward every man and every woman within our borders, and to use the government so far as possible as an instrument for obtaining not merely politica' but industrial justice."

It is addressed to Democrats as well as to Republicans. For every intelligent citizen who looks toward Baltimore this week is bound to see that the line of difference lies across, and not between the two old parties; that, in reality, there have been four illogical parties, and that, by control of party machinery through corrupt bosses and division of the progressives, the masters of special privilege have controlled both parties and made majority rule by the people an impossibility.

The new Progressive party is not a one man party. It is founded upon the sentiment of the masses of the people, expressed by their votes, and not simply upon a personal following. That Theodore Roosevelt is its natural leader at the start is inevitable. But he insists, unequivocally, that no nomination, binding either upon him or those who will support the great principles of human liberty and advancement which he advocates, can come except from a convention in which the people of the entire United States shall have representation.

It is the parting of the ways that was bound to come. It is well that it has come now, when the foulness of conditions that cry out for remedy has been emphasized in the foisting upon one party of a fraud candidate, whose election is conceded to be impossible, with the aid of one of Thomas Fortune Ryan's hired trust attorneys, while another of Ryan's corps of lawyers is set up to control the convention of the other old party.

Slowly, but surely, the needed lesson has been coming home to the American people that political parties are not fetiches to be worshiped, but tools for the people's hands to use, and that indispensable as rule through parties is under our scheme of government, no irresponsible mastery, by an official minority is tolerable, but only actually representative rule directly controllable by the people.

Honorable and beloved as may be a party's history, it justifies its own existence and the allegiance of honest men and women only so long as it is an instrument of pure and progressive governmental action.

It is hard for true men to leave the old home. But when the sanctuary of early, holy memories is invaded by criminals and beneficiaries of crime, and transformed into a thieves' den, a "boozing kan" and brothel, it is time for those cradled under that roof tree when it was clean to depart with their brethren and build such a new home as that whose doors now are opened.

"Where He Leads I Will Follow."

Chicago, June 25.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Permit me to congratulate you upon the honorable part your paper has had in bringing about the organization of a new political party in this country.

I count myself happy in having had the privilege of subscribing myself as a charter member. I now feel, for the first time in my life, that I belong to a political household of my own faith. At present, to be sure, that faith is incarnate in the personality of Theodore Roosevelt, rather than in a definite political organism. But I am fully persuaded that it does not depend upon the personality of Roosevelt for its vitality.

The elements are ready to take shape around the "Roosevelt policies," so-called, which are merely the formulation of the people's demands upon government today. I believe the organization of the new party will spring into being almost of itself all over the country.

I believe it is not necessary to magnify the "steam roller" tactics of the men in control of the last national convention of the late Republican party in order to justify the organization of the new "party of progress." That may well serve as the pretext or occasion for the movement, but it is not its cause. The cause lies in the fact that both the old parties are, and long have been, under the control of the "standpat patriots."

You ask in your Sunday editorial, "What of Conservatism?" I reply that we have no use for it, in the sense in which it has come to be understood today. The pathway of progress is uphill and not down hill. We have no use for the so-called conservative even as "brakesman" in this uphill movement. There is never any danger that the chariot of progress will exceed the speed limit, simply because its pathway is always up grade and not down grade. If you wish for further confirmation of this proposition I commend to your careful consideration a chapter on the subject in Prof. James H. Robinson's recent work on "The New History." There you will find a perspective for the new party.

I admit that Mr. Taft is a nice, ladylike gentleman, as compared with the strenuous colonel. But the situation demands the leadership of a militant progressive, and I find myself giving a hearty response to the refrain of the Kansas City Star, "Where he leads I will follow."

So "all hail" to the new party of progress. I suggest that it be called the "National Republican" party. Both the old parties lay claim to the name "Republican." The Democratic party claims that its proper title is and always has been that of the "Democratic-Republican" party. When the present Republican party was organized the Democrats dubbed it the "Black Republican" party to distinguish it from their own brand of Republicanism.

For a time during the so-called "era of good feeling" in Monroe's administration, we had the two brands of Republicanism, Democratic Republican and National Republican. The name National Republican has no historic handicap, therefore, and it has, on the contrary, a definite historic justification as the name of a party which is to include progressive Democrats and Republicans alike. It has, moreover, a present day justification, inasmuch as the best single expression of the spirit of the new organization is to be found in Mr. Roosevelt's "New Nationalism."

The new nationalism embodies all that is either practicable or desirable in the socialistic propaganda. Under the name "National Republican," therefore, all progressive Republicans and Democrats and practical Socialists—who have been driven into the Socialist ranks because there was nowhere else to go—could rally in the cause of militant progressivism.

The real issues of the future in our country are socialism versus nationalism. Standpatism is doomed. It will meet its Waterloo next November, whether it takes refuge in only one or in both of the old parties. Then the issue will be fairly joined between constructive nationalism and doctrinaire socialism.

Such is the situation as I view it in the light of the broadest survey possible, embracing past history and present tendencies not only in our own country, but throughout the whole world, not excepting "benighted" China.

If the progressive elements of our country can be brought together in one party under the aggressive leadership of a man like Roosevelt they will win without a doubt at the next national election, and we shall then see such an era of constructive progress as the world has never witnessed before.

Such an opportunity, merely as a possibility, is well worth fighting for. In any event it is the next inevitable move toward the full enfranchisement of all the people, economically and socially, as well as politically.

To be at all consistent, the new party must admit women to full equality with men in its ranks. Civilization has about reached its limit under a purely masculine régime. Many of the things which a new party will strive to accomplish never can be achieved without "votes for women." California has set the pace in this new movement. Let her example be followed in the admission of women as delegates to the first national convention of the new "Party of Progress." WILLARD C. MACNAUL.

FLETCHER AND LORIMER.

[By J. R. Miller in Dixie.]

As you have so kindly opened your columns to the "people" for the discussion of timely questions, I submit a little squib on one of the most vital questions that ever before came, or that can come before the American people for settlement, for it involves the very life blood of government and it is the purpose of the "octopus" to quietly get hold of the function of making money, controlling money, and if the fools who vote without a thought are not posted as to this fundamental question of government, the gang will have us by the throat. This is by all odds the biggest question ever presented to a self-governing people for settlement, and I sincerely desire that Dixie should be in the front rank in Florida in the enlightenment and settlement of this vital question.

Should some "guy" attempt to answer this little communication, or it should be the desire of Dixie that it be ventilated "just a little," I will endeavor to illumine a subject that the money power would not have raised for millions just at this time.

I am still yelling because of Claude's victory and will not quit the shouting until he is made a senator in the place of Lorimer's chief supporter, one Duncan U. Fletcher. That Fletcher must never be allowed to disgrace Florida in the senate again is a foregone conclusion and I now suggest as the battle cry from now on, "Remember Lorimer."

"Remember the Maine" had its desired effect, whether wise or otherwise, so I hope that the new cry, "Remember Lorimer," will have the effect of retiring Mr. Fletcher, for if he is the best Florida can produce we would be better off a thousand fold without a member of his kind in the senate of the United States.

I wish Dixie unmeasured influence in the future and that she can soon make her appearance in daily guise and uproot that prostituted gang in the form of the daily press in your city.

"Lansing, Mich., June 25.—Col. Theodore ...Roosevelt, Oyster Bay, Long Island, N. "CHARLES S. OSBORN,
"Governor of Michigan."

Tells His Views in Letter.

Following the telegram, Gov. Osborn set forth the situation at greater length in the following letter, which was mailed from the executive office this morning:

"Lansing, Mich., June 25.—Dear Col. Roosevelt: One can never write his feelings. ...Today you are pictured in my mind as earn...est, and as honest, and as noble, and as self...forgetting as St. Paul. I believe you are called ...to the work you are doing just as much as ...St. Paul was. The light did not come to you ...suddenly as it did to the great first preach...er on the road to Damascus, but it has come ...to me clearly.

"St. Paul was particularly a moral force. ...He blend the moral and the ethical, and the ...practical in a marvelous way. I do not be...lieve a man could do as you have done, and ...will do, without being truly inspired. St. ...Paul was mobbed at Ephesus, stoned at ...many places, and finally beheaded. Your ...life, as compared with his, is strewn with ...roses. Only the bad, a minority, condemn ...you. All of the good, and they are a ma...jority, applaud you.

Supported by the Masses.

"Personally, I thank God that there are ...men in this country such as yourself who ...may draw about them the confidence and ...support of the masses, and then will sacredly, ...fervently, and intelligently direct the great ...force, otherwise turbulent and destructive, ...in a direction that is entirely in the interests ...of the welfare of the country.

"I am not angry or depressed or even dis...appointed as I write. To lose when one is ...right is to win. But you have not lost. You ...represented at Chicago 80 per cent of the ...Republican voting strength of the country. ...The disreputable bosses of the other side ...have only stolen the party sign. The party ...is made up of more than a name, even if ...there is some fetish to the name; it must be ...composed of voters, and must have common ...principles around which to organize. In a ...practical way the Republican party is more ...vital and vital today than ever before, and ...the fact that somebody has knocked down ...a signboard does not alter the case.

As to the Candidacy.

"I do not know in what manner the prin...ciples you stand for can best be furthered. ...I am sure that if the Baltimore convention ...nominates a reactionary, then you should ...be a candidate, if possible with somebody ...like Wilson or Bryan. But if the Baltimore ...convention nominates a progressive, I am ...not so sure that you should be a candidate.

"I will bow to the sense of the majority, ...and will accept your leadership in any di...rection that it is decided will be right, wise ...and practical. I care nothing for what is ...measured as momentary success. Basically, ...this is a fight between property rights and ...human rights, and between bad men and ...good men, and honest men and thieves, and ...there are points of frictional contact that ...will be in conflict forever.

TAFT'S REAL STRENGTH.

Chicago, June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Taft had only 187 votes from Republican states, and thirty-six of those were fraudulent.

Arkansas	17	North Carolina	1
Florida	12	Oklahoma	4
Georgia	28	South Carolina	16
New Mexico	7	Virginia	22
Nevada	6
Kentucky	24	Total	219

From territories which have no vote for president:

Alaska	2	Porto Rico	2
Dist. of Columbia	2
Hawaii	6	Total	14
Philippines	2

Arizona	6	Texas	31
California	2	Washington	14
Indiana	6
Michigan	8	Total	73
Missouri	6

To this list of seventy-three fraud votes were added two from Massachusetts by means of Root's ruling, making the fraud total seventy-five.

From the remaining twenty-seven states of the union, and including thirty-six from Indiana, Michigan, and Missouri not counted as fraudulent, only 253 votes were cast for Taft. This included ninety-six votes from New York and Indiana, always debatable territory. Deducting them, Taft had only 157 votes in the convention to represent all the states of the union which are classed as safely or even nominally Republican.

POINTS TO LACK OF ENTHUSIASM.

Paris, Ky., June 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It was apparent that, although the great majority of the people demanded the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt, the power of control was not the people but a mere handful of selfish and sordid men, who were hooted continually and accused of steam roller tactics by the convention assembly, cries of "You voted for Lorimer!" being heard everywhere.

No man has been nominated for president before by a Republican convention who was not cheered to the echo, but a safe hit in a baseball game would often create enthusiasm equal to that caused by the nomination of Taft Saturday.

The people and their choice have been rolled over and cast aside, but we do not believe the forces and principles successful at Chicago will triumph in November. It is time for progressive Americans to get together.

THOMAS DOUGLAS, Lyons, Ky.

WANT NO COMPROMISE.

Iowa City, Ia., June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—An editorial in today's Register and Leader (Cummins' Iowa organ), says the fault that Taft was nominated is Roosevelt's for not allowing another progressive to be nominated. This means Cummins, and it is tiresome.

A. B. Cummins was not in the convention as a result of a primary choice, or even unanimously by this state, which is progressive. (Ask Lafe Young.) He only had ten Iowa delegates. It is by no means certain that in a primary election Roosevelt would not have beaten A. B. Cummins two to one in Iowa.

Yet Cummins gets in the running on the convention picked delegate plan and whoops it up against such a progressive as Roosevelt. Cummins did good work as governor here, he is a good senator, but he has no following for president.

We want no compromiser, we want a strenuous man who has shown up the old crowd who has been damning him around for so long that it is an old story. Come into the progressive fold, A. B. You are all right, but keep your place. Seward was not Lincoln, although he once thought he was the bigger of the two. Iowa has lots of Roosevelt men.

A PROGRESSIVE OUT AND OUT.

PARTY OUTLIVES USEFULNESS.

Montgomery, Ala., June 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—What is the matter with the Republican party? It seems a shame that the so-called leaders cannot see or understand what the people want. There seems to be a number of these people, who won't know what a protest is until Nov. 4.

A party that cannot keep its ear to the ground, so as to understand the wishes of the rank and file, and is unwilling to carry out the wishes after they do know them, has just about outlived its usefulness.

The temper of the great majority of the people today is progressive. The country owes a great debt to Theodore Roosevelt and people like yourselves, who have stood up and fought our battles.

But before us we see with what adroitness and ease a few political bosses can give us what we do not want. We want a strong, fearless leader, who fights in the open. We want the principles and ideas for which Mr. Roosevelt stands carried out.

In traveling the states south of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river I find there is just as much desire for progressive ideas as elsewhere. If I have the opportunity I will vote for T. R. and I don't care what the name of the ticket is he runs on.

E. J. HOSKINS.

ROOSEVELT SENTIMENT GROWS.

Davenport, Ia., June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—If the voters of Davenport could express their preference for president I feel safe in saying eight out of ten are for Roosevelt. There seems to be a greater sentiment for him here now than before the convention and there is talk on every side favoring a new party with Roosevelt for its leader. I would like to suggest as a name for the new movement the Progressive Equality party. After the outrageous thieving at the Chicago convention I think that every honest voter should rush to the standard of Theodore Roosevelt with the battle cry of "Remember Chicago." B. F. CALLOWAY.

TO FINANCE NEW PARTY.

Chicago, June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Let every honest Republican and Democrat now join hands and favor a new united progressive party. As funds will be necessary, why not ask every one who voted in the primaries for Col. Roosevelt and those who would have voted for him if they had had the chance to contribute from $1 to $5 to help the new party along?

As more than 3,000,000 voted for him in the primaries and another 2,000,000 were ready to do so, a fund of $5,000,000 would quickly be raised. The new party would be a people's party and financed by the people.

I will contribute my share as soon as Col. Roosevelt is ready to take it.

EDWARD BONHOMME.

DO THE PEOPLE RULE?

Chicago, June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The little unpleasantness between the Republican national committee and the charter members of what is now called the Progressive party disturbed the old man's mind just a little bit, and in his visions of fifty-four years ago he saw Lincoln and Douglas, as they stood before him on the platform at Galesburg, Ill., when he was a boy, and he remembered how he walked up to the poll the first time he ever voted and cast the vote for Abraham Lincoln. Now since awakening from his thoughts of the past, he has read what Warren G. Harding of Ohio had to say in making his nominating speech for Taft, and finds that he said: "The people rule . . ." I am inclined to ask him, through your paper, what about Lorimer? Is he not still a senator? Have not the people of Illinois, by a majority of 138,000 for Col. Roosevelt, said that he should not be senator? Do the people rule? It looks very much to me as though the national committees of the two old parties rule—not the people. Do they not nominate for president whom they choose, regardless of the protesting voice of the people? I ask, had the people ruled, who would have been nominated for president by the Republican national convention? Unless these questions can be answered satisfactorily, then I shall get a red bandanna, the emblem of the Progressive party. OLD SOLDIER.

SENDS MONEY FOR FUND.

Chicago, June 25.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I hand you herewith $1, to be retained by you awaiting the national organization of the proposed new Progressive party, said $1 to be returned to me should such project be abandoned. I hereby further obligate myself to be one of 10,000 who will pay $10 apiece, or one of 5,000 who will pay $100 apiece, into the hands of the duly elected national treasurer of the new Progressive party, provided the platform adopted and the candidates chosen for president and vice president of the United States by said Progressive party shall have the sanction and approval of Theodore Roosevelt; the funds to be payable on the demand of said national treasurer, accompanied by his statement to the effect that the above terms have been complied with.

And I further promise to use all honorable means within my power to secure the election of said Progressive ticket.

ARTHUR W. AVERY.

CALLS BEVERIDGE NEXT BEST.

Lafayette, Ind., June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I think the thieves and steam roller manipulators of Indianapolis, Ind., would be ashamed to show their faces back home. They have disgraced the good old Hoosier state as it has never before been disgraced.

We as a people in Indiana would be proud to have Albert J. Beveridge for president, one of the brightest and grandest men Indiana has or ever will have—a self-made man. If we are to be defrauded and cheated out of Roosevelt, give us Beveridge. He is the next best. I am the proud mother of four sons, and I have a husband, and they all say they will vote the Democratic ticket before they will vote for Taft. A MOTHER.

"WE'LL ELECT ROOSEVELT."

Cedar Falls, Ia., June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The nomination of Mr. Taft by a packed convention is resented by nine out of ten of the Republicans of the country.

The necessity for the formation of a third party to nominate Mr. Roosevelt is imperative. We of the ranks do not know how to manage the machinery of a party, but give us the opportunity to vote for Theodore Roosevelt and we will show Messrs. Crane, Penrose, et al. what we think of the action of the so-called Republican national convention.

The longer we think of that disgrace the warmer we get. Nominate Mr. Roosevelt and we will elect him! ERNEST E. DAY.
Pastor First Congregational Church.

CALLS DENEEN INDIFFERENT.

Chicago, June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Gov. Deneen has by his indifference to the expressed will of the voters in his state antagonized them by deserting the cause of Col. Roosevelt. He proposes not to know the "sentiment" toward the new party, but in November, when a progressive governor is elected, no doubt he will regret his action. The up to date people demand progress, and when they demand they get. M. K. T.

FORM ROOSEVELT-HADLEY CLUBS.

Marston, Mo., June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The work of organizing Roosevelt-Hadley clubs has begun in this county, and I am sure 75 per cent of the Republicans will join the movement as a protest against the moribund national committee action at Chicago, and the action of the national convention in nominating Mr. Taft will be promptly repudiated. C. W. BARNES.

NO FORCE CAN BEAT HIM.

Chicago.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—"We want Teddy." Why? Because he is greater at this time than he ever has been before.

As the head of a new party, no force on earth could prevent him being elected president of the United States. Bosses and machine crooks would commit suicide at the sight of his hat in the ring, and at the head of a progressive party, or take to the tall and uncut rather than be buried under the landslide for Roosevelt in November.

Let all progressive papers establish a bureau to receive subscriptions, the money subscribed to be used to meet the expenses in the organization of the new party and for campaign purposes this fall. Give the American people in sympathy with the progressive principles of Col. Roosevelt the opportunity to assist financially in supporting such a movement and thereby the repudiation of government by political bosses.

If such an opportunity were given the people the money would flow in in a stream of gold beyond our most sanguine expectations. This would truly be government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Give us a chance and Theodore Roosevelt will be our next president, with a clean slate, and under no obligation to any one man. I most respectfully ask THE TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, to start the ball rolling.

THIRTY YEARS A REPUBLICAN.

WANTS ROOSEVELT AND BRYAN.

Quincy, Ill., June 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—If just one in ten of the "rank and file" who will support Col. Roosevelt in leading a Progressive party would let you know how they feel, you would boom the new movement with all the power of your great paper.

If by any turn of the political wheel Roosevelt and Bryan could be made the Progressive leaders they would sweep the country.

I am for Roosevelt and anybody. Of Republicans I have talked with there is actually not one in ten that say they would not support Roosevelt; and about two in ten would vote for Taft, but yet are Roosevelt men; while the other seven would not vote for Taft. E. A. GRUMMON.

SEES SURE DEFEAT FOR TAFT.

Then Col. Roosevelt's picture was thrown on the curtain. The cheering was tremendous. Apparently every one in the theater (about 1,000) cheered. Then Taft's picture was thrown on the curtain. It met with a storm of hisses, not a single cheer. The sentiment is the same throughout the middle west. Taft will be defeated by the largest majority ever given a Republican or Democrat. He will not even come close to carrying more than ten states.

A LIFE LONG REPUBLICAN.

URGES DENEEN TO STATE STAND.

Maywood, Ill., June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—If Gov. Deneen expects to receive the votes of the Progressive Republican party in November he will have to change his tactics considerably. His lukewarmness toward Col. Roosevelt has been noticed by thousands of voters who have supported him in the past, but are not disposed to put up with any more of his trying to play the straddle act.

Neither he nor his man Friday, Roy O. West, can longer blindfold the people of Illinois. Gov. Deneen should declare his political position as a matter of justice to the Progressive party as well as to himself, and do so at once, or meet defeat.

PROGRESSIVE ROOSEVELT REPUBLICAN.

IOWA PEOPLE FOR ROOSEVELT.

Reinbeck, Ia., June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I want to comment on the stand you have taken for the right on the great political situation. We as Iowa people are deeply grieved that we did not have a chance at the primary. If we had had there would not have been sixteen Taft delegates to help the steam roller. But we did the best we could under the circumstances. We, as "Roosevelt men" here believe the time has come when the third party is necessary. We might just as well start this year as four years from now. SUBSCRIBER.

ROOSEVELT AND BRYAN.

Cairo, Ill., June 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Since the new party is a fact, it is now time to select our candidates. I wonder how would the men below appeal to the voters, progressive men, indeed, under whose leadership we could go forward. I suggest the names of Theodore Roosevelt and W. J. Bryan. THE REV. V. P. BACKORA.

OPEN QUARTERS FOR NEW PARTY

Medill McCormick in Charge of Preliminary Work of Roosevelt Men.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD.

Call for a State Convention May Be Issued Later in the Week.

Headquarters of the new party in Illinois were opened yesterday at the Congress hotel. Medill McCormick is in charge. He will direct the first work of organizing the followers of Col. Roosevelt in this state. State, county, and ward organizations will be perfected as rapidly as possible.

"The party is organizing itself," said Mr McCormick. "All day I have been busy receiving men from all walks of life who volunteered to work for progressive principles. We received a basketful of mail and telegrams which we have not had time to open. There have been too many personal calls."

Roosevelt leaders in Illinois will hold a conference later in the week and at that time probably will issue a call for a state convention, when an entire state ticket will be nominated. This conference will not take place until the Democratic convention at Baltimore has adjourned.

Dewey Talks of Plans.

Chauncey Dewey, who managed the Roosevelt campaign, which ended successfully in the primaries on April 9, has mapped out the plans for organizing the state.

"We can do very little until after the convention is over at Baltimore," said Mr. Dewey. "Bryan is the strongest candidate that could be put up by the Democrats, but they will not nominate him. We will have to learn what their plans are before we start operations.

"I have the name of the Roosevelt leaders in Illinois who worked so well in the primary fight. The organization of national, state, county, ward and precinct committees is the plan as prepared. The entire state will be thoroughly canvassed. State, congressional and county candidates will be placed in the field on the progressive ticket.

"With Col. Roosevelt heading it we will sweep Illinois by a large majority. Of course, if there is a bolt at Baltimore, the strength of the progressive party will be greatly increased, but if Bryan is nominated it will be different. The Republican party cannot carry Illinois in November under present conditions. The progressives can easily do it."

Dixon and Perkins Go East.

Senator Joseph M. Dixon, manager of the Roosevelt national campaign, and George W. Perkins left in the afternoon for New York. They will be ready for a personal interview with the colonel should the result of the Democratic convention make a hasty decision necessary. The committee of progressives which will direct the affairs of the new party will meet in New York within the next ten days.

A report circulated by anti-Roosevelt men that Mr. Perkins, Medill McCormick, and Frank A. Munsey, among the strongest of the colonel's supporters, would not aid him in the new party, was emphatically denied by Mr. McCormick.

"Our enemies are trying to make political capital out of the fact that Mr. Perkins, Mr. Munsey, and myself were not appointed on the national committee," he continued. "I declined a place on it, because I will be too busy in other organization work of the party. I know both Mr. Perkins and Mr. Munsey will be right at the front in our new campaign."

HENNING TRAPPED IN WITNESS CHAIR

WAYMAN'S MAN EYES IT.

State's Attorney Wayman had an assistant present at the entire session, indicating that the case may not end with its disposition in the civil court.

The defense entered court with a postal card picture of a mysterious friend of Mrs. Henning. The indentity of the picture was revealed as the first witness took the stand. It was a photograph of her. She gave the name of Aileen Heppner and said she resided at 814 Eastwood avenue. The defense believes her testimony was nullified through her failure to recognize in Funk the man she described as having been with Mrs. Henning.

Henning's direct examination was brief.

Q.—How old are you? A.—Twenty-eight years.

Q.—Where were you married? A.—In Chicago.

Q.—When were you married? A.—May 6, 1909.

Q.—Where did you first live after you were married? A.—310 East Forty-fifth street.

Q.—How long did you continue to live there with your wife? A.—Until Oct. 1, 1911.

Q.—Are you the plaintiff in this case? A.—Yes, sir.

This ended the direct examination. Attorney Scott then took up cross examination. Henning said he had left Chicago on Oct. 5 and had gone to Mobile.

Q.—It was understood that your wife was to join you? A.—No, sir.

Q.—She did come there, did she not? A.—Yes, sir.

Caught in Trap.

Q.—Did I understand you to say you are not living with Mrs. Henning? A.—Yes, sir. I don't know where she is.

Q.—Didn't she arrive in Mobile, Ala., on Oct. 10, and live with you there? A.—Yes, but I have not lived with her since.

Q.—Have you been in communication with her? A.—No, I met her on the street accidentally a few weeks ago.

Q.—Didn't you go to Mobile with the understanding that she would join you. A.—No, sir, I did not.

Q.—Didn't you receive a telegram at the Bienville hotel that she was coming? A.—No, sir, I did not.

Q.—But you and your wife packed up your goods together when you prepared to leave Chicago? A.—Yes.

Q.—Are you positive you don't know where your wife is now? A.—I am positive.

Q.—Who is Billie Harris, now stopping at the Grand Atlantic hotel in Atlantic City? A.—I don't know.

Q.—Isn't it your wife, and didn't you write to her as Billie Harris, you signing yourself "Micky," as late as Saturday a week ago? A.—I can't say as I did.

Admits Sending Note.

After considerable sparring, Henning, blushing furiously, practically admitted authorship of the following missive, which was read to the jury:

Saturday—Just a few lines as I am leaving for the east this a. m., and will write you later. Have had address changed, so will get what mail you may have sent me here forwarded. Trusting that you are well, and that everything is O. K., I will close for this time. Always yours, as ever, Micky.

Henning was just leaving Los Angeles when he mailed the letter, he admitted.

"How much money did you have on Oct. 1?" was the next question shot at the witness by Attorney Scott.

"I always had money, but I don't remember how much I possessed on that particular day."

Q.—Didn't you borrow $15 from a certain friend just a few days before you left Chicago? A. No.

Q.—As a matter of fact, weren't you supplied with money on the day you departed from Chicago? A.—No.

Q.—You say you met your wife in Chicago only two or three times since the alleged separation. Weren't you living with her on the south side under the name of A. E. Mills? A.—I don't know when I got back. Look at your notes and tell me.

Takes Tip from Defense.

Mr. Scott looked at his notes and then Henning admitted he had gone under the name of Mills for a while.

Q.—Didn't you live with your wife at the Alexandria hotel on May 28, 29, and 30 last? A.—I don't remember.

Q.—Isn't it a fact that you came to Chicago because your wife was talking too much and had told a certain friend that the suit against Mr. Funk wasn't on the square, that it was simply blackmail? A.—No.

Q.—You have done considerable traveling on money furnished you during the last eight months? A.—I should say not.

Q.—Didn't you call there on April 17 last and tell him that unless he paid you a certain sum of money or gave you a written agreement the suit never would come to trial? A.—No.

Mr. Scott read to Henning extracts from a letter Henning is said to have written to his wife at Atlantic City under date of May 17. Henning would not say positively that he had written it, but admitted having written to his wife about that time, addressing her as "Dear Billie." The following excerpts were read:

"'This is God's country. Dear, you know how it hurts me, because you have done so much for me. I constantly repeat to myself, "Joe did this for me. Joe made this possible. Rather than lose my love and worship for you I would rather be stabbed. I will remain loyal.'"

"Did you write that?" shouted Mr. Scott.

"I can't say that I didn't," meekly replied Henning.

"'Joe, you have made possible every little hour of happiness I spend here,'" continued Mr. Scott, reading from the letter, and then asked: "What did your wife make possible for you?"

A.—I don't know.

Q.—Didn't she make possible this lawsuit? A.—I'd be foolish to have her do anything like that.

Q. Do you swear that isn't what you meant?

"I object," interposed Mr. Donahoe.

Q. Do you know Margaret Oviatt? A. Yes.

Q. Hasn't she been traveling with your wife ever since you quit Chicago? A. Yes.

Q. Don't you know that she was present when your wife received this letter from you? A. I do not.

Henning was preceded on the stand by two other witnesses.

Former Cashier First Witness.

SANE 4TH PLAN BARS LONG TALKS

SHOW PICTURES INSTEAD.

Band Concerts and Ceremonies in Every Park and Playground of the City.

Fourth of July this year is to be sane, safe and inexpensive, under the dictum of the Sane Fourth association, of which Marquis Eaton is president. James Edgar Brown is the chairman of the program committee.

Instead of concentrating all efforts and money upon one exhibition or pageant in one district of the city, the plan is to have segregated entertainments, lasting from early morning until late at night. For the first time in the history of the city the recent ordinance against the explosion of fireworks will be rigidly in effect.

"One of the most pertinent reasons why the segregated plan was decided upon," said Eaton, "is that the association is not financially able to arrange for an army tournament or pageant of nations, such as were the features of 1910 and 1911. Moreover, the campaign carried on by THE TRIBUNE, together with the success of the association for the last two years, has put a quietus on the fanatical destruction of life and property at the hands of the small boy with a cannon cracker. It is now but a matter of evolution, and the various neighborhoods or districts of the city will take the annual patriotic demonstrations in their own hands and give the people a rational substitute for their former patriotic exuberances."

Plan of Association.

The plan of the association as outlined by Mr. Eaton is this:

"Patriotic demonstrations will be city wide. Every park and playground in the city will be utilized for the entertainment of the youth and an especial attempt will be made to amalgamate the various nations within our boundaries in segregated entertainments that they may realize the true sentiment of the Fourth of July.

"Coöperation of the park commissioners has been secured. The directors of the playgrounds all over the city will arrange individual entertainments following the general plan of the association.

"There will be no speeches. It has been found that long addresses are usually unpopular and unsatisfactory. In the place of speeches every district will be provided with a stereopticon and a selection of slides picturing important events in the history of the nation. The progress of the nation from the argument of Columbus with Ferdinand and Isabella to the speech of Lincoln at Gettysburg and the Spanish war will be represented with slides. Experienced public speakers will be hired at the expense of the association to interpret the slides.

Concerts in All Parks.

"There will be band concerts in every park and playground. Instrumental selections will be interspersed with vocal music and songs by the various gatherings.

"Competitive sports will be a feature in many places. Prizes will be given to young athletes. Improvement associations will give prizes for the best decorated houses. Prizes also will be given for costumes and any individual entertainments.

"In Jackson park the Columbus carovals will be rigged up.

"Many societies of different nationalities will have separate patriotic festivals. The German association is to have a festival at Hawthorne."

Report of the Sane Fourth association was made public yesterday. Receipts, including the 1910 balance on hand, amount to $6,832.65. The cost of last year's celebration was $6,564.18, which leaves only $268.47 in the treasury.

SEE TRAIN RUN OVER A MAN

Hundreds Witness Commuter's Effort to Escape Death.

STUMBLES ON THE TRACK.

F. P. Fredenhagen Loses Both Legs in Attempt to Catch Passenger.

Hundreds of morning commuters saw F. P. Fredenhagen of La Grange try yesterday to crawl from in front of a Burlington passenger train as it dashed into La Grange station. He failed. The engine cut off both his legs above the knees and it is expected by physicians that he will not live.

Many women standing within a few feet of the place where the accident happened ran away screaming. Fredenhagen was taken aboard the same train and hurried to the hospital of St. Anthony de Padua in the care of Dr. Charles F. McClure of La Grange.

Just Escapes One Train.

Fredenhagen, who is in the wholesale and retail butter business, had crossed a fence which separates the north track from the other two tracks. He had intended to take the train to Chicago.

A fast train was going west on the north track and he got over the fence just in time to escape that train. His own train, which reached La Grange at 8:16 a. m., was then only a few feet away.

In hurrying to cross the tracks ahead of that he stumbled over a rail on the middle track, falling directly in front of the oncoming engine.

Hundreds of Persons Use Train.

He tried frantically to crawl away from the train, the brakes on which were grinding to a stop for the station, but there was not time. The train is used by hundreds of persons, who were about to board it. Many returned home instead of going to work.

Fredenhagen is a widower. He has resided in La Grange for years. He has two children, a boy and a girl, both of whom attended the Ogden avenue grammar school of the suburb.

ANTI-CAN RUSHING ORDINANCE ENFORCED BY MAYOR'S EDICT.

Policemen Delivering Cards to Saloonkeepers Warning Them Not to Sell Liquor to Children.

The anti-can rushing ordinance is no longer an ineffectual paragraph labeled 1,543 in the book of statutes. Since June 17 it has become a most vital decree. Mayor Harrison sent out an edict that the ordinance be printed on thousands of cards, distributed and enforced.

Police Chief McWeeny says the cards are being printed, squads of policemen soon will be tramping the streets and will continue until 7,152 saloon men in Chicago are supplied with the pasteboards.

After the saloon men, then the druggists.

All this action has been due to the fact that the mayor was impressed by the significance of the anti-can rushing ordinance to the welfare of children. Committees from charitable organizations and the Liquor Dealers' association waited upon him a month ago, requesting that something be done to keep children away from saloons and prevent sales to minors. The penalty is a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $100.

National Press Association to Hear Illinois Progressive Leaders Today.

BUSINESS UNITY URGED.

Harry A. Wheeler Tells Them Commercial Interests Should Get Together.

One hundred members of the National Press association will attend a luncheon today at the University club and will discuss the present political situation, paying special attention to the conditions which have brought about the formation of the new third party. John F. Bass, Medill McCormick, Walter Clyde Jones, and others prominent in the progresive movement will explain the attitude of the progressives in Illinois.

Greater unity in commercial life was advocated by Harry Wheeler, president of the recently established chamber of commerce of the United States, before the association in the Hotel Sherman yesterday morning.

"There are three wealth producing factors—commerce, agriculture, and labor," he said. "Agriculture and labor both have national organizations to look after their interests in congress and elsewhere. There are about 2,500 business organizations in the United States, but they are all separate and represent separate and often local interests.

"President Taft called a business conference last April in an effort to better this condition. Delegates from these associations were invited. Out of that conference has grown the chamber of commerce of the United States."

WOMAN WILLS NURSE $1,000.

Mrs. M. W. Tyrrell Leaves $2,500 to Board of Missions and Smaller Amounts to Church Divisions.

Several bequests to benevolent institutions have been provided in the will of Mrs. Mary Williams Tyrrell of Winnetka, admitted yesterday before Probate Judge Rainey.

The largest of the endowments is $2,500 for the woman's board of missions of the interior, incorporated in Illinois during 1873. One thousand dollars each is left to the new First Congregational church, the Mrs. Charles Warrington Earle fund and the Belle M. Spence fund of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the church. The testatrix also provided that $1,000 be paid to her nurse, Miss Lucinda E. Trussell, and $500 to the Illinois Woman's Home Missionary union.

Of the residue of the estate one-third will go to her husband, Fred S. Tyrrell, and two-thirds to her daughter, Constance, who also inherits the books and jewelry.

Now that You Have Decided to Go to COLORADO, Let us tell You How to Get There!

Let us match the wonders of these glorious mountains with a wonderful trip. Let us give you a cool ride to your cool vacation. Let us match your days of luxury with a trip of luxury. Let us start your vacation for you when you start — not when you get there.

There are five routes that take you to Colorado, but

UNION PACIFIC
The Hundred-Million-Dollar Road of Luxury

is still the only route. For it costs no more than any of the ordinary ways.

Now, let us see what it gives you in return:

The Union Pacific is a double-tracked road — the trains all run one way.

It is guarded with Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals.

Its roadbed is the finest in the world. It is ballasted with dustless Sherman gravel. The very pebbles are laid by hand like a great mosaic, both sides of the way. This means cool cars, like open carriages, both night and day.

It is the oldest road, and so its courtesy is best. Many of its attendants have grown gray in the one service.

It is the smoothest road. It is laid with ninety-pound steel rails and its powerful engines glide along like purring dynamos.

It will actually put you in Colorado tomorrow night—a trip that took your fathers months to make before this railroad came.

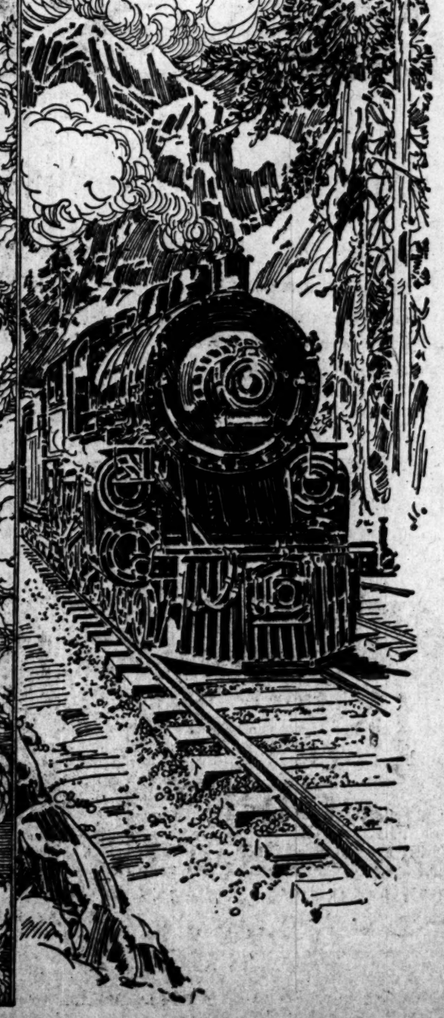

It is both pioneer and leader of the railroad world. And this hundred-million-dollar road of luxury costs you no more than the ordinary way. Which of the five routes do you think you will take?

WILSON DIVORCE BILL TO BE FOUGHT

Lawyer for Wife Denies Husband's Charges Naming Ogden T. McClurg.

BREAK BEGAN IN APRIL.

Suit Filed After Closing Time in Clerk's Office, and Principals Shun Interviews.

Mrs. Eloise S. Wilson will fight the divorce bill filed by her husband, John P. Wilson Jr., in which Ogden Trevor McClurg, head of the A. C. McClurg publishing house, is named co-respondent.

Mrs. Wilson refused to make any statement regarding the suit yesterday, but her attorney Joseph H. De Frees, said she would deny the charges made by her husband.

"I prefer to speak for Mrs. Wilson as a friend," said Attorney De Frees. "I've known her since she was a child and know her to be guiltless of the charges mentioned in the bill. It is the outgrowth of an unfortunate chain of circumstances, of which the complainant has a most mistaken view.

"The trial of the case will demonstrate what I say most emphatically. The relations between Mr. McClurg and Mrs. Wilson were just ordinary friendship. The complainant, however, has made this friendship a basis for divorce."

Have Trouble in April.

The suit is the climax to the marital troubles of the Wilsons as told in THE TRIBUNE in April 6, 1912. The bill was filed on Saturday afternoon after the clerk's office had been officially closed.

Specific instances when Mrs. Wilson is said to have been too friendly with McClurg are mentioned in the bill, one at Charlevoix, Mich., in August, 1911, and another in New York City in December, 1911. Mrs. Wilson has been separated from her husband for several months. Wilson has been residing with his father, John P. Wilson Sr., at 1450 Dearborn avenue.

Obtains Custody of Children.

In April Wilson obtained custody of their two children through a writ of the Probate court. The children are John P. Wilson III, six years old, and Cynthia, two years old.

Before her marriage to Wilson on Oct. 5, 1904, Mrs. Wilson was Miss Eloise Smith of Brooklyn. Wilson is connected with the law firm of Wilson, Moore, and McIlvaine, of which his father is senior member. He is a member of the Saddle and Cycle and University clubs.

McClurg is a widower. He is an expert yachtsman and society man. He is said to be traveling in the east.

SUITS TEST TRANSFER LAW.

City Starts Several Actions in Fight to Force Elevated Roads to Obey Ordinance.

The city started several suits yesterday to test the validity of the ordinance requiring universal transfers on elevated railroads. It is believed the companies will carry the litigation to the Supreme court if beaten in the first battle. The city is planning to follow the same course, so that it probably will be some time before the public knows whether it is entitled to transfers.

CALLS MRS. LINDLOFF WOOER

Boarder Says Accused Poisoner Wanted to Marry Him.

TELLS OF INSURANCE PLAN.

Also Insists That She Made Love to an Undertaker.

The love affairs of Mrs. Louise G. Lindloff, spiritualist, held in the county jail without bail, suspected of poisoning five members of her family, were disclosed to the police yesterday by Henry Kubey, a former boarder at the Lindloff home, 2044 Ogden avenue.

Kubey, who was arrested with Mrs. Lindloff and later released, volunteered the information. He said Mrs. Lindloff made love to him and also asked him to marry her providing he would take out life insurance aggregating $6,000. That the suspected woman did not love him was proved by the fact, he said, that she also was an admirer of K. M. Wright, an undertaker, who buried the body of Alma Lindloff, the 17 year old girl who died in August, 1911.

Says She Wooed Undertaker.

Kubey asserted that while at her home he noticed she was making overtures of marriage to the undertaker. Wright, whose place of business is at 2350 West Harrison street, said he did not know the woman admired him.

"I buried the body of her daughter last year," he asserted. "When I presented my bill Mrs. Lindloff declared she would pay me as soon as she collected the insurance. Several days later she came with a check from the insurance company, which I cashed. After taking out the amount of my bill I gave her the rest of the money, which was about $700, th check having been $1,000. If she was in love with me I certainly did not know it."

Coroner Given Tips.

Coroner Hoffman has received information he expects will throw important light on the case. Two women offered the information on condition they will not be connected with the case.

Meantime the police are searching for a woman, formerly of Michigan, who is said to have information which will aid the police in their investigations.

BENZINE EXPLODES; TWO HURT.

Man and Boy in Wagon Shop on West Huron Street Injured in the Blast.

An explosion of benzine injured a man and a boy yesterday in the wagon shop of Martin Olson at 1036 West Huron street. The blaze was checked with little financial loss. Those injured were Fred Olson, 1726 West Superior street, and Oscar Lund, Superior street and Western avenue.

GIRLS ASK ARREST OF 'SUN BATHERS'

Family of Four, in Nature's Clothing Only, Worship in Back Yard "Parlor."

SWEAR OUT WARRANTS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer Accused of Weird "Service" Which Shocks Neighbors.

Another group of sun worshipers, which has been throwing away all semblance of conventional dress, has come to grief. Warrants were sworn out yesterday for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer, 1448 North Wood street, conductors of a weekly worship of the sun in the back yard of their residence.

The warrants were procured by Miss Lucy Foreman, who lives with her mother in the same building. Miss Foreman, who is 20 years old, and her sister, Miss Victoria Foreman, 17 years old, told Municipal Judge Dicker at Shakspeare avenue court, that they had been delegated by several neighbors to obtain the arrests.

"Service" at Sunday Noon.

The last weird service of the sun worshipers occurred last Sunday noon, when the sun was at its highest. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, according to Miss Foreman, and other neighbors, with their two small children, James, 11 years old, and George 6, left their flat on the first floor, and went through a strange procession round and round the yard, all four dressed only in nature's clothing.

The "temple" is in great contrast to the "sun parlor" of Otoman Zar Adusht Hanish, leader of a cult being prosecuted by federal authorities. In the temple of the Palmers, there is no luxurious roof parlor, where nude persons may recline on couches as they go through their unusual forms of worship.

Raise Arms Toward Sun.

Their worshipping is done in a barren back yard, surrounded by a fence, and low wooden sheds. The "service" lasting an hour, usually takes the form of a procession around the yard. Occasionally, according to neighbors, the four raise their arms toward the sun.

Freed of Murder Charge.

Louis Rivers, brother of the publisher of the Detroit Truth, a prohibition newspaper, was found not guilty of the murder of Lawrence Wallace by a jury in Judge Sullivan's court yesterday. He claimed self-defense.

SLUGGER FACES GRAND JURY

Judge Holds Driver for Attacking "Tribune" Circulator.

PLACES BONDS AT $1,000.

Two Others Given Fines of $100 and $50 for Disturbing Newsboys.

Alexander Hickey, wagon driver of the Socialist newspaper, The World, was bound over to the grand jury yesterday under $1,000 bonds by Judge Caverly of the Sheffield avenue Municipal court for assaulting Max Annenberg, circulation manager of THE TRIBUNE, on May 6.

Annenberg was assaulted and knocked down at the Wilson avenue elevated station by Hickey while attempting to reopen the selling of newspapers at the newsstand. Annenberg filed charges of assault with a deadly weapon and intent to kill against Hickey, who retaliated with charges of assault in an effort to muddle the hearings. Hickey's charge was thrown out of court.

In the evidence it was shown that representatives of the union threatened to murder Tony Indelli, a newsboy, if he sold any papers other than The World during the strike.

Tried to Intimidate Newsboys.

Hickey and his associates patrolled the Wilson avenue station at the beginning of the newspaper drivers' strike and made a specialty of intimidating boys who sold the Chicago newspapers. A previous attack had been made on Annenberg at the same corner.

Albert Wissaert, 2827 Pine Grove avenue, who was arrested after he was alleged to have abused and threatened John Klein, a newsboy, at North Clark street and West Chicago avenue, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Sabath in the Chicago avenue court yesterday. The court fined Wissaert $100 and costs, but later vacated the judgment on a motion of an attorney representing the defendant and continued the hearing for thirty days.

Burned Papers; Pays $50.

James Rutledge, 5707 Normal avenue, a ham inspector at the stockyards, was fined $50 and costs yesterday by Judge Caverly when he was arraigned, charged with having set fire to 150 newspapers on a stand at North Halsted and Grace streets.

MAY CLOSE ALL NAVY YARDS.

More than 20,000 Employes of the Government Likely to Be Laid Off on July 1.

Washington, D. C., June 25.—Employes of all the United States navy yards, to the number of 20,000 or more, will be laid off on July 1 unless congress makes provision for payment of their wages. This announcement was made today by Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop.

HOLDS BANKRUPT AS A PERJURER

Merchant, Two Brothers, and a Woman Also Accused by Judge Landis.

EVIDENCE BY RECEIVER.

Abraham Winters Said to Have Sold Stock After Proceedings Were Started.

Abraham Winters, a South Chicago merchant, stepped into a patch of trouble yesterday in the court of Judge Landis. He called for help and his two brothers and a woman acquaintance responded with the result that before the day was over all were wholly surrounded by the federal authorities.

Winters went into bankruptcy a month ago. Yesterday Attorney Michael Gemm, counsel for the Central Trust company, receiver for the bankrupt, announced he had evidence to prove Winters had sold stock to the amount of $1,500 since the bankruptcy proceeding to Miss Eva Levy, 1367 East Sixty-third street. The attorney also charged that Winters had made preferential payments to his brothers, Samuel and William, in sums of $400 and $420, respectively.

Winters and his brothers and Miss Levy were questioned by the court. All contradicted themselves and Judge Landis accused them all of perjury.

Held to Grand Jury.

"I am thoroughly convinced all these witnesses are lying," asserted the court. "This is one of the worst cases of perjury I have seen in a long time. I am going to hold you all to the grand jury."

"First you and your brothers refuse to tell the truth, then you refuse to turn over your assets," said Judge Landis to Winters. "Now I will have another charge against you."

The merchant tried to break away from the deputy marshals when he was being taken from the courtroom to the office of Commissioner Mark A. Foote for arraignment. He was held in bonds of $7,000, and his brothers were required to furnish bonds of $2,500 each.

Says Lawyer Is Involved.

Attorney Geras said a South Chicago attorney had become involved in the case. He insists he received a letter addressed to Winters and signed by the attorney, demanding legal fees out of his sale of stock to Miss Levy.

The lawyer is said to have assured Winters in this letter that paying him would be satisfactory to the court.

Some "Don'ts" for Buyers of Electric Trucks

II.—Don't base your decision on salesmen's enthusiasm. Make a cold-blooded choice on the best ENGINEERING solution of your own special problems.

Your own salesmen honestly believe your goods are the best of their kind at the price. Your competitor's salesmen believe their goods are the best. Our salesmen believe our goods are the best.

The more they believe this, the better salesmen they are.

That's why you—before you make the heavy investment of installing trucks—should have something more unbiased, more reliable, than a salesman's enthusiasm to guide you.

What you want is—not a salesman's belief—but the actual truth.

What type of truck and what kind of power—electricity, gasolene or horses—will save the most money for you?

Scores of firms have depended on us to answer this question for them. Because we make commercial vehicles using electricity, gasolene and horses, our answer is bound to be unbiased. Our advice is based—not on our salesmen's enthusiasm—but on the study and investigation and cold-blooded analysis of our Engineering Department.

The power-wagon branch of our business is growing so rapidly that we cannot afford to give biased advice. For our own future interests and to protect the Studebaker prestige, we must safeguard the purchase of each customer. We must reduce to cold figures every item of cost, so that the purchaser may see almost at a glance which system of delivery, which type of machine, is best adapted to his peculiar needs.

This explains our extensive Engineering Department. Its members are stationed at every Studebaker branch throughout the country, and it is not equaled in skill by any similar organization in the world.

This corps—at your service—affords a fund of experience, exact data and dependable guidance which cannot be purchased elsewhere at any price. Whether you need one truck or many, your request will bring one of these men to study and analyze your special needs. Ask also for our literature.

"Off with his head! I can forgive swiping the gold, but when he touches our Turkish Trophies he loses his knob."

So be it.

The marriage of Miss Grace Marie McKinley, daughter of Mrs. Emily McKinley, 5517 Lakewood avenue, to Dr. Thomas Charles Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clarke of Milwaukee, took place at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Ita's church, corner Catalpa and Magnolia avenues. The Rev. Father Crowe performed the ceremony.

Miss Gertrude McKinley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Frank Jennings of Milwaukee the best man. Miss Dorothy Carpenter of Milwaukee, a sister of the bride, was the flower girl. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family the wedding was quiet. The ceremony was followed by a breakfast at the Mission tearooms for relatives only.

The bride wore a gown of ivory charmeuse with old Venetian lace and pearls. She wore a tulle veil fastened with a Juliet cap and orange blossoms and carried lilies of the valley and white sweet peas. The maid of honor was gowned in white satin veiled with pink chiffon and carried pink sweet peas. The bride was given away by her uncle, George A. Van Wambeke.

After an extended trip through the north the bride and bridegroom will be at home after Sept. 1 at Milwaukee.

The bride wore white crêpe meteor with an overdress of white Spanish lace; her veil of tulle was caught with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Helen Adeline Wright of Libertyville, Ill., was the maid of honor and was gowned in white marquisette over white messaline. She carried Killarney roses. John Bartelme was the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher will go abroad and will be at home after Oct. 1 at 4332 North Forty-first court.

The wedding of Miss Marion Kellogg, daughter of Mrs. Oro George Kellogg, to William M. Ruffcorn was celebrated on Saturday evening at the family residence, 5211 Woodlawn avenue, the Rev. Martin J. Magor officiating.

The bride was gowned in white charmeuse satin trimmed with duchesse lace and pearls and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Eloise Kellogg, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and the best man was James Arthur Noble of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruffcorn will take an extended trip through the west.

Miss Alice M. Heger, daughter of R. Heger, Jefferson, Wis., and Ambrose T. Delaney of Chicago will be married this morning at St. John's church, the Rev. William Pickery officiating.

The bride will wear a creme messaline gown, cut en traine, and her tulle veil will be fastened with a Juliet cap of pearls. She will carry a shower of orchids and lilies. Miss Eleanor Fischer will be maid of honor. The bride's two sisters, Miranda and Carrie, will serve as maids. Attending the the bridegroom will be his brother, Danile L. Delaney.

A wedding breakfast and reception for the bridal party and 100 guests will follow the ceremony. After an eastern tour Mr. and Mrs. Delaney will be at home at 3745 Sheffield avenue.

"On the technical side American surgeons are certainly superior to those in Europe," he continued, "though Europe seems to have a slight advantage on the scientific side. However, I notice American surgeons are making rapid strides in science."

Highchair Needed.

"Do you suppose any one of your readers would have a baby's highchair she has no further use for? You cannot imagine how it would help a tired mother who has to carry a heavy baby in her arms. M. E. L."

The tired mother and the heavy baby appeal to us in this weather. The "fellow feeling" should make us, if not "wondrous kind," so appreciative as to hunt up the highchair Johnny or Jenny has outgrown.

Story of Poverty.

"We have been unable for years to replace things as they wore out. Our home is mortgaged and it takes all to pay interest. We can't even afford to buy the one medicine that would help us both. Our carpets have given out entirely and unless some one can spare some worn ones we shall have to have bare floors in our rooms. Perhaps some one who is able to have new ones might be willing to send us their old? They will cover bare boards, anyway. Our house is near the street and our curtains, too, are gone. So many well to do people buy new ones at this time of the year I thought you might think it a worthy request. It would do much to lessen my suffering if I could have such things. I have had all I wanted and have given away far better things than that which would satisfy me now. Every one here sells such things; they never give except to some mission, where they will get the glory of it.

"I watch the Corner and hope each day that I may do something to help some one soon. I shall look something up. I think I can find a roll of old soft cloths for some one. So far I have not been able to sort them. When the neuritis pain comes on I nearly go crazy here alone.

"My husband works from 6 to 6 for barely enough to keep body and soul together, and I am alone all the time, for since I cannot go out no one will come. We have had what refinement and culture called for, but ability counts for naught when a man reaches 45. He is 'too old to get a job.' MRS. W. D. B."

The foregoing letter is worth reading to the end. Every sentence is eloquent of patient endurance of a series of calamities. The writer asks little and hundreds of hearts will beat harder and faster in reading the closing sentence. "The man who is too old to get a job" is no stranger to any of us. He has had a long apprenticeship in his chosen calling, to be met at the end of the long pull with the verdict, "Too old to practice what you have learned." O, the pity and the shame of it!

Afflicted Child's Plea.

"I am a little girl 12 years old, and I am afflicted with cataracts on my eyes, which prevent me from going to school or doing studying of any kind. But I am deeply interested in paper dolls. If any readers of your Corner have any to send me I shall try to pay postage, and they will be thankfully received. "FANNY C. R."

There should be no need of urging the petition of our afflicted child upon the compassionate notice of our junior members. There are paper dolls galore floating around the country. Gather them up while you write to me for the address of "Fanny C. R."

Crippled Boy's Offering.

"I am a little boy 12 years of age and have been paralyzed in one leg most of my life, so that I have to wear a brace from my hip down. If you know of a little boy 8 years old that needs one, I have one that is too small for me that I shall send to him.

"O, I should like to have a violin, if some little boy has one that he does not want. I shall gladly pay postage on the violin. "CLIFTON M."

Only 12 years old! But he is a boy who lives with one hand while holding out the other for a violin. He "hedges" the request. "If some little boy has one he doesn't want." I substitute "some big man who has not touched his violin for years." It will do good service here.

"Would any Rhode Island library or society like a twenty-five volume set of the Encyclopedia Britannica? It is not the last edition; and some of the bindings are worn, but it is still in good condition. I should prefer to give it to some place where it would be of service to more than one person or family. F. R. M."

The restriction to library or society does not lessen the value of the donation.

It would be a godsend to an infant library or reading club or young people's association.

The thanks of the Corner are yours for the generous contribution to our H. H. C. library. It has "name" and fame if no "local habitation."

Seeks School Pennants.

"Can some of the readers of the Corner who have more high school pennants than they can use help another to obtain a few?

"I also ask if some one has carpet rags she has no more use for. I shall greatly appreciate both.

"I have about one year's subscription to the Delineator which I shall gladly give. This is my first appeal to your Corner. I have heard of the good that is done through it, and I ask if I may enter. E. S. A."

You bring welcome with you. Enter and abide with us.

Will school and college boys and girls overhaul their hoard of pennants for our Buffalo member today initiated? And will their mothers turn out the contents of piece bags and drawers to give proof of our hospitable intentions toward the donor of the Delineator!

Woman and Her Interests.

Laura Jean Libbey's Comment and Advice.

Withholding Forgiveness.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

[Copyright: 1912: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

IT is the fairest flower that is soonest blighted and the tenderest and sweetest of women whose breasts are wounded the cruelest by love's arrow.

The man who pressed the little god of love into his service usually wedded the woman of the chaste, unblemished heart and held aloof from the one whose heart was scarred. Instead of feeling pity for her the one responsible for the damaged condition is the first one to say, "Why didn't she keep out of danger?" If her own folk withhold their forgiveness from her she can have little hope that the cold, careless world will be more lenient with her frailties and follies.

While every safeguard should be placed about the young and unsophisticated, if perchance one has wandered from the fold and lost her way hope should not be slaughtered in her bosom. No one is perfect. Each one errs in one direction or another. Why should one who has been disappointed in her affections be made to undergo lifelong penance, though she has repented and petitioned the world for forgetfulness.

No woman ever takes a step from the narow path with deliberation. The tenseness of a mad moment is responsible for woes which last a lifetime. One's guardian angel is not always present. The greatest blessing that one human being can extend to another is that of forgiveness when a human soul is in the balance. It is usually the brightest, most joyous of women whose lives are thus clouded and who appreciate sympathy and good will, striving their utmost to win both and to be worthy of it. Youth is the age of thoughtlessness. It is at this danger period that many are attracted to the wrong persons.

How are the inexperienced to detect the wolf in sheep's clothing? Kind words will accomplish more than all the scoldings and bitter upbraiding that can be heaped upon a heart already sore from the world's usage.

Women whose smiles have turned to tears should not open their arms to grief to embrace it and hug it to their hearts. On the contrary, they should put on a brave face, coax the smiles back to their lips, and make the compact with themselves that thereafter they will banish wistfulness and gloom and look for the bright side of life.

Disagreeable Dentist.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been going to a dentist, who is a married man, to have several teeth fixed. Whenever I go he always tells me I am good looking and sweet enough to eat. I would always laugh at him and tell him I thought he was foolish to talk that way. Last week I went to him, and he kept pinching my arm, then my hand, putting me in a most embarrassing position. He was almost through with me for that morning, and I didn't happen to be looking at him or paying any attention to him when all of a sudden he grabbed my face in his hands and kissed me several times before I could get out of the chair. I was so frightened I didn't know what to say, and he laughed and said he hoped I wouldn't think him bold, and that whenever he worked for me he had to grit his teeth to keep his hands off me.

"What would you advise me to do, to settle my bill and quit going to him or have him finish the job? There is only one more tooth to fill and he has started to treat that one, so would hate to go to another dentist. "EDITH."

Send him a check for the amount due him and do not have anything further to do with him. Such men are despicable.

Economical Housekeeping

Boston Brown Bread.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

BOSTON grandmothers would rise in their graves and shake a warning finger at posterity if they could but see and taste of some of the brown loaves that are sold as "Boston brown bread." A soft sponge, deeply colored with molasses of the darkest sort, and suggestive of chocolate, containing not one iota of cornmeal, is what is procurable at some bakeries under this title.

The Pilgrims and Puritans learned the use of cornmeal from the Indians, and when they began to apply to it recipes for making bread learned before they ever saw America they gradually evolved a brown bread that was not like any of the brown breads of Europe, where there are many. I am quite sure that this was the origin of Boston brown bread, but am open to conviction should historical facts prove that I am deceived.

At any rate, I am sure that New England brown bread was always made of cornmeal and of some one other meal or flour, but the basal ingredient was the corn. It was an invariable accompaniment of baked beans, and some of its modern uses, in sandwich making and ground up for the flavoring of ice cream, were entirely unheard of.

Some future dictionary maker may describe Boston brown bread as a steamed bread, steamed in pound baking powder cans and slightly browned in the oven, for this is a definition one might work out after reading a great number of recipes for this bread as made the country over.

Formerly but one meal besides the cornmeal was used in the making and this was, in the majority of cases, graham or some coarse wheat meal. Nowadays the leading light in Boston cooking uses one cup of cornmeal, one cup of graham flour, and one cup of rye flour.

With a sweet milk one gets a much thinner batter than with sour milk, and therefore a sweet milk brown bread seems to be more economical, since it makes a larger quantity of bread, than the sour milk. Soda is, however, used with the sour as with the sweet milk. The thin batter breads are more likely to break in coming out of the mold than those of a thicker batter.

The following two recipes are some that I have had for twenty-five years at least. They are state of Maine recipes. The bread made of the rye is the lighter and is more moist and that made of the graham is improved by adding more molasses than the recipe calls for. In making brown breads it must always be remembered that some cornmeals swell more than others. The modern brands mostly swell up more than did the old ungranulated meals.

Brown Bread I.—One pint of clabbered sour milk, two cups of cornmeal, one of graham, two tablespoons of molasses, one teaspoon of salt, two of saleratus. Steam four hours and bake half an hour. This batter will fill a quart and a half mold two-thirds full, as full as it ought to be.

Brown Bread II.—One cup of cornmeal, one-third of a cup of ryemeal, one cup of sweet milk, one-third of a cup of sour milk, three tablespoons of molasses, one-half a teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of soda. Steam three hours and dry in oven. This is one-third of my old recipe, but it is enough to fill a quart mold as full as it ought to be in order that the batter may rise sufficiently.

According to the most modern ways of doing, the bread is put on a trivet in a kettle of boiling water, the water coming up half way on the mold. According to the older fashion, it was put on in cold water and it was a good way to do. Of course, the water will have to be renewed as it boils away.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

Joy as a Healer.

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL.

[Copyright: 1912: By Lillian Russell.]

THERE are people who regard emotions as signs of weakness. Great physicians are the authority for the statement that emotions help us through many of the greatest difficulties of life. The emotion of joy has saved more than one life. Cases have been written up of invalids who have been helpless for years, jumping out of bed and running at the alarm of fire.

In cases where an army has been victorious in war, their joy has made them far less sensible to their wounds than those of the vanquished army. Military triumph causes men to forget pains. The emotion of joy in such cases defies disease. It is the beaten army that succumbs to pain and the ravages of epidemics.

No matter how ill a person may be let a sympathetic doctor full of confidence enter the room, speak hopefully and joyfully to the patient, give a few words of encouragement, and he will recover more rapidly than those who are victims of a disagreeable physician who is pessimistic. Hope and joy are the emotions that heal sickness. We should all bear in mind, we who are well and happy, that sympathy does not cure pain or illness.

Hand a crying baby a red rubber ball and it will forget to cry while it is laughing with joy at the brightness of it. A 10 cent doll will give great joy to a sick little girl and make her happy for hours.

Have you ever given a few fresh flowers to a dear old lady? Then you know how much joy you can give by doing that little kindness. The sweet smile that illumines her beautiful old face is proof enough that you have given her joy and made her forget for the moment her sorrows, if she had any.

It is our duty to give our best advice and encouragement to those who are less fortunate than ourselves. By doing so we can spread the joy of healing among our own friends at least and make the world better by our having been in it. Even in a desperate case it is no sin to give a word of joyous encouragement to a sick person, whether it be true or not.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

MISS N. I. P.: I know nothing of the article you mention, and would not advise you to use it on your face unless you know what it is and what it will do. There is a great deal of danger in using things on your face when you know nothing of them. I do not give advice about the physical condition of the body, and I am sure if the doctors cannot find a cure for you I could not.

LYDIA: If the soap and cream agree with your skin there is no reason for your changing it. A good grade of castile soap usually agrees with a sensitive skin. I shall be happy to send you the formula for the cold cream I use constantly if you will write me again asking for it, inclosing a stamped, addressed envelope.

MARY E. O. H.: I shall be happy to send you formulas for skin food, cold cream, and instructions for developing the bust if you will send me a stamped addressed envelope. The formula for developing the bust is absolutely harmless and if the treatment is given a fair trial it will give satisfactory results. Massage the face with the skin food before retiring and allow a portion of it to stay on over night. This will fatten the cheeks. The cold cream is used for cleansing purposes.

Teachers Plan Fight to Control the N. E. A.

CHICAGO teachers were up in arms yesterday when they learned of a quiet movement in the ranks of officers of the National Education association to gain control of the machinery of the teachers association by placing a limitation upon active membership. Coincident with a visit to Chicago by Secretary Irwin Shepard, the leaders of the teachers learned that he had submitted to President Carroll G. Pearse a proposal, to which he had gained the assent of a majority of the directors of the association, to limit the voting during the convention to members of more than a month's standing.

Inasmuch as many teachers pay their annual dues or take out active memberships when they arrive in the convention city the leaders of the "insurgents" assert that the plan is a trick to prevent many teachers from voting in the active affairs of the association. They protested to Mr. Pearse, with the result that Secretary Shepard's proposal was vetoed, the president holding that membership is clearly defined in the bylaws. Now it is expected that Mr. Shepard will make his fight before the board of directors, which will meet on Monday preceding the convention, which opens on July 8.

The proposal, which, the teachers charge, was first submitted only to the directors who were known to be in sympathy with the "old guard" policies, received the sanction of forty-three directors. The directorate is composed of thirty-one life members and forty-eight term members, one from each state and territory. When President Pearse sent a message to these directors upon receiving Mr. Shepard's communication it is said that several retracted, explaining that they had not understood the purport of the proposal.

The program was concluded with an address by the pastor, the Rev. F. Angelucci.

Lawrence Alma Tadema, Artist, Dies in Germany.

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 25.—Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema, the famous painter, died here last night. He had been suffering from ulceration of the stomach.

He was born in Dronryp, Holland, Jan. 8, 1836, the son of Pieter Tadema, a notary. Early in life he moved to England and was naturalized as a British subject. He was educated in the Leeuwardin gymnasium, and was a pupil at the Royal academy, Antwerp. His first wife was Marie Pauline Gressin de Bois Girard, whom he married in 1863. She lived only six years after their marriage. In 1871 he married a daughter of G. Napoleon Epps, M. P. C. S. She died in 1909.

Sir Lawrence was one of the best known of present day English artists. He was made an associate of the Royal academy in 1876, and three years later became a fullfledged R. A. He was knighted in 1899, and received the Order of Merit in 1905. He was given the degree of Litt. D. by the Dublin university in 1892, and D. C. L. by Durham in 1893. He was also R. W. S., H. R. S., and F. S. A.

Americans are familiar with the work of Alma-Tadema, whose favorite subjects were of ancient times, many of them mythical. Some of his best known works are "Clothilde at the Tomb of Her Grandchildren," "The Education of the Children of Clovis," "How the Egyptians Amused Themselves 3,000 Years Ago," "Tarquinius Superbus," "The Vintage," "The Juggler," "A Roman Emperor," "Unconscious Rivals," "The Roses of Heliogabalus," "The Woman of Amphissa," "The Conversion of Paula," "The Finding of Moses," "Caracalla and Geta," and "Reading from Homer."

Two or three of the smaller and lesser known canvases are in the Metropolitan museum in New York City.

Two daughters, Miss Laurence Alma-Tadema, a writer, and Miss Anna, an artist, who took the second medal at the Paris exhibition in 1889, survive him.

Miss Laurence has been in New York as a lecturer. The artist's residence at 34 Grove End road, St. John's Wood, London, N. W., is famous as one of the most artistic and beautiful in London, if not in the world.

News of the Theaters

Rudolph Priml, composer of "The Firefly," which Trentini will sing next winter, is a Bohemian pianist and was Kubelik's accompanist during that violinist's first American tour.

The roster of "Tantalizing Tommy" now includes Miss Elizabeth Brice, George Anderson, Dallas Welford, Harry Stone, Robert Pitkin, Donald Hall, Miss Dorothy Webb, Miss Gertrude Millington, Miss Jean Iver, Miss Edna Musey, and John Kearney.

Miss Natalie Alt, now singing the prima donna rôle of the Princess Matilde in "The Quaker Girl," will have the title part in the western company next season. Victor Morley will play the leading man's rôle.

Little Quips and Quirks.

Whose Was the Fault?

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

DASHLEIGH NORTHSHORE looked wildly around for an avenue of escape, but saw none. The first class cruiser Philadelphia gave a long, echoing snore to call attention to the fact that he did not care whose flat he was in or what happened. The sound of footsteps was heard ascending the stairs. It was a critical moment.

Thoughts tumbled madly around in the brain of Dashleigh Northshore. So this was to be the end of his attempts to catch an Evanston avenue car which had begun at 7 o'clock the night before. He had adventures enough in all conscience and when at half past 2 o'clock he had been finally put off a car because two footpads had robbed him of everything he had in his pockets and he could not pay his fare he thought the only thing left to do, considering he was not a great ways from Wilson avenue, was to walk the rest of the distance to his home in Edgewater.

But just then he had encountered a weeping stranger who insisted he was the first class cruiser Philadelphia roaming the high seas under sealed orders and Dashleigh had thoughtlessly attempted to tow the cruiser into his home port. The ship of war had looked over several streets and finally selected a flat which by the name on the letter box Dashleigh had discovered was the residence of one Phineas Kozo. He inferred the real name of the cruiser Philadelphia was therefore Phineas Kozo, and he had rung up a sleepy maid and harshly bade her open the door and admit the lord of the mansion.

Dashleigh himself had escorted the supposed Mr. Kozo into the flat and put him to bed after attiring him in a suit of pajamas he had found at hand. But just as he was leaving he heard an automobile arrive outside and people saying, "Good-by, Mrs. Kozo; good night, Mr. Kozo," and the suspicion fastened itself upon him that the cruiser Philadelphia had made a grave error in selecting his home. This suspicion was confirmed by the cruiser who on very cross examination had angrily denied his name was Kozo or that he lived in that house. Whereupon he had sunk into peaceful slumber somewhat disturbed by his stentorian snores.

"After living through this dreadful night," thought Dashleigh to himself, "and keeping the sweetest wife in the world waiting since 7 o'clock in the evening, here I am about to be arrested as a burglar. And Mr. Kozo is probably armed; he may shoot me and he would have a right to. Or at best I will be arrested and dragged off to jail. What shall I do?"

With a sudden inspiration Dashleigh leaped for the button on the wall and snapped off the light. He had decided on a plan of action. Rushing into the bedroom where the good ship Philadelphia was wrapped in blissful oblivion he seized him by the shoulders and dragged him violently from the bed and dropped him with a bang on the floor. Then he skipped back to the door and stood so that when it was opened it would conceal him.

The door opened and just as Dashleigh had hoped the cruiser Philadelphia so rudely awakened from his dreams began to give orders in a loud and frantic manner.

"Man and arm water tight doors," bellowed the good ship Philadelphia. "Pipe all hands on deck, stand by the boats, Mr. Carpenter; take soundings in the hold, man the pumps; lively now, my lads, the ship has been blown up and is sinking."

During this outburst Mr. and Mrs. Kozo had stood spellbound in the doorway. Dashleigh was waiting for them to pounce upon the cruiser Philadelphia so he could make his escape. But the broadsides from the cruiser were so terrific that Mr. and Mrs. Kozo were transfixed with astonishment.

"Burglars!" shrieked Mrs. Kozo.

Mr. Kozo, without a word, skipped across the hall and banged mightily on the door of the opposite flat. The door was opened and Mr. Kozo jumped inside, leaving Mrs. Kozo to entertain the burglar. Dashleigh considered leaping out and taking his chances on getting past Mrs. Kozo, when her husband suddenly reappeared with the neighbor he had routed from his bed.

"We are armed now, my dear," said Mr. Kozo; "we will kill the burglar."

The neighbor, who seemed a man of action, stepped boldly into the flat and turned on the light.

"All hands ready to meet boarders," shouted the cruiser Philadelphia. "Man the hot water hose, top men aloft, light the hand grenades, Mr. Legs, distribute the cutlasses."

"There's only one of them," spoke the neighbor. "Now jump in with me and we'll seize him."

The neighbor sprang into the bedroom and seized the cruiser Philadelphia by the throat and commanded him to surrender. "Now call the police," he said.

Seeing the burglar was secured, Mr. Kozo heroically flung himself on the cruiser Philadelphia and hammered him with his fists, while Mrs. Kozo rushed down the hall, and excitedly seizing the telephone called up central and asked the girl to send the police at once, as a hundred burglars were murdering the family in cold blood.

Seizing the opportunity, Dashleigh rushed from behind the door and down the stairs, as excited screams and hoarse commands to halt sounded behind him. He reached the street in safety and ran a mile without stopping. When he finally recovered breath he discovered he had thoughtlessly traveled south instead of north, and was standing on the edge of Lincoln park.

Dashleigh decided he had best not walk back the way he had come, nor walk over and wait for another Evanston car, as the police probably would be throwing out a dragnet for the escaped burglar.

He decided to walk west until he came to the elevated railroad and go home on that. He made several wide detours to avoid policemen he thought might be looking for him, and was only a few blocks from an elevated station when he caught sight of smoke curling from the basement of a flat building.

"Fire," gasped Dashleigh, and he rushed into the building and rang every bell and shouted "Fire, fire, save yourselves!" up the tubes, and turned to run to a fire alarm box on the corner.

"So you're the man that's been a settin' these fires," roared a voice, and a big janitor loomed up in Dashleigh's path. "Well, I've got you now; you'll go to the pen for this."

Dashleigh dodged past the janitor and sped down the street with the janitor close behind him, striking at him with a shovel.

Addresses by Many Women.

After the formal opening remarks by the national president, an invocation was delivered by Dr. Luella Clay Carson.

Cowles for California; Major James Rolf for the city, and a representative of Gov. Johnson for the state.

The council of the federation considered proposed revisions of bylaws. It decided against the Pennsylvania plan providing for "upper and lower" houses in the convention and also against the change of the directorate from fifteen to fifty. The same course was adopted regarding the proposed increase of vice presidents from two to five. These decisions will be reported to the federation.

The press women attending the convention and the national officers were guests at a luncheon given at the Cliff house by the San Francisco Women's Press association. A reception was held in the Pacific hotel in which the delegates were invited to meet the officers of the general federation.

SUFFRAGE ROW IN COMMONS

DENOUNCES THE JAIL TERMS.

Declares British Premier Should Be Driven Out of Office.

LONDON, June 25.—Intense embitterment has been engendered in England by the forcible feeding of the imprisoned suffragets who declared a hunger strike while in jail.

This was reflected in an extraordinary scene this afternoon in the house of commons when George Lansbury, a Socialist member, denounced Premier Asquith and the government in such vitriolic terms that the speaker ordered him to leave the house and threatened to have him ejected unless he went out.

Timothy Healy, the Nationalist, had appealed to Premier Asquith to release the women, and the premier replied that they could leave prison this afternoon on giving a promise not to repeat their offense.

Shakes Fist in Asquith's Face.

Mr. Lansbury immediately projected himself at the treasury bench, shaking his fist in the faces of Premier Asquith and the other ministers. With his face only a few inches from that of Mr. Asquith, Mr. Lansbury screamed:

"You are beneath contempt. You know the women cannot give such a promise. It is dishonorable to ask them to do so.

"Talk of Russian atrocities; why, you will go down to history as the torturers and murderers of innocent women. You ought to be driven out of office."

The house was quickly in disorder. When quiet was restored the speaker ordered Mr. Lansbury to leave.

Quieted by Labor Members.

He appeared to be much overwrought, but when the speaker warned him that he would be forcibly ejected unless he went of his own accord the labor members gathered about their colleague and induced him to quit.

Three suffragets nearly succeeded in invading the house of commons this evening. They obtained admission to St. Stephen's hall, where they smashed the glass panels of the door leading to the central hall, when they were seized by police and taken to the station house.

FIND ESCAPED LUNATIC AFTER WOMAN'S HORRIBLE DREAM.

Police Arrest Kankakee Fugitive Few Hours Following Foster Mother's Vision He Is Choking Her to Death.

In her sleep on Monday night Mrs. Daniel Hendricks, 10149 Vincennes avenue, had a vision that her foster son, Charles Hendricks, an inmate of the asylum for the insane at Kankakee, had escaped and was choking her to death and that her dead mother pulled him away and saved her life.

She asked the police to communicate with the institution.

A few hours later Hendricks was found at State and Madison streets by R. Elmer, 742 South Wabash avenue, an acquaintance. A policeman took him to the South Clark street station. Judge Owens ordered Hendricks held until he could be returned to Kankakee.

Hendricks was committed to the asylum six years ago, the police say, after he had become insane and choked his foster mother. Since then she feared he would escape and again attack her.

THAW TELLS WHY HE KILLED WHITE

ON STAND FIVE HOURS.

Matteawan Prisoner Testifies on Sixth Anniversary of the New York Murder.

White Plains, N. Y., June 25.—Harry K. Thaw passed five hours today—the sixth anniversary of his shooting of Stanford White—on the witness stand under fire of examination by William T. Jerome, who is opposing Thaw's fight for release from the Matteawan asylum.

Mr. Jerome reminded the witness suddenly of the anniversary of the tragedy and questioned him sharply as to circumstances of the killing.

Both Thaw and his counsel, Clarence J. Shearn, quickly interposed objections on the ground that Mr. Jerome was showing animus and "serving private interests."

Thaw Shows No Agitation.

Mr. Jerome declared his questioning was within the province of a "mental examination," and he was generally upheld by Judge Keogh, but was unsuccessful in his apparent attempts to make the witness display undue agitation. The question of Thaw's motive in killing White did not bother him.

"It was on account of the cold-blooded way in which he had done things to my wife and other girls," he declared firmly.

He refused to answer when Jerome asked if he was insane during the half minute he was killing White. But he said later: "I think my mental condition was the same as Gen. Daniel Sickles when he shot Key."

Believes He Is Sane Now.

"But," Jerome quickly retorted, "Gen. Sickles did not hide behind a woman's skirts, as Evelyn testified the other day that you had done."

Thaw said that by a combination of his own opinion and that of his alienists he had arrived at the conclusion that he is now sane.

At another time Mr. Jerome asked:

"Mr. Thaw, will you describe in detail the killing of Stanford White by you?"

"I don't think I'm able."

"You described it to Dr. Russell in 1911, did you not?"

"No."

"Are you unable to give an account of the killing?"

"I am."

Says Memory Is Impaired.

"From what does your inability arise? Is your memory impaired?"

"In part."

"Will you state what recollection you have of the occurrences from the time you left the Café Martin until you were taken to the station house?"

Thaw was extremely unwilling to give an account of the killing and replied again and again that he could not answer; the questions were too broad.

"You understand that we are here to find out, if we can, whether you are crazy or not, don't you?" asked Jerome.

"I can't answer that question," replied Thaw.

Lake Victim Is Identified.

The body of a man taken from the lake at the foot of East Ninety-fifth street last Saturday was identified yesterday as that of A. J. West, 60 years old, formerly of Cincinnati. The police are investigating the case.

CLASH AT DARROW'S TRIAL

VEXED BY LAWYER APPEL.

Violence Prevented by Interference of Other Attorneys.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 25.—What Judge Hutton designated as a "hysterical outburst" upon the part of District Attorney Fredericks nearly caused a free for all fight between attorneys today in the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow.

A remark made by Attorney Appel directed at the prosecution forces brought about the scene. Fredericks jumped to his feet, shouting:

"I'm done. I've stood this just as long as I'll stand it. I'm sick and tired of it."

Attempts to Hurl Inkstand.

Fredericks advanced threateningly toward Appel and was forced back by Chief Counsel Earl Rogers of the defense. Fredericks thereupon grasped a heavy glass inkstand and poised it as if to throw it at Appel, but before he could hurl it, his arms were pinioned by Rogers, Assistant District Attorney Ford, and Bailiff Aguirre. He struggled to free himself, crying:

"If this is to be a court of justice, let it be a court of justice. If it is to be a fight, I'll fight."

Apologizes Later in Court.

Fredericks was persuaded to resume his chair. Blood was seen to be flowing from Rogers' wrist, apparently the result of a scratch. Just before adjournment Fredericks apologized to the court.

Five hours were consumed in arguing the defense's right to the transcript of conversations between John R. Harrington and Darrow, heard by means of a telephonic device. Judge Hutton ruled for the prosecution. Harrington then resumed the stand. He was still under examination when court adjourned.

Lost Girl Returns Home.

Ethel Smith, the 12 year old daughter of Mrs. Hilma Smith, 1141 Sedgwick court, who disappeared on Monday, returned home last night. She spent Monday night with friends on the west side. She sent word to her mother, but the message was not delivered. It was feared she had been kidnaped by her father.

NEW SHORE DEAL; I. C. TO ELECTRIFY

President Markham Goes to New York to Get Directors' Formal Approval.

OBJECTORS WITHDRAW.

City Gets Greater Concessions; Field Museum for Grant Park.

President Charles H. Markham of the Illinois Central railroad caught the Twentieth Century Limited for New York yesterday afternoon with a copy of a new contract between the south park commissioners and his company. It is expected to bring about the electrification of the road's suburban service within five years and to settle the long struggle over the shore contract.

President Markham will present the contract at a directors' meeting today. The agreement resulted from a conference which began Monday afternoon and lasted until 1:30 p. m. yesterday, with an interval of only six hours for rest.

The contract, which supplements the one now before Judge Lockwood Honoré, was agreed to by the park commissioners, the railway, and a citizens' committee represented by Lessing Rosenthal. While it does not embody every demand made by the citizens' committee when it issued its criticism of the railway's original proposal, it is so satisfactory to Mr. Rosenthal that opposition has been withdrawn.

It is understood the Illinois Central directors will sign the contract with the park commissioners and the court will hand down a decree sustaining it, provided no other objectors appear.

Electrify Within Five Years.

Provision for electrification does not set a specific date. The railway company agrees not to use its newly acquired right of way from Thirty-first street to Forty-ninth street until it has put in operation four tracks by some other power than steam. Four tracks are the number now required to carry the suburban service.

"The company intends to electrify its suburban service within less than five years," Attorney Rosenthal said. "It will begin to make preparations at once. The contract provides for extensive rearrangement of the company's tracks and this work will have to be done first.

"The contract is a considerable improvement over that of March 30, as that was a considerable improvement over the original document. By the supplemental contract the city gives up about half as much land as by the original contract to say nothing of the promise of electrification, the lowering of the company's tracks, the extension of the city's powers, the provision for viaducts over the tracks, the narrowing of the right of way, and the restrictions on the use of the property the company acquires."

Field Museum Downtown.

The supplemental contract makes possible the location of the Field museum near the downtown district and the widening of Indiana avenue from Thirteenth to Sixteenth street to 100 feet. The company also agrees to dedicate sufficient land for the re-location of Indiana avenue between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. The present Twelfth street station of the railway will be removed east of Indiana avenue. This will avoid all congestion at Michigan avenue and greatly increase transportation facilities to the south side.

The South Park commissioners are to begin condemnation proceedings for the widening of Michigan avenue between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets so it will be the same width as it now is north of Park Row. The Illinois Central will contribute a strip forty feet wide, which it now owns, along the east side of Michigan avenue south of Twelfth street.

The company also agrees that no building of any dimensions whatever, excepting such as may be required for passenger service accommodation and the like, shall be erected or maintained upon any part of the right of way between a line 500 feet north of Twenty-ninth street and Fifty-first street, and that this portion of the right of way shall not be used as a railroad yard, or for the storage of cars, locomotives, or equipment, or be put to any use except for the passage of trains, and that there shall not be erected upon this portion of the right of way any advertising signs or other obstructions to the view of the adjacent property or lands.

Rights Granted the City.

The city of Chicago and the park commissioners are given the right to construct a subway under the railroad right of way at Eighteenth street and power is also given to lay and maintain pipes and conduits across the right of way of the company.

The city is expressly given the right to "pass all necessary or reasonable lawful police regulations concerning the construction, maintenance, use, and operation of the part of the company's property between Twelfth and Fifty-first streets."

DIVER HITS BOTTOM; MAY DIE.

Lake Swimmer, Brought to Surface by Companion, Found to Have Fractured Skull.

Morris Miller, 816 Edgecomb place, was seriously injured when he struck his head on the bottom of the lake in diving from the pier at Bryn Mawr avenue yesterday afternoon. Howard Metz, 5533 Bryn Mawr avenue, noticed that the boy did not return to the surface. He dived into the water and rescued Miller. According to physicians at Ravenswood hospital Miller probably fractured his skull and injured the vertebra near the base of the brain.

TRAP ESCAPED INSANE MAN

CAPTURER LOSES CLOTHES.

Patrolman Cody Borrows a Suit to Get Home In.

Policeman Thomas Cody returned to Deering station last night in a suit of clothes his friends never had seen. Yet it was not a new suit. It was borrowed.

In the afternoon Cody had set out to capture Henry Balke, an insane man escaped from Dunning asylum. He located Balke in the woods near Palos, Ill. Balke attempted to flee. Cody embraced him. Balke struggled fiercely to pull away. Cody's grip was viselike. Balke then began tearing off the policeman's clothes.

Cody didn't like the idea of his Sunday suit being torn into shreds so he pounded the crazy man. Before the whaling put Balke down and out on the ground, however, Cody was a Prince of Tatters. He borrowed a suit of clothes from a resident near the scene and made the trip home after taking Balke to the Detention hospital.

HORSE ON BRIDGE INCLINE LOSES CONTROL; HURTS 3 MEN

Shaft of Wagon Jabs One in Eye, Knocks Another Off Vehicle, and Seriously Injures Its Owner.

John Molini, 1256 Sedgwick street, was driving his horse and wagon off the Dearborn street bridge into Dearborn avenue last night when the breeching broke. The horse was unable to control the wagon on the steep incline of the bridge approach and Molini was unable to control the horse.

Martin Funk, 4106 North Irving avenue, was the second victim. His wagon was backed up out of the way of any ordinary horse, but Molini's made straight for him. Funk was knocked off his wagon and his skull fractured. Molini himself was bruised in every available spot and is believed to have suffered internal injuries. All three men were taken to the Passavant hospital.

ASSERTS HIS WIFE BEAT HIM.

Husband Tells Judge She Jumped on Chest and Choked Him While He Was Asleep.

Charles Cline, leather worker, told Judge Himes yesterday he is the most abused man in Chicago. He blames his wife. Cline was charged with disorderly conduct, but was dismissed when Mrs. Cline amitted she beat him. They live at 319 St. John's court. He said while he was taking a nap his wife jumped on his chest with her knees and began choking him. She insisted he had been drinking.

'BE TRUE TO YOURSELF' AND WIN

That Is the Rev. M. J. Dorney's Admonition to Class of 1912 of St. Gabriel's High School.

"Be true to your alma mater; be true to your church, and be true to yourselves and you will succeed in your walk through life," was the parting admonition last night of the Rev. M. J. Dorney to his "children," as he termed them—the class of 1912 of St. Gabriel's High school, Forty-fifth and Wallace streets. He spoke at the annual banquet of the St. Gabriel's Alumni association in the Hotel Sherman last night.

AUTO RUNS DOWN AND KILLS WOMAN

Starts to Cross Street When Motor Crashes Through Night Upon Her.

CAR CREW THWARTED.

Citizen Calls Police When Traction Men Try to Rush Victims Away.

Miss Anna Holmes was fatally injured at 9 o'clock last night, at Racine and Diversey avenues, when struck by the automobile of Joseph Kulp, 448 North Keeler avenue. She died a short time later at the Chicago Union hospital.

Tries to Cross Street.

Kulp was driving fast in Racine avenue when Miss Holmes, who lives at 2762 Lincoln avenue, started to cross the street. She was knocked down and run over. John Quinn, secretary to Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler, placed the furniture man in custody.

Two men with Kulp left the scene before the arrival of the police. Miss Holmes was not considered at the time to be seriously injured, but soon after being hurried to the hospital she became unconscious and died of skull fracture.

Kulp denied he was speeding. He told the police he was running the machine about twelve miles an hour.

"As I arrived at Diversey boulevard the woman stepped out. A woman companion tried to pull her back, but she was not quick enough."

The companion was Miss Freda Jacobson, 2262 Lincoln avenue.

Kulp broke down and wept when told of the death of Miss Holmes. He pleaded to be allowed his liberty on bonds. The others in the machine were Kulp's brother, Isadore Kulp, and two friends.

Citizen Thwarts Car Crew.

Two occupants of an automobile were injured in the evening, when the machine in which they were riding was overturned by a Belmont avenue car at North Lincoln street. Mrs. E. L. Miller, 3737 North Robey street, and S. T. Anderson, 1011 School street, owner of the automobile, were thrown from the machine. Mrs. Miller's right leg was broken. The car crew telephoned for a private ambulance from the Sheridan Park hospital, but a citizen notified the police and they took the victims home.

Hazel Rudnick, 7 years old, 110 South Spaulding avenue, was run down and killed at night by a Madison street car at Spaulding avenue. People who saw the accident threatened Motorman Henry Lavoy and Conductor J. C. Gassga. The police arrived in time to save them.

WAR ON BEDBUG; BOTH BURNED

Mother and Son, Gasoline and Lamp, In Combination—Boarder Rescues Them.

Mrs. George Gill, proprietor of a rooming house at 759 Milwaukee avenue, and her son, Alfred, were killing bedbugs last night, using gasoline for the extermination. It was dark, so they held a lighted lamp near the bedding to see the results of their campaign. The bedding blazed up and the clothing of both caught fire. E. Johnson, a roomer, heard the cries and ran into the room. He wrapped a blanket around Mrs. Gill and with water extinguished the fire in the clothing of the boy. Firemen arrived in time to prevent any serious property loss. Mrs. Gill was burned badly about the face, legs, and arms. The son also sustained several painful burns. In rescuing them Johnson's face and arms were severely burned.

KEEPS HOUSE, WIFE IS EARNER

'DRINKS' HIS MATE'S MONEY.

Lands in Court and Story of "Shopping Tragedy" Is Out.

Isaac Danielson resides at the residence of his wife, 3809 Osgood street. He might never have been known to fame if his wife had given him a nickel and a penny for thread instead of a whole 50 cent piece. The half dollar brought his story to light yesterday before Municipal Judge Caverly at Sheffield avenue court.

It so happened that Danielson was assigned to do the family shopping on Monday. Hours afterward Danielson was found trying to get into the wrong house. The police locked him up. His case came up yesterday.

He Admits It All.

"Your occupation?" asked the judge, curtly.

"Housework." Danielson blushed.

"What's that?" asked Judge Caverly.

"Do you mean to say you—er—"

"Wash the dishes? I do."

"And make the beds?"

"Yes."

"And scrub the floor?"

"I do."

"And mind the baby," continued the judge, mercilessly, "and wash the clothes and mend the socks and all that?"

Wife the Bread Winner.

"Yes, sir, I do, but not because I like to. My wife can make more money than I can and it's up to me to stay at home and take care of the housework."

"Yes, and when I gave you 50 cents to buy two spools of thread you went out and got drunk with the change," interrupted his wife, "and you got arrested. You deserved it."

"Do you want him to go to jail or do you want him to go back home with you?" asked the judge.

"I'll take him," she replied. "I don't want to do his work."

"Very well," said Judge Caverly. "The case is dismissed. Take him back home with you, and don't let him out nights. Chain him down if necessary."

JUDGE APPROVES TIGHT FITS; MAN MUST PAY FOR $45 SUIT.

H. S. Evans Complains It Takes Corkscrew to Get Out of Clothes, but Jurist Disagrees.

Municipal Judge Rooney yesterday gave his judicial approval to tight fitting English made clothes for men. H. S. Evans, 5069 Magnolia avenue, had refused to pay for a $45 suit on the ground that it fit too snugly and was made too much on English lines. He was being sued by M. Uebele & Son, tailors, 16 West Jackson boulevard.

"I have to use a shoe horn to get into the clothes," Evans told the court, "and it takes a corkscrew to get me out. Besides, they make me look like a telegraph pole."

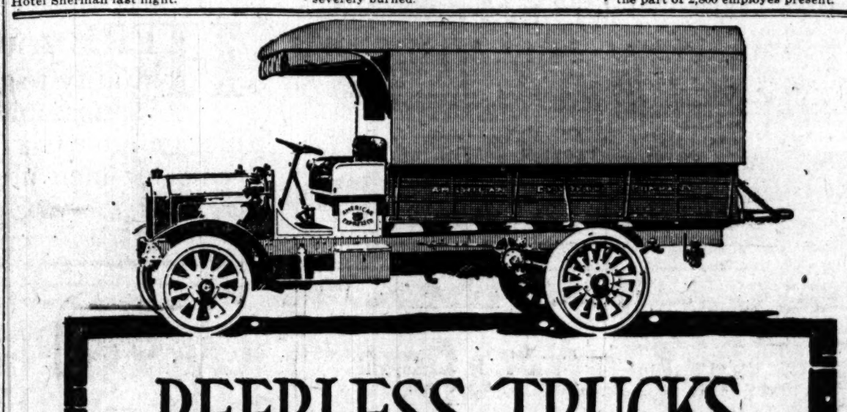

"Come with me," said Judge Rooney, and took the defendant into his chambers together with the suit of clothes in question. When the two emerged Evans was arrayed in his new garments.

"I have satisfied myself that you can get into them single handed," said the judge, "and I think they present a very good appearance on you. Judgment for $45."

NEW YORK HOTEL STRIKE OFF.

New York, June 25.—The waiters and other hotel employés tonight declared their long drawn out strike off and are prepared, they announced, to return to work. The vote to end the strike was almost unanimous on the part of 2,800 employés present.

PEERLESS TRUCKS
Are Right in Performance

THE American Express Company preceded its order for five Peerless Trucks by a thorough mechanical investigation of the Peerless Chassis.

These five Peerless Trucks went into every day use in the most exacting kind of service under constant critical inspection. Their performance was the factor that led the American Express Company to order eleven additional Peerless Trucks at one time and three more at another.

Right in design, right in construction, and right in the way they are sold, Peerless Trucks are consequently right in Performance.

KNIGHT Columbia MOTOR

A MOTOR with positively-driven valves which cannot fail to move when it comes their turn to move, is a necessary feature of the perfect car. It gives a dependability equal to that of the steam engine.

This quality in the Knight motor enables it to produce more power out of a given cylinder volume than any other type of motor can produce. It is more flexible—durable—and silent.

Columbia Knight superiority is evident in all the features of its design, in keeping with its perfect motor. Charles Y. Knight personally approved it in every detail.

AMERICAN DRIVER TAKES AUTO RACE

EVENT MARRED BY DEATH.

DIEPPE, France, June 25.—David Bruce-Brown of New York won the first half of the automobile grand prize race, which started here at dawn. He was not representing the United States, but was driving the Italian Fiat.

Bruce-Brown completed the ten laps [a distance of 770 kilometers, or about 453 miles 5½ furlongs], composing the first day's program, in 6:36:38.

Mechanician Killed in Race.

The start was marred by an accident. Collinet, who was piloting a Gregoire machine, when trying to pass a competitor on the course, shot up into the air and capsized. His mechanician, Bessagnana, was instantly killed and Collinet himself seriously injured.

Boillot, driving a French Leon Peugeot car was second in 6:38:40. Louis Wagner, piloting a Fiat, was third, his time being 7:12:00.

Hundreds of American citizens and Italians swarmed around Bruce-Brown at the finish, to congratulate him on his victory. His best lap was made in 37:15. His hourly average was 76 15-16 miles.

Forty-seven Cars Start.

Forty-seven cars started, being dispatched at intervals of a minute. The course is a triangular one of about forty-six miles. One of the entries from the United States, a Ford, was withdrawn at the last moment. The countries represented, in the race are France, England, Italy, Belgium, and Germany.

MULFORD ENTERS ELGIN RACES; HEARNE ALSO MAY PILOT CAR.

Ralph Makes Definite Announcement He Will Be Contestant in Annual Events on Aug. 23 and 24.

Ralph Mulford announced definitely yesterday that he would be a contestant in the Elgin road races scheduled for Aug. 23 and 24. Mulford's entry was sent by telegraph in response to a solicitation by Eddie Hearne, one of the directors of the Chicago Motor club. Mulford said he probably would drive a Knox.

Mulford's entry is the first that the motor club received in response to a more energetic campaign for contestants started two days ago. Other drivers are expected to respond to the appeal of the motor club today.

Eddie Hearne also may be seen in the race. He would not say whether he had secured a car or not, but it is understood that a foreign machine will be at his disposal in case he decides to drive. Barney Oldfield is another of the famous pilots who may be seen in the race.

Oldfield will arrive in Chicago today. He expected to leave Toledo early this morning. He is driving the Prince Henry Benz. The Christie car which he secured from Walter Christie for exhibition purposes is being shipped directly to Butte, Mont., where Barney will drive an exhibition on July 3 and 4. Barney will join Mrs. Oldfield, who is visiting friends here, and leave tomorrow for Butte. Eddie Hearne expects to follow the former speed king. The two will race on July 4.

EELLS SETS AEROPLANE MARK.

Covers 73 Miles in 1:21:00 Over Irondequoit Bay for Sustained Flight Over Water.

Rochester, N. Y., June 25.—Fred G. Eells broke the world's record for sustained hydro-aeroplane flight today when he piloted his machine over Irondequoit bay, seventy-three miles in 1:21:00, at an average speed of fifty-four miles an hour. Eells' flight was cut short when his supply of gasoline gave out and he dropped his machine to the bay. The best previous record for sustained flight was forty-six miles.

M'DONALD MEETS RIDGELY IN FINAL

HARD MATCH PREDICTED.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Joe N. McDonald of Lane High school and Harold Ridgely of Bowen High school survived the two rounds of play in the western interscholastic golf championship at the Idlewild Country club yesterday and will meet today in the 36 hole final for the title.

Indications point to a hard match, as Ridgely last week won the Cook county high school individual championship by a margin of one stroke from McDonald, who was tied with R. S. Scott for second place.

McDonald defeated H. Foster of La Grange, 5 and 4, in the semi-final round, taking four of the first five holes and getting a commanding lead, which he held until the turn. The cards:

McCallum Defeats Muter.

The best round of the day came in the semi-finals of the championship consolation flight, in which W. R. McCallum of Hyde Park defeated L. Muter of University High, 8 and 6. He shot a 75, equalling par for the long course. Par for the first hole was his only poor hole, and his 36 coming home was a brilliant display. The cards:

McCallum—Out ...6 5 4 6 4 3 5 4 2—39
Muter—Out .....5 5 4 7 5 4 6 5 3—44

W. Crowdus of Hyde Park defeated R. S. Scott, his schoolmate, 2 and 1, in the other semi-final, shooting an 80, as against 84 by the losers.

C. Leggett of Bloom Township defeated R. M. Sommers of Englewood, 2 and 1, in the semi-final round of the second flight, and will play F. Reinsch of Carl Schurz, who reached the ultimate stage by defeating C. Wickham of Hyde Park, 3 and 2.

The best score of the morning round fell to H. Foster, who shot 40—39—79, and defeated A. Black of Lane, 6 and 5, the loser taking 46 on the out round.

Hixon Tops Lumbermen.

Robert Hixon, scratch man of the Toledo Country club of Ohio, carried off the main prize in the annual tournament of the Lumbermen's Golf association yesterday at the Beverly Country club. When they gathered up his chips he had 76, three strokes over par of the course. He followed with an 80 in the afternoon, his total of 156 being eleven better than that of L. J. Hopkins, the Skokie southpaw.

Mr. Hixon's supremacy towered like a giant pine, and the men who deal in two by fours gracefully conceded him possession of the American Lumberman cup.

The Hettler cup, offered for the best match play against bogey was won by C. H. Worcester with a handicap of 10, who finished 6 up. E. L. Roberts, with a handicap of 19, won the Lane cup for the choice eighteen hole score for the afternoon. Mr. Roberts had a gross of 85, which made him a net of 66. C. H. Worcester was second with 77—10—67. Worcester won the choice score cup with 77—10—67. F. L. Finkenstand with 76—5—71 was second. E. L. Thornton won the Lumbermen's Club cup, having the best net score on the odd holes for one round. He finished with 47—14—33. The Templeton Punch Bowl cup went to W. J. Foye, who made the second hole in two strokes.

CHAMPION SCALES NEAR RING WEIGHT

Johnson Expects to Carry 210 Pounds During Fight with Jim Flynn.

BOTH IN HARD WORKOUTS

East Las Vegas, N. M., June 25.—[Special.] Champion Jack Johnson has reached the 216 pound notch in his training for the battle, if it may be termed such, against Jim Flynn on July 4. While eastern critics have been inclined to doubt the negro's figures on weight, he steps on the scales willingly for all comers. Therefore, the weight must be accepted as correct unless the scales have been induced to cheat. Such things have happened before, but the black really seems to be training.

Originally Johnson had planned to enter the ring at about 215 pounds. Now his campaign calls for a reduction to a figure around the 210 mark, possibly two or three pounds more, unless the weight comes off easily.

Johnson Puts In Busy Day.

Johnson's workout today consisted of a jaunt up among the foothills in the morning, which occupied two hours. In the afternoon he punched the bag for fifteen minutes, tossed around the big medicine ball for another quarter hour, and then boxed nine rounds. Marty Cutler drew a five round tilt and Calpin Respess acted as receiver for the final four. Both Watson, Burns' trainer, and Tom Flanagan, chief of camp, declared it was 100% satisfactory than any workout before the Jeffries battle.

Jim Flynn limited his boxing to five rounds with Al Williams. Although Flynn's weight is given as between 185 and 190 pounds, he does not look the champ. He is chunky and solid, but has not the height of the negro. Those who hope to see Flynn win fear his trainers will try to keep up his weight, whereas it would be better to let him lose weight, if necessary, to get in the best shape. This contingent argues, and rightly so, that Flynn's only chance for victory lies in Johnson's having gone back in his two years of idleness since putting the quietus on Jeffries.

Mayor Boosts Boxing Game.

Now that Gov. McDonald has declared that he will not stop the encounter, East Las Vegas is daily looking forward to entertaining a large crowd of visitors. Mayor Taupert today paid the fighting game a great compliment. "I have always been in favor of professional boxing and hope the game never dies," said Mayor Taupert.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES WORK OUT: CYCLISTS IN 80 MILE SPIN.

Americans Given Enthusiastic Reception After Exhibition at Antwerp—Leave for Stockholm Today.

ANTWERP, Belgium, June 25.—The American bicyclists attached to the Olympic team rode eighty miles in practice today. The Marathon competitors, with the exception of Michael Ryan, who is suffering from an injured ankle, ran for two hours at a sharp pace. The other members of the team indulged in practice work morning and afternoon. Already half the men are in form, and the others are rounding to nicely.

At the water polo game last night between Brussels and Antwerp for the championship of Belgium the American swimmers and divers gave an exhibition and in turn received an enthusiastic reception.

It was thought that Duke Kahanamoku, the Hawaiian, had broken the 100 meter record, but on remeasurement the tank was found to be one meter short of the distance.

After light work tomorrow morning the team will sail at noon on the Finland for Stockholm.

CUBS TAKE FIRST, BUT LOSE SECOND

DROP AFTERPIECE, 3 TO 1.

BY SAM WELLER.

Cincinnati, O., June 25.—[Special.]—An even split with Hank O'Day's Reds was the best the Cubs could do today in the double combat. They ran away with the first game by a count of 11 to 0, and were trimmed in the second by the close score of 3 to 1.

The early contest was so much one sided that it made one weary to look on, for Hank O'Day was experimenting with two new slab aspirants after Bob Keefe failed to hold the Chicagoans in the first three rounds.

O'Day stuck in a youngster named Cramer, who has just arrived from the Blue Grass league, and the youngster had a terrible time. It was his first experience in the big league and he showed stage fright to an alarming degree. After he had pegged the ball to all parts of the field and seemed to be trembling on the slab, O'Day took him out in pity and put in another young fellow, Tompkins, who has been with the big fellows long enough to wear off the newness. Tompkins managed to finish the game.

Brown Hurls in Good Form.

Opposed to these new fellows was the veteran Mordecai Brown, and Brownie had quite a delightful afternoon of it. He showed better than he has yet this year, giving only six hits and letting no one walk. He went the nine innings with no perceptible slackening of pace, and his teammates put up a classy battle behind him both on the defense and offense.

In the second game, Jimmy Lavender was chosen to oppose Humphreys. The latter, one of the successful hurlers of O'Day's staff, was in his best pitching form today. The Cubs tilted him for three singles and one run in the first inning and after that he was their master. They got three more singles in the other eight rounds and never came close to scoring.

Lavender was pitching some classy ball himself, but he was a trifle wild, and this cost him the victory. That alone might not have beaten him, but it opened the way. Then Tom Leach let a single get through him in center field and the game went flitting away in a hurry, for that round gave the Reds two counts, and they needed no more.

Richie Finishes Contest.

In the eighth a pinch hitter was sent to bat for Lavender, then Richie did the slabbing, and the Reds pushed over another run, getting two hair splitting decisions in their favor in order to accomplish it. One was so close at the plate that Jimmy Archer kicked himself out of the game.

Just as the opening game was drawing to a close a dark and treacherous storm approached from the west and scared some of the patrons away. However, it seemed to turn off up the valley and miss the game. A few drops of rain came down just as the second was being started, but by the time the third inning was on the storm had passed and the thunder ceased.

Chicago got off in front in the first game, scoring one run in the first inning. Sheckard began with a single to right. Schulte raised a high short fly to Marsans back of second and the Cuban muffed it, apparently on purpose, then recovered and shot to second in time to force Sheckard and leave Schulte on first. On the hit and run play Tinker grounded out, putting Schulte on second, from where he scored on Heine Zim's dandy single to left.

In the third inning the Cubs counted two more. M. Brown singled over second and Sheckard followed with a drive to right for three bags, Brownie scoring. Schulte died on a pop fly to Bescher and Sheckard stayed at third. Tinker bounced one to Keefe, who fumbled, recovered, and pegged so high to McLean that Sheckard slid safely home. Heine Zim forced Tinker at second and Leach's grounder closed the round.

Keefe Driven from Mound.

In the fourth the Cubs got another and drove Keefe off the slab. Saier opened with a smash in right center for three bases, and Evers followed with a single to right, Saier scoring. Keefe was then replaced by Cramer. Needham sacrificed, but Brown died on a fly ball and Sheckard was called out on strikes.

The Cubs sneaked one over in the fifth mainly because of the inexperience of young Cramer. With one out Tinker singled. He stole second, covering half the distance while Cramer was winding up. Cramer then made a wild peg trying to catch Joe napping at second, and Joe went to third, from where he scored on a wild pitch.

The Reds went to pieces in the sixth and the Cubs piled up five runs. Saier began with a single and made second when Cramer pegged wild to catch him off first. Evers bunted and got all the way to thrid on Cramer's wild throw to first. Saier scored on the play. Needham singled, scoring Evers. Brown sacrificed. Needham then reached third on Cramer's wild throw to catch him off second. Sheckard singled, scoring Needham. Sheckard stole second and scored on Schulte's single to left. Bescher's peg hit Sheckard on the legs and the ball rolled to the stand. Schulte reached third, from where he scored when Tinker grounded out. Heine Zimmerman singled, but was caught stealing.

In the ninth Saier singled with one out, took second on Evers' out, made third on Tompkins' error, and scored on Brown's single. Miller hit for Sheckard and rolled out to Egan.

Details of Second Game.

In the second game the Cubs got away again with a one run lead in the first. Sheckard began with a single, and Schulte followed suit, Sheck stopping at second. Tinker fanned. Heine Zim got a single on a Texas leaguer to right, filling the bases. Sheckard then got home on Leach's sacrifice fly, and the round ended when Saier was called out on strikes.

In the fourth the Reds were helped by Lavender's wildness and an error by Leach, resulting in two runs. With one out Mitchell walked. On the hit and run play McDonald slammed a single to center. Leach might have caught Mitchell at third, but he let the ball get through him and Mitchell went home, while McDonald pulled up at third. Phelan walked. Egan slapped to Tinker, who knocked the ball down, recovered, and got Phelan at second, but McDonald scored on the play.

There was no more scoring until the eighth, when Richie was on the slab. Bescher opened with a roller to Evers, and Johnny fumbled it, then recovered and shot to Saier, but Umpire Bush declared Bescher was there ahead of the ball. Bates forced Bescher at second, Evers making a great play on a grounder over toward first and getting the man at second. Hobiltzel grounded out, putting Bates on second, then Mike Mitchell slammed a single to center and Bates scored. Leach's throw was good and Archer, Bates, and the ball all came together at the same time. Bates did not even slide, and Archer claimed he knocked the ball out of his hands. Just for that Archer was put out of the game.

In the Cubs' half Leach was hit after one down, but was left there when the next two batters went out.

SAM WELLERISMS.

Cincinnati, O., June 25.—[Special.]—One game will be played tomorrow and Larry Cheney is the probable pitcher for the Cubs.

Johnny Evers' error in the eighth inning of the second game was the first one in twenty-seven games and it looked as if Johnny recovered and got his man this time.

Vic Saier was some clouter in the first game, getting two singles and a triple. In the second he fanned three times and popped up to the shortstop once.

Larry McLean turned a face filled with distress to Manager O'Day no less than six times in the sixth inning of the first game when young Cramer was having such trouble. Finally Hank took the young man out.

James Tilden Sheckard is continuing the batting he started last week in St. Louis. Today James got three hits in five times up in the first game and two out of four in the second, thus raising his average a few more notches.

Bates and Marsans are both ailing with lame legs and Hank split up the center fielding between the two. Bates was hobbling when he reached the plate after scoring from second on Mitchell's hit and did not slide for fear of further injuring the limb.

"Bill the Slicer," who runs the thirst counter for Garry Herrmann at the park, had eleven boiled hams which he sliced up for the patrons of the double header. The Cincinnati fans know nothing about popcorn, but they must have their sandwiches.

Details of the Game.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25.—[Special.]—Despite the brilliant fielding and the terrific hitting of Old Bill Bryan, the Go Ahead club was defeated today by a team representing the Whoa Back element of the Democratic league.

The fifty-eight hits made by the Gas House Gang, which was permitted to play on the Whoa Backs, gave the Parker-Ryan-Belmont-Wall Street team the victory by the narrowest of margins, and practically insured a revolt of the Go Aheads before the series is ended.

The question tonight is whether or not the Go Aheads will join the new American league and assist the Progressives who quit the Republican league last week in their organization of the third major league.

The Gas House Gang, which won a fierce fight from the Hearst-Harrison-Hinky team, delivered fifty-eight hard, clean hits for the Back Ups and turned the tide, selecting Alty Parker, who was beaten eight years ago so badly that no one thought he ever would try to get back into the major leagues again. He was chosen as umpire, and, acting under instructions from the league directors he at once commenced to rule in favor of the Back Ups and against the Go Aheads.

The game was an exciting one. Old Bill Bryan, who showed that he is game and can stand punishment and come back, insisted that the umpiring be fair and declared for Kern of Indiana. The players thought that with Kern umpiring and Bryan pitching there might be a chance for the Go Aheads to win the pennant and probably the World's Championship. The Stand Stills, under Champ Clark, the Back Ups under Harmon, the Fence Straddlers under Marshall, and the Start and Stops of Underwood all joined the picked team against the Go Aheads, and the Wilson's Advances divided up on the issue.

Of the seven clubs that have been declaring that they wanted the Progressive idea and the fair deal, six joined the Back Ups and gave them their full strength. Yet the fans were so loyal that after a bitter struggle the first game resulted in a victory for the Back Ups by only 68½. And tonight both teams are claiming the victory as, under the rules of the Democratic league, one team must beat another 2 to 1 to get the verdict.

The fact that Bryan, after pushing Kern for the umpire job and seeing that he could not win, went in for the position himself and then was beaten, proved conclusively that the Back Ups are determined to run things, to make the rules, and to give all close decisions in favor of the Back Up or Stand Still teams against the Go Aheads.

At the same time the Go Aheads are much encouraged by the showing they made in today's game against the strongest picked team the combined forces of the Back Ups could present. The fact that the Hound Dogs joined forces with the Back Ups was discouraging, but the Go Aheads are confident that even the combine cannot beat them 2 to 1 in any contest and they declare that they will recruit from Wilson's Advances, a strong college aggregation, and get some of the players from Marshall's Fence Straddlers.

The game today was played on wet, sloppy grounds, with the humidity and heat interfering seriously with the speed of the players.

The Democratic league opened with a lot of class, presenting Cardinal Gibbons to throw out the first ball, and as soon as he started the game Bryan began objecting to the umpire. His objections were in vain, as the other teams of the league joined against him and voted him down.

The first game lasted only five innings and the Back Ups were beaten. They knew it as soon as the Gas House Gang team from Chicago was permitted to go to bat. Missouri's Stand Stills divided on joining the teams almost equally, but Wilson's Rah Rah gang came solidly to the Go Ahead banner.

The afternoon game ended late in the afternoon, and an exhibition of pinch hitting, bunting, running, and throwing was put on for the evening. Alty Parker, who hit .007½ in 1904, was selected to show the teams how the game should be played, and he began hitting oratorical fungoes at 8 o'clock and explained how he would decide in certain contingencies.

During the night practice the Go Aheads who really want to go ahead were consulting as to how to meet the combined strength of the Back Ups and prevent them from winning tomorrow. They claim they have strength enough to prolong the season indefinitely, and that several strong recruits from the Ryan-Belmont bunch have already been secured.

Overtures also have been made to get the Go Aheads to join the new American league organized last week in Chicago, and in case the umpiring here is as rotten as it was there they are likely to do so.

WEARY SOX DROP GAME TO BROWNS

Support Fails Walsh When St. Louis Starts Hitting, Cals Losing, 7 to 2.

E. BROWN BADLY INJURED.

Pitcher Knocked Unconscious by Blow from Thrown Ball; Jordan in Debut.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

The St. Louis Browns came back to town yesterday, after week ending in their own city, and knocked the sawdust out of the White Hose even unto the score of 7 to 2. Worse than that, they beat Ed Walsh.

The Big Reel started unwinding a delightful film, similar to the one he exhibited in Ottumwa the day before, striking out the first two batsmen who faced him. Up to the third inning he had a no hit game in sight, then Bobby Wallace threw a match into the works and there was considerable explosion. The Sox started booting the instant the Browns commenced hitting, and the result was just what that combination usually produces.

Elmer Brown, who started pitching against us, was knocked out—not by the White Sox, but by one of his own teammates, and the accident came so near being decidedly serious that it lent additional gloom to the occasion.

Pitcher Brown Badly Hurt.

In the second inning Weaver bumped a slow bounder toward third. Austin came in fast, scooped the ball, and fired it underhand toward first in an effort to beat the speeding Weaver. Brown, watching first base, had his back turned to Austin and the ball struck him squarely in the back of his head. The pitcher dropped on the slab like a log, completely out. The force of the blow can be estimated from the fact the ball caromed back into the outfield.

The players and trainers of both teams rushed to the diamond, but amateur first aid to the injured failed to revive the unconscious victim. Dr. Blair, the club's physician, responded to a call for assistance and after a brief examination ordered Brown carried to the clubhouse. There the pitcher was restored to consciousness after several minutes' work, and the doctor expressed the opinion that the injury, although severe, would not prove serious.

Mitchell replaced Brown on the slab and held the White Sox easily to the end of the battle. They made five hits off him, but never more than one in an inning. His support was good enough to keep the White Sox from threatening to overtake the big lead which the Browns established in the fifth. The Sox end of the scrap was just about the sort of game you would expect to get from a team which had spent two successive nights pounding the rails and the preceding day exhibiting for ten innings in the bushes. And Walsh pitched just about the sort of game you would look for from a man who had worked three innings the day before and one inning the day before that.

Two Hits for Zeider.

Rollie Zeider apparently was the only White Sox player who got any sleep on the train. He grabbed a single, a triple, and a pass in four chances, and scored both of Chicago's runs. A feature of the game was Compton's comedy work in right, where he had a tough time separating fly balls from the spots on the sun. His masterpiece was a one handed stab of a long fly from Bodie in the sixth inning after he apparently losts sight of the ball half a dozen times. Just in time to grab it Compton finally gauged the arc of the declining sphere and made it stick in his mitt while he completed a somersault. If he had missed that fly it would have meant a couple of White Sox runs, for Lord and Callahan were on the runway and it was the third out.

The Callahans were first to score. With two down in the second Zeider ripped off a single to center, and stole second expeditiously. Weaver hit toward Austin, whose throw knocked Elmer Brown unconscious. Before the ball was recovered Zeider scored, Weaver remaining on first. When play was resumed Buck was caught stealing second.

The Browns wiped out that run in their third. Wallace led with a hit over second. Weaver made a swell try for it, and did block the ball partially. When he recovered it Wallace was on top of first, but Buck made the throw and it went to the stand, giving the runner second base. Stephens stung one between Bodie and Collins for a double, sending Wallace home. A wild pitch let Stephens to third, and he stood there while Walsh threw out Mitchell. Shotten bounded one to Rath, who came in to get Stephens at the pan, but fumbled and got nobody. Shotten was nailed stealing second and Compton followed with a double to left. Stovall kindly popped out.

Horseshoe Hits Beat Sox.

Walsh subdued the visitors in the fourth, but in the fifth they got the jump with a couple of horseshoe hits, both of which the White Sox claimed were fouls. One was down when Stephens hits a slow bounder to Lord. Harry, racing in, tried to scoop the ball, but it hopped over his hands and went through. Before stopping the ball rolled foul on the near side of third base and Lord claimed it was not a fair hit, but Connolly insisted the ball hit Harry somewhere, consequently was not a foul.

Mitchell then pulled a fast one down the right foul line, and if it was fair it fooled Zeider, but not Connolly. If it was foul it fooled Connolly and not Zeider. It was ruled to be a two base hit. Shotten singled, scoring Stephens and Mitchell. Walsh pegged low to first to catch Shotten napping, and the runner went to third, scoring on Compton's fly to short center. Stovall singled and Pratt tripled, making the fourth run of the round. Hogan whiffed just as Pratt tried to steal home on the Big Reel.

Zeider raised faint hopes in the home fifth by whaling a triple to center. Weaver struck out, but Kuhn flied to right far enough to let Rollie score. That was the limit for the Callahans. The Browns counted again in the eighth on hits by Stovall, Hogan, and Austin, and Fournier was sent to bat for Walsh in the home half. He singled, but his successors could not get him or themselves to second.

Jordan made his major league debut in the ninth, and after Stephens had made a two bagger to right center disposed of the next three with ease.

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

St. Louis once more today.

The Browns will wind up their work in Chicago this afternoon, except for one Sunday game here on Sept. 29.

Ald. Frank Lange is nursing a lame arm, which is so lame that it promises to keep him out of commission for several days.

The White Sox have an open date in the schedule tomorrow, but will spend it exhibiting themselves to the fans of Kendallville, Ind. By a slightly round about trip to Detroit the Sox can stop off in Kendallville long enough to play an exhibition game, then reach the lair of the Tigers tomorrow night. They are booked to play Detroit on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

It looked like some more Sox runs in the sixth. Rath started it with a pass, but Lord, with the count 3 and 1, clouted to Pratt, forcing Rath at second. Callahan smashed a single off Stovall's fists and Lord went to third on it. There was only one down, but Collins popped to Wallace and Bodie lofted to Compton, who made his spectacular comedy catch, filching two runs from our score.

Ray Jordan had his first experience in organized baseball. His previous professional career had been confined to semi-pro games in Connecticut and to pitching to the White Sox in batting practice. Stephens began on the youngster with a tall fly to right center for two bases, but Mitchell bunted a foul fly and was out. Shotten flied to Callahan, and Compton merely grounded to Rath. Manager Callahan has been looking for a spot to try out Jordan for some time, and in the present condition of the pitching staff the beginner may get a chance to start something ere long.

LONG TERM LEASE ON HALSTED ST.

An interesting long term ground lease of Halsted street frontage, closed yesterday, covers the property at the southeast corner of Congress street, which was leased for 99 years by Dr. Phillip H. Matthei to Henry Wolf.

The property fronts 101 feet on Halsted and 98.5 feet on Congress street, and the lease provides for an annual rent of $4,500 for the first five years, $5,000 for the following fifteen years, and $6,000 for the remainder of the term. The average is $5,465, which is 5 per cent, or $109,380. The lessees pay $14,000 for the present improvements, giving a total value of $123,380.

$2,250,000 Bond Issue Loan.

Greenebaum Sons' Bank and Trust company has underwritten a serial bond issue loan of $2,250,000 in connection with the new nineteen story mercantile building to be erected by Charles A. Stevens & Bros. at 17-25 North State street extending from Mandel Brothers to the Columbus Memorial building.

The loan, which matures July 1, 1927, and bears 6 per cent interest, is of a noteworthy character as being one of the largest ever made in the central district, and because of the high class and interesting character of the building.

The plans, which have been prepared by D. H. Burnham & Co., provide for a building fronting 92 feet on State and extending back and including a frontage of 48 feet on Wabash avenue, with a total ground area of 19,960 square feet. The actual cost of the building is placed at $2,450,000.

The first six floors and basement will be occupied by Stevens & Bros., while the upper stories will be divided into specialty shops. The bonds are in the denomination of $500 and $1,000 each, maturing serially in from three to fifteen years, interest being paid January and July 1.

The borrowers have the privilege of paying the whole or part of the principal July 1, 1917, or on any interest day thereafter upon sixty days' written notice and a premium of 3 per cent.

Record has been made of 99 years of the building and leasehold in 53x119 feet of ground, north from, on West Van Buren street, 250 feet west of Desplaines street, by James R. Offield to William Wrigley jr., for $37,500.

Deal in Milwaukee Avenue.

The property on Milwaukee avenue, 264 feet southeast of Wood street, lot 45x100 feet, southwest front, with brick business improvements, has been purchased by Frank Rabinovitch and Louis Ogus from Herman Rosen, the consideration being nominal subject to incumbrance of $23,000.

Abraham M. Liebling, publisher of the Daily Jewish Press, has purchased the property at 1206 South Halsted street, 22x125 feet, with two story frame building, from A. Kogoff for $21,500. The same property was sold in December, 1902, for $8,500, and the present transaction is said to set a new record price on Halsted street frontage for that neighborhood, being on a basis of $622 a front foot. When the lease expires a new five story office building is planned to be erected upon the premises, where the office of the newspaper will be located. H. Goldstine & Co. were the brokers.

Nineteen Lot Tract Sold.

An interesting transaction in outlying vacant property has been closed in the sale of a tract of nineteen lots on Seventy-ninth street, between Halsted and Morgan streets, to several purchasers at a total consideration of $25,000. Samuel Kerr, George F. Stodder, and Frank A. Henshaw as trustees of the Chicago Auburn Park Land Trust, were the grantors. The property comprises 456 feet of vacant, south front, at the point above indicated and the lots were the last remaining unsold of a tract of 160 acres, subdivided by the grantors. The grantees were Benjamin Gerber, who purchased 120 feet; Abe S. Davis and Abe Cohn acquired 216 feet; Murray Wolbrech, seventy-two feet, and Ida Olson forty-eight feet.

William T. Woodley has sold the property at the northeast corner of Sixty-first street and Vernon avenue, improved with a building containing six stores and seven flats, to Emanuel Winter for $45,000, subject to an incumbrance of $18,000. In part payment Mr. Winter conveyed the six apartment building at 5736-38 Drexel avenue, at a consideration of $20,000, clear, paying the remainder in cash. Regelin, Jenson & Co. were the brokers.

Edward L. Budlong has conveyed to the Hibernian Banking association a tract of 631 feet on Kedzie avenue, at the northwest corner of Argyle street, running through to the Chicago river. The deed recites a consideration of $10.

Four Acre Tract Sold.

A tract of four acres at the southwest corner of Howard and Ashland avenues was conveyed by August H. Skoglund to Frederick Howe for $20,000 in a deed executed April 13. Recently the property was conveyed by Howe to John A. Bickford for a nominal consideration, subject to incumbrance of $16,000, and by Lockford to Harriet E. Knap for $30,000.

Mrs. Hetty H. R. Green has purchased from William L. Moss the property on Vincennes avenue, 128 feet south of Thirty-eighth street, lot 22x115 feet, west front, with flat improvements, the consideration being nominal.

The property at the northwest corner of Washington boulevard and Paulina street, 88x131 feet, has been sold by Edna Bernard and husband, Martin J., to Frank M. Strenkowitter for $25,000.

Edward C. Waller has sold to Philip E. Ilett 150x204 feet vacant on Lexington street, 103 feet west of Spaulding avenue, north front, and 150x124 feet, south front, on Polk street, 105 feet west of Spaulding avenue, a consideration of $1 appearing in the deed.

Apartment Building Sold.

Edward F. Smith, secretary of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, has purchased from E. M. Wells, through Peabody, Houghteling & Co., 100x166 feet, west front, on Prospect avenue, near Belmont, which he plans to improve with a residence, to cost about $30,000.

Eloise and Phillip Johannes have sold the six apartment building at 5909-11 Calumet avenue to Robert B. Clark for $25,000, subject to incumbrance of $12,000, taking in part payment the residence property at 3325 Grand boulevard. G. W. Simpson of Robert F. Schinck & Co., represented both parties.

NEW ALTON HEAD TO SEEK TRAFFIC

FITS UP HEADQUARTERS.

Makes Initial Inspection of System's Facilities Before Coming to Chicago.

B. A. Worthington, the new president of the Chicago and Alton railway, arrived in Chicago yesterday and established his headquarters in the general offices of the company in the Railway Exchange building. His coming adds another to the list of Chicago railroad presidents, which already greatly exceeds that of any other city in the country. Mr. Worthington declared his intention of directing the destinies of the Alton from this city except when he is out on the line.

"I expect to be going over the line much of the time," he said. "It is in an operating way that I shall deal principally with the road's problems. We are not hauling the tonnage that we are capable of or should handle in order to reduce the expense of operation to the minimum. The tonnage should be almost doubled. This is only one of the instances where I think a saving can be effected."

Mr. Worthington made a cursory examination of the road in a three days' trip over the system before he assumed charge.

"I am firmly convinced that it is possible to place the Alton on a paying basis," he said. "The fixed charges of the road are not abnormally large when you consider that the gross earnings are approximately $14,000 a mile, while those of other roads with which comparisons are made amount to only $10,000 or $11,000 a mile."

The Chicago and Western Indiana and the Belt railway have adopted safety committee plans similar to that in effect on a number of other railroads. C. G. Osborn, general attorney, will act as chairman. The plan also includes five district committees.

BOXBOARD STOCK WORTH 50 CENTS

Shares of $100 at Par Sell at Low Point on Dull Market.

REORGANIZATION HALTS.

Stockholders Who Paid $7 Assessment Little Interested in Plans.

United Boxboard stock sold at 50 cents for a $100 share yesterday. This price represents both disappointment on the part of the stockholders with their investment in the company and lack of interest in the reorganization plan which calls for an assessment of $10 a share. Several years ago these same stockholders paid $7 a share in cash and since that time they have not only seen the company fail to improve its position through the cash contributed, but they find the $7 has now a market value of but 50 cents. There is something about the boxboard business that for the last fourteen years has rendered it unprofitable. Lazard Kahn of Cincinnati before he concluded to work with the majority in the reorganization, declared the management was incompetent. Meanwhile the president of the company declares he has been a heavy loser because of his connection with the company.

Carbide Active and Firm.

Union Carbide was moderately active and, although the price was irregular, the close was firm at 168. So far as can be learned the buying is of a character based upon substantial reasons.

The market for Sears-Roebuck common was not significant. The eastern and local insiders appear to have dropped the movement for the time being. The market is good enough for either buyers or sellers, but the speculative activity has died out. Booth Fisheries common sold at 60½. The Booth stocks hold well. The market is the best in the matter of steadiness that it has been. Illinois Brick shares had discounted the 4 per cent dividend rate and the market was steady. Commonwealth-Edison was steady at 140. Public Service issues were irregular. The common sold off while the preferred advanced one-quarter. The market for the stocks is extremely narrow.

American Can issues were inclined to work lower, though there is little can be said of the market except that it is a manipulated one. What it will do depends upon the whim or whims of one individual.

Western Union Cuts Rates.

The Western Union Telegraph company announces that on July 1 it will establish a new 30 cent minimum rate zone for telegraphic messages applying all over the country.

This action on the part of the new management of the Western Union suggests some appreciation of the trend of monopoly or semi-monopoly business. Under the Gould régime if earnings were not satisfactory, and they were not, the remedy was not enterprise and better service, but an advance in rates. A few years ago the Western Union increased its tariffs, but did not help its gross revenues. The American Telephone and Telegraph company had so improved its long distance service that the out of date Western Union management finally succumbed to its competitor, and now the American Telephone-Telegraph company management is doing for the Western Union what it did in expanding its own business.

WHEAT FUTURES SHOW STRENGTH

Weather Is Favorable for Corn and Oats; Hog Products Close at a Decline.

The advance in prices at outside markets Monday served to start values here on a higher level yesterday, and there were substantial gains scored. Highest prices were made right at the start, however, and on the swells during the remainder of the session there was quite a little wheat for sale. The disquieting reports from the northwest, in regard to drought and excessive heat, furnished the main help of the bulls. Higher cables and continued small receipts also were factors. Final prices were ½@⅝c higher.

July shorts were a little anxious in regard to a possible shortage of elevator room after the first of July, and were inclined to cover, while there was a fair commission house demand for the deferred futures, principally the September.

Canadian Reports Bullish.

Weather conditions over the greater part of the spring wheat country were generally favorable, but in southern Manitoba and parts of northern Minnesota the outlook was for considerable deterioration unless there should be relief soon. Warm weather is what is needed all over the grain belt, but the trade is somewhat perturbed over the unusually high temperatures prevailing in the northwest. In the southwest conditions are now favorable for harvest. No great check has been placed on cutting operations in the southwest by the rains, and harvest is becoming general as far north as southern Kansas.

Southwestern advices were to the effect that but little of the wheat in the extreme southwest would come to northern markets. Receipts here were fourteen cars, with 624,000 bu at western points, against 906,000 bu a year ago. Northwest receipts were 151 cars; last year, 224 cars, while Winnipeg had 587 cars, against 456 cars a year ago.

French News Bullish.

Foreign news was quite bullish, especially the cables from France, where the supply and demand situation has reached an acute state. Paris futures were up 3¼@5c since Saturday, with flour 2@6¼c up. Prices at Paris reflect the scarcity of supplies, and the continued buying of cargoes by French importers is creating a more bullish tone in other foreign markets. Liverpool was up ½@1⅜c at the close; Berlin, ¼c up; Antwerp, ⅝c off, and Budapest, 2⅜c higher.

The visible supply decreased 1,618,000 bu for the week, with a loss in local stocks of 497,000 bu, making the total public and private stocks here 9,682,000 bu. Clearances for the day were 366,000 bu. The European visible supply decreased 4,156,000 bu for the week.

July Corn in Demand.

July corn was in demand and closed ⅛@⅜c higher, while December was ⅛c better and September unchanged. Weather conditions were more favorable, but reports in regard to the state of the crop were a little bullish. In Illinois the crop is extremely uneven. The cash demand was much more active on a little decline due to big offerings, and sales were 300,000 bu. Sample prices were steady to ½c off. Receipts here were 276 cars, with 657 cars the estimate for today. The big number of cars inspected yesterday was due to the three day accumulation. Cables were ⅛@⅜d higher. Receipts were 1,876,000 bu in the west, against 1,537,000 bu a year ago. Local stocks increased 293,000 bu and the total visible supply gained 619,000 bu for the week.

Oats Trade Fairly Active.

Oats trade was moderate and on the early advance commission houses started selling both July and September freely. Prices rallied a little again later, but closed ⅛c off to ⅛c higher, the December being relatively strong. Receipts were 120 cars, with 344 cars inspected yesterday. The visible decreased 254,000 bu, compared to a decrease last year of 333,000 bu. The cash demand here was fair and the sales for the day were 150,000 bu. Sample prices were unchanged to ½c off. Primary receipts footed up a total of 809,000, against 1,040,000 bu a year ago.

Hog Receipts Are Liberal.

Liberal receipts of hogs the last few days, with only a moderate shipping inquiry, caused an easier tone to dominate the provisions market. Tietgens and Cudahy Packing company were good sellers of lard early and commission houses were moderate buyers on the dips, checking the declining tendency. Receipts of hogs here were 17,000, with 28,000 the estimate for today. Western arrivals were 101,500, against 104,000 a year ago. Exports for last week were considerably smaller than a year ago. Liverpool prices were unchanged. Receipts of product here were 66 cars; shipments, 170 cars.

This massive Department Store, Specialty Shop and Office Building was designed by D. H. Burnham & Co., as one of Chicago's architectural splendors. The new substantial edifice is supported by concrete caissons resting upon bed-rock and contains four ornate entrances from two streets, the most heavily traversed thoroughfares in Chicago. Chas. A. Stevens & Bros. will occupy the first six stories and double basement. The remaining thirteen floors are finished into exceptionally attractive specialty shops, with entrance through beautiful arcade. There is 180,000 square feet of rentable space in addition to that occupied by the owners.

All leases are assigned to the trustee for protection of bond holders. All rents are deposited with the above mentioned trustee to provide for semi-annual interest and serial reduction of principal. Provision has also been made by the owners to pay $20,000 per month rent to the trustee ($240,000 per annum) for the space which they occupy.

WEAK HOG MART ENDS IN SLUMP

Packers Force Prices Down 10 @15 Cents from Previous Day.

CATTLE VALUES STEADY.

Few Fat Beeves Are Offered; Sheep and Lambs Show Weaker Tone.

Hog market at Chicago yesterday exhibited all of Monday's closing weakness, and the average price declined 11c, sales being at a loss of largely 10@15c from the previous day's opening level. Bearishness on the part of leading local packers, in the absence of any substantial outside support, was the chief depressing factor. Receipts were estimated at 18,000, and best sales were made at $7.70, with the closing top around $7.60.

Fresh receipts of 8,500 cattle consisted chiefly of cows and heifers from dairy districts and a train of Texas steers direct to packers. Few fat beeves were offered and the market was nominally steady at Monday's prices. Calves sold on a firm basis, with choice vealers at $8.25@8.65.

Sheep and lambs opened on a steady basis, but weakened and closed at a decline of 10@15c. Receipts of 18,000 head included a run of 7,000 lambs direct to packers. This made the latter indifferent buyers and concessions had to be made to clear offerings on the open market. Best spring lambs made $9.00.

COMMERCE BOARD PASSES ON GRAIN AND GRAIN PRODUCTS.

Declares Rates from West to Atlantic Seaboard Should Be the Same for Equal Distances.

Washington, D. C., June 25.—The interstate commerce commission decided today that the rates on grain and grain products from points in Minnesota, North, and South Dakota, and northern Iowa through Duluth, Superior, and Milwaukee to Atlantic seaboard points, lake and rail, are not discriminatory as compared with lake rates from Chicago.

The commission held that the rates on grain from South Dakota, Minnesota, and Iowa to Duluth-Superior should not exceed the rates to Milwaukee or Chicago for equal distances; that the Great Northern's differential on grain at Willmar, as between Minneapolis and Duluth-Superior should not exceed 3 cents, which differential should not be exceeded from any point on the Great Northern beyond Willmar to and including Sioux City, Ia., and Yankton, and Huron, S. D.

Through rates on grain via the Soo Line, the Northwestern-Omaha system, or the Milwaukee system to Duluth-Superior via Minneapolis, must in no case exceed the rates from the same points to Minneapolis by more than 4 cents.
